ESTABLISHED 1867--OLDEST NEWSPAPER IN NICHOLAS COUNTY

VOL. XLIX CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1914 EIGHT PAGES—NO 6

COMMENT

"Toting" a pistol is going to be an expensive performance, under the provisions of the new Arnett Bill. And, incidentally, it may be said, the good old Commonwealth may not figure quite so luridly in the yellow press of the North. Not that there are more homicides and murders committed in Kentucky than to the north of Mason and Dixon's line, but the yellow press, abetted by the dime novelist—and in some cases, by the "$1.50 net" novelists—has created in the minds of "furriners" a false impression, which needs but slight stimulation to convert a drunken brawl into a shambles. At that, we have too many killings in Kentucky, many of which would not occur, were it not for the silly and romantic tradition which has caused the practice of carrying concealed weapons to be winked at. Mr. Arnett's bill is a good one and we are glad to note its unanimous passage of the Senate.

By withholding his signature and taking no action on the matter for ten days, Governor McCreary allows the extra help resolution to become effective. In a message sent by the Governor to the General Assembly, Thursday, giving his reasons for allowing the resolution to become a law, he says:—

"It is fair for me to assume that the Senators and Representatives know how many officers or subordinates are needed. I am unwilling to delay the business of the Senate or House of Representatives during a session which lasts only sixty days, and therefore I shall not undertake to deprive members of the General Assembly of the assistance which they declare is needed."

Mr. E. R. Sapp, representing the State Tuberculosis Commission, is circulating a petition, with the view to having the Fiscal Court declare this county a tuberculosis district, in order that a sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis in Nicholas and any adjoining county which will agree to co-operate with Nicholas. The movement is a good one and will not result, as some seem to believe, in an increase of the tax rate. If you are interested in the welfare of Nicholas county, you will sign the petition being circulated by Mr. Sapp.

Legislation now pending in Congress, looking to the direct election of United States Senators, seems to be failing, according to Senator James, who urges that the Legislature provide machinery for the election of Senator Bradley's successor before adjournment.

A $4,500,000 appropriation will be recommended by the Board of Army Engineers for the canalization of the Upper Cumberland. The project will open to commerce a territory with a square mileage as great as the state of Connecticut.

No, Evangeline, the "hand that rocks the cradle" and the "hand that rocks the police force," when the deluded victims of suffragitis go on a rampage, are quite different.

A little more careful handling of tobacco before it is brought to market, would result in better prices, and save the farmer a world of disappointment.

At that, "beneficient sunshine" looks better than the trust legislation "moonshine" handed out by former administrations.

The probe of State University seems to have developed the fact that college professors are not such poorly paid individuals after all.

Men may come and men may go, but the "Phoenix Bird" case "goes on forever."

Again Taps Sound For A Veteran Of The South

Mr. W. W. Huffstetter, aged 68 years, died at the home of his nephew, Bronston Huffstetter, in this county, late Wednesday afternoon, of Bright's disease.

The funeral services were held from the residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock and were conducted by Elder Bela Metcalfe. Burial at the Carlisle cemetery. His nephews, Bronston, Frank, Jr., Spencer, Edgar and Fred Huffstetter, and Archie Bedford acted as pall bearers.

The deceased was born in Nicholas and lived in the county all of his life. He was one of the best known men in this section and popular with all who knew him. He served as a member of the Ninth Kentucky Cavalry under Colonel Breckenridge, during the Civil War, surrendering with his regiment at Washington, Ga., in 1865. He was a charter member of Morgan's Men, and a member of Peter Bramblett Camp U. C. V., and the first man in the county to draw a pension under the Confederate Pension Law. One brother, Circuit Clerk Frank Huffstetter survives.

Mr. Huffstetter was known throughout this section as a most ardent devotee of the fox chase. Even in late years he rode his horse with the military bearing of a cavalryman, and the grey-haired, erect figure, accompanied by a retinue of hounds, was a familiar sight to every resident of the county. He was never married.

Two Fire Alarms In One Day

Carlisle's colored settlement again broke into the limelight, Thursday night, when a blaze at the home of Press Strawder cause two separate alarms to be turned in.

The first alarm was sounded about 9.30. The fire company responded, but the blaze had apparently been extinguished before they left the engine house. Shortly after ten o'clock, however, the fire broke out again, causing much excitement, more noise, and resulting in the loss of several suits of clothing belonging to Press. It is claimed that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Second And Third Grades Give Operetta

"Sometime Land," the operetta, given by the children of the second and third grades of the Carlisle City Schools at the school chapel last Friday night was attended by a large audience despite the downpour of rain that had kept up all day.

The Queen of Sometime Land, her five guards, the fairies, the delapidated dolls, the Japs, the Chinee with his "chop suey," the teddy bears, Uncle Sam's girls, the dancing "rubes" and others made a dull moment impossible from beginning to end. The trainers of the little ones are to be congratulated on the splendid success of the play.

$37.50 was netted from the entertainment.

Shortage Of Meat Animals In U. S. This Year

Washington, Feb. 1—Shortage of meat animals in the United States was strikingly demonstrated by comparative figures made public today by the Department of Agriculture showing that there are nine less beef cattle, seven less sheep and three less hogs now for each 100 persons in the country than there were in 1910. This means that it would take 18,269,000 more meat cattle, sheep and swine to give the present population the same supply that the census of 1910 showed to exist.

C. E. Butler Is Painfully Burned By Explosion

The following Paris correspondence to the Lexington Herald tells of a painful accident suffered by Mr. Charles E. Butler, who is the father of Charles Butler, the druggist, of Carlisle, when a coal-oil lamp he was carrying exploded.

"PARIS, Ky., Jan. 29.—Thursday morning about 6:15 o'clock the drug store of C. E. Butler, on Main Street, was badly damaged by fire, and Mr. Butler received burns and cuts about the face and hands that cause him considerable suffering, and has been confined to his home throughout the day. Mr. Butler always attends to the opening of his place of business, and went at the usual time this morning to prepare for the day's business.

Having occasion to go to the second floor, where it was somewhat dark, he lighted a kerosene lamp and carried it with him. As he was closing the door of the room where his errand had called him, with the lamp in one hand and two bottles of citrate of magnesia under his arm, the lamp suddenly exploded, and Mr. Butler threw it from him, the burning oil scattering over the woodwork, which quickly caught fire. The fire department did good work in extinguishing the flames, though the stock and building were damaged to the amount of at least $500.

A number of prescription volumes which accumulated while Mr. Joseph Wilson had the drug store, were destroyed.

Fortunately there were no oils or other highly combustible materials in the store. The building belongs to Mrs. Belle Alexander and was insured."

Resolutions Are Adopted On Death Of Mr. Keller

The following resolutions on the death of the late Green R. Keller, Representative from Nicholas and Robertson counties at the last session of the General Assembly, were adopted by the house Friday.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky
In House of Representatives
January 30, 1914.

Mr. McDowell, of the Committee heretofore appointed to prepare and present to this House suitable resolutions upon the death of Green Remington Keller, begs leave to report as follows:

Whereas, it has pleased the Ruler of the Universe to remove from his earthly labors Honorable Green R. Keller,

RESOLVED: That in his death the State has lost one of its brightest, most active and faithful legislators, he having represented Bourbon County in this House during the sessions of 1877-8 and 1879-80 and Nicholas and Robertson Counties in 1912. For more than twenty years he was Clerk of the House and was one of the most familiar figures connected with the legislation of the State; that he was faithful to every trust we are willing to bear testimony.

As a soldier in the camp, on the march, or upon the battle field, he was always brave and fearless and everywhere won the love and admiration of his comrades. He was the pet of regiment, having enlisted in the Confederate Army under General John H. Morgan only a few months after he had arrived at the age of fifteen years.

He was a veteran newspaper man, having owned and edited a number of Kentucky newspapers and his able editorials and spicy paragraphs were widely copied throughout the county.

RESOLVED: That we tender to his children our deepest sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be engrossed by the Clerk and delivered them by him.

Attest: JAMES E. STONE,
Chief Clerk House of Representatives.
