THE MERCURY.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

G. B. KELLER, Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One year, in advance $2.00
Six months, in advance 1.00
Three months, in advance 50

Notice the printed slip on your paper and if your name is not there or the date of your issue is an ordinary issue (not a special) or issues when sent in a registered letter or by postal money order. Address all information to "G. B. KELLER, Carlisle, Ky."

(Entered in the Carlisle Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.)

THURSDAY, MAY 6, ... 1897

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

LEGISLATIVE

WE are authorized to announce Mr. E. C. RUDDER, as a candidate for the Legislature from Nicholas and Bourbon counties on the Prohibition or Democratic ticket.

Democratic Ticket.

FOR STATE SENATOR.
Dr. B. F. REYNOLDS.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE.
HON. E. KUNTON.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.
(Paris and Bourbon.)
HARMON COUNTY:

Dr. B. F. REYNOLDS, of Paris, will come up for hacking nominal the entire vote cast at the Democratic primary held in the 49th Senatorial District on the 2nd day of April 1897, for the nomination of a State Senator; by order of the Democratic Executive for said District. Dr. Reynolds hereby declared the nominee of the Democratic party for said office. L. M. MOFFETT,
Chairman Committee.

April 29, 1897.

JOHN G. CARLISLE, in an interview in Louisville last Tuesday, says that in an event will he be a candidate for U. S. Senator to succeed Beck.

Hon. ELIJA CRAIGS, of Morehead, has been appointed Chairman of the Contest Committee of the Union Labor party in this, the Ninth District.

THE Missouri Senator pulls down his Vest and claims that President Cleveland did not tell him that he would be a candidate for President again.

IF Gen. Buckner's friends on one half the energy to debut, Col. Bradley that they did to boost Mavin, Hill, Hinan and Barry, his majority will run up to over one hundred thousand.

The Greenback-Labor party of Pittsburg, numbering but four thousand and five thousand members, have disorganized their organization and joined the Henry George party.

C. P. HUNTINGTON says that $11,000,000 has been used in Washington in the past six years in the interest of railroad legislation. And still our Congressmen are all honorable gentlemen.

BETWEEN 4 or 5 Statesmen have gone to Louisville this week to engage in the business of making a great deal. But as most of them want black eyes from last Saturday week's work, they will not engage very largely in the business.

HON. JOHN D. WHITE says he's out of politics, and will not advertise a card in the Republican campaign fund next August. He's not in love with Bradley, and will let that statesman fight his own battles.

The feeling between Germany and France becomes more ominously in the last war let two three countries are sprouting was with Germany. Now it is with France, and if such a thing is possible we should love to see France whip.

The father of Mrs. Garret S. Wall, of this city, is a cousin to Senator D. B. Buckner, and if the General becomes President it is said that Judge Wall will be made Secretary of State. If we are to have a Democrat in the Judge Wall is well fitted for the place—Hopkinsville Kentucky.

The Maysville Bowling Morning Call of the 1st inst. says: "Hon. Curtis Gough, a prominent Knight of Labor of Cincinnati, was in the city last week looking after the welfare of the Order here. We understand the outlook for this city is somewhat over one hundred, and still growing."

The Democratic State Convention met in Louisville yesterday, but so we must to pass a few resolutions if we are unable to give its official action, but enough is known to assure one of its sentiments. The only contests were for Attorney General and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Richmond Register states a fact which is creditable to the Democratic press of Kentucky:

The Louisville Gubernatorial meeting of the State Committee on Monday next Wednesday, and the Democratic papers of the State, with half a dozen exceptions, by their uniformly kind and courteous treatment of the party may make the convention very unanimous.

The Standard Interior Journal says: "Some of the Bourbon organs display all the wrinkled taste of presenting a number with the news of their Democratic victory. We take but little stock in the mere business between our opposition, and in a family fight like the one just ended it is unmeaning and disgusting. We are for Buckner now, but his Bourbon friends do well to drive away instead of winning the fall which they have gained."

Decided the past week the city of Louisville has witnessed one of the most unexpected noise that ever undertook to visit such respectable quiet, reflecting men. Thousands of people have crowded the streets of Louisville and cried for the blood of the two angeon charged with the attempted murder of John Newman, but on account of the strong force of police and military have not succeeded. Many arrests have been made, and some of the most respectable people of the city have found themselves in the station house for the first time. The authorities of Louisville have shown themselves able to endure the law, and there is no cause for the mob-law taking charge of affairs.

LETTER FROM GEN. BUCKNER.

A supporter of General Buckner has received the following very sensible letter from that gentleman:

LEXINGTON, KY., April 25th, 1897.

MY DEAR SIR:

Permit me to thank you sincerely, and through you my friends in your county for the gallant fight they have made in my behalf. To them I mind the credit which shows such unanimity of feeling in the Democracy of our State, as the result in the recent contest in the Governor's race has proved. Now that the contest between myself and Mr. Bradley has ended, we must go forward their energy, the Republicans will be defeated, and I do believe that their hour of reducing our income tax will be made good. What we have just passed through must not be regarded as a fight, but only a contest in the family and with friends. We must be friends in the real battle, and the very thing that is honorable to bring out every Democratic vote in the State, and see that our party vote and majority is increased instead of being decreased, as so many Republicans now claim. Very truly yours,

S. B. BUCKNER.

CONVENTIONS A FARCE.

At every place in Kentucky where there was a close contest at last Saturday's election there was a disgraceful row. Frankfort had a mob for three hours and did nothing at all. Lexington and every district in Louisville, save perhaps one, had an outrageous howling fight, spilt and sent two fellows to the hospital. The Democratic Convention in Lawrenburg was so good as the best, and it ended in a broken chair and a fist. For while it happened to be the end of a majority in power, this was a more chance and the result would not have been for different had a majority present been the other way, unless indeed, there had been actual bloodshed. The political convention is a fraud and farce.—Anderson News.

THE Danville Advocate, really a well informed paper, gives itself away in the following: "Last night, an enterprising fellow, named Fleming, built a bonfire in front of the printer's office in honor of the Democratic victory. The whole mob was howling, spilt and sent two fellows to the hospital. The Democratic Convention in Lawrenburg was so good as the best, and it ended in a broken chair and a fist. For while it happened to be the end of a majority in power, this was a more chance and the result would not have been for different had a majority present been the other way, unless indeed, there had been actual bloodshed. The political convention is a fraud and farce.—Anderson News.

THE Danville Advocate, really a well informed paper, gives itself away in the following: "Last night, an enterprising fellow, named Fleming, built a bonfire in front of the printer's office in honor of the Democratic victory. The whole mob was howling, spilt and sent two fellows to the hospital. The Democratic Convention in Lawrenburg was so good as the best, and it ended in a broken chair and a fist. For while it happened to be the end of a majority in power, this was a more chance and the result would not have been for different had a majority present been the other way, unless indeed, there had been actual bloodshed. The political convention is a fraud and farce.—Anderson News.

HON. ELIJA CRAIGS, of Morehead, has been appointed Chairman of the Contest Committee of the Union Labor party in this, the Ninth District.

THE Missouri Senator pulls down his Vest and claims that President Cleveland did not tell him that he would be a candidate for President again.

IF Gen. Buckner's friends on one half the energy to debut, Col. Bradley that they did to boost Mavin, Hill, Hinan and Barry, his majority will run up to over one hundred thousand.

The Greenback-Labor party of Pittsburg, numbering but four thousand and five thousand members, have disorganized their organization and joined the Henry George party.

C. P. HUNTINGTON says that $11,000,000 has been used in Washington in the past six years in the interest of railroad legislation. And still our Congressmen are all honorable gentlemen.

BETWEEN 4 or 5 Statesmen have gone to Louisville this week to engage in the business of making a great deal. But as most of them want black eyes from last Saturday week's work, they will not engage very largely in the business.

HON. JOHN D. WHITE says he's out of politics, and will not advertise a card in the Republican campaign fund next August. He's not in love with Bradley, and will let that statesman fight his own battles.

The feeling between Germany and France becomes more ominously in the last war let two three countries are sprouting was with Germany. Now it is with France, and if such a thing is possible we should love to see France whip.

The father of Mrs. Garret S. Wall, of this city, is a cousin to Senator D. B. Buckner, and if the General becomes President it is said that Judge Wall will be made Secretary of State. If we are to have a Democrat in the Judge Wall is well fitted for the place—Hopkinsville Kentucky.

The Maysville Bowling Morning Call of the 1st inst. says: "Hon. Curtis Gough, a prominent Knight of Labor of Cincinnati, was in the city last week looking after the welfare of the Order here. We understand the outlook for this city is somewhat over one hundred, and still growing."

The Democratic State Convention met in Louisville yesterday, but so we must to pass a few resolutions if we are unable to give its official action, but enough is known to assure one of its sentiments. The only contests were for Attorney General and Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The Richmond Register states a fact which is creditable to the Democratic press of Kentucky:

The Louisville Gubernatorial meeting of the State Committee on Monday next Wednesday, and the Democratic papers of the State, with half a dozen exceptions, by their uniformly kind and courteous treatment of the party may make the convention very unanimous.

The Standard Interior Journal says: "Some of the Bourbon organs display all the wrinkled taste of presenting a number with the news of their Democratic victory. We take but little stock in the mere business between our opposition, and in a family fight like the one just ended it is unmeaning and disgusting. We are for Buckner now, but his Bourbon friends do well to drive away instead of winning the fall which they have gained."

Decided the past week the city of Louisville has witnessed one of the most unexpected noise that ever undertook to visit such respectable quiet, reflecting men. Thousands of people have crowded the streets of Louisville and cried for the blood of the two angeon charged with the attempted murder of John Newman, but on account of the strong force of police and military have not succeeded. Many arrests have been made, and some of the most respectable people of the city have found themselves in the station house for the first time. The authorities of Louisville have shown themselves able to endure the law, and there is no cause for the mob-law taking charge of affairs.

James A. Chappell

FOUNDED IN 1825.

"E-TO PERPETUA."

City Cash Store.

May, beautiful May, finds the City Store piled full of new and cheap goods from garret to cellar. All second Spring importation from New York is now rolling in on us and we have no place to put them, hence we shall be compelled to unload upon the people of the surrounding country. Never in our history have we had such a vast array of bargains. Never have we had such a big trade in ladies dress goods. It is simply immense. And no wonder. When one thinks of the tremendous display of these goods, the great variety—especially in medium and low-priced goods, the small profit we have put on them, it is no wonder we have had any left at all. Now come and look at our New Stock. Look at our printed Foulards, at 8½ cents. Our beautiful new Batistes, at 12½ cents. Our new Ginghams, our Sateens, and our elegant line of fine dress goods, and the high grade of it is not simply wonderful. Do you say that with all our blowing of our trumpet, you have not found everything you wanted? Think of the hundreds and trials your poor old friend has had. Think of his present limited space, and the odds and ends he has had to contend with, and then look to think you have not found everything you wanted? Think of the ships and trials your poor old friend has had. Think of his present limited space, and the odds and ends he has had to contend with, and then look to think you have not found everything you wanted.