THE GARDEN

By John S. Gardner, College of Agriculture and Home Economics University of Kentucky

Hamilton Blake, 85, whose insect has invaded many plantings of sweet corn and although the early planting may escape serious loss, plantings made later may not fare so well. In fact, egg-masses have been seen on sweet corn not two feet tall. A good general recommendation would be to spray with DDT (2 tablespoons of 50% wettable per gallon of water) using the beam beetle nozzle pointed down over the stalks so that the spray may lodge at the bases of the leaves, where for the most part the borers feed while before entering the stalk itself. The spray should be used at the rate of 1 gallon to 150 feet of row.

Beans — Although Mexican beetle numbers so far have been smaller than usual, the "general feeder" damage, the roundish holes in bean leaves, is quite in evidence. Do not let the beetles get ahead, one might wait, hoping that these insects would finally leave, but now it would seem the part of wisdom to consider them seriously enough to dust with rotenone.

Tomato Blight—To date no late blight, the kind that made such short shift of tomatoes last year and the year before, has been found. However, as the spraying for the severe form of blight controls also the milder form that always comes, and in fact is here, any spraying that is done will pay back in dividends of more tomatoes, and sweeter tomatoes, because of the leaves being been held intact.

Cultivation—Dry weather has come to some parts of the state and the weeds are "laying and "break the crust", and both can be perfectly done with only shallow stirring high enough never to encounter vegetable roots. "Shaving" and "scalping" should be the rule from now on.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday.

The Golden Text is "The hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him." (John 4:23)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible "And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; this is my body. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it." (Matt. 26:26, 27)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true sense of sacrament is, if the sacrament is confined to the use of bread and wine, the disciples had eaten, yet Jesus blessed and gave them bread. This would have been foolish in literal sense; but in its spiritual signification, it was natural and beautiful." (P. 23)

College Radio Schedule
