J. A. Collier 504
H. C. Kimbrough, ... 475

CONSTABLE.

John Harvey 579
J. A. Collier 397

Lands Above Water—Gov. Hill recently issued a proclamation for the majority over Grover Cleveland.

Brown Brown, Clerk.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND is out in the great Northwest, and is receiving much attention wherever he goes.

It is estimated that $12,000 was spent in the Primary election last Saturday.

COL. H. M. McCARTY and sons are making the Jessamine Journal home The Col. is blessed with two fine boys to help him.

ALLEN HERBERT made a remarkable race for Constable, considering the boys day he became a candidate. He was only a candidate two weeks.

THE wife of Hon. M. J. Bryan died suddenly at her home in Tennessee, last week. She was a native of Memphis Tenn., and Mr. Bryan is a brother of our Lieut. Governor.

THE Republican Convention last Monday adjourned over until Saturday October 22nd, doubtless owed by the alarming increase in the Democratic vote as shown by last Saturday's primary election.

MR. BRUCE MCTAY authorizes the editor of the MERCURY to announce that he was not accept the nomination for Deputy Sheriff, tendered him by the Prohibition party, and that he repeatedly asks to be excused.

MR. R. C. FORD, has become editor and proprietor of the Owen County Democrat. Mr. Ford is a young man with pluck Democracy and plenty of ability, and will make the Democrat one of the leading papers of Kentucky.

MOS. J. RANSDELL TUCKER has been nominated for Sec defeat in the case of the Chicago Anarchists, and in New York in connection with Gen. Roger A. Pryor, his associate counsel.

GOV. BUCKNER has appointed Hon. appointed Hon. Albert S. Willis, of Louisville, Hon. John Poland, of Hopkinsville, and Hon. James A. McKenzie, of Christian County, delegates for the State at large to the Water-ways Convention to be held in Memphis, October 20 and 21.

MR. KNOX was in town Monday looking fresh and blooming. He says he is neither cast down nor out of the world. Probably no one on earth knows better how to sympathize with Mr. Knox and feel for the pressure which he is called on to bear. Politically speaking, we have stood on Jordan's stormy banks and looked over into the official Canaan, yet unable to "get there."

In regard to the sensational dispatch telegraphed from Lexington the other day, to half a dozen papers, about the expected renewal of the "Rowan war," D. B. Logan writes the Cincinnati Enquirer that no disturbance or difficulty is anticipated. He says: "There is no foundation for the report that Kentucky citizens are unpleasantly massing and moving toward Morehead. Tranquility and good feeling among the citizens of Rowan are rapidly displacing the very recent bitter enmity and factional strife.

Gov. Hill has declined to grant a pardon to J. J. Dickinson, who was serving a sentence of twenty years in the Montgomery County jail for an assault upon the late Judge Richard Reid, of the Superior Court. After discussing the purely legal questions involved the Governor adds: "It is to be regretted that some of the petitions in this case have suggested for consideration matters that have no relevancy to the question of issue. The suffering of innocent parties will necessarily excite the sensibilities of every right feeling man, and move him to the deepest sympathy for the unfortunate, but they ought not to prejudice or influence the judgment of a public official. He adds that if some suffering has been entailed, it cannot be attributed to the offender against the laws which society has established for its protection."

THE COMMERCIAL CONFERENCE.

The Industrial and Commercial Conference held at Louisville last week was a decided success, being attended by about 500 delegates, many of them the most enterprising and energetic business men of the State. A vast amount of information in regard to the undeveloped wealth of Kentucky was given in the several addresses, and great good is looked for from the advertising that will result from the meeting.

The various committees were shown up in glowing colors by their respective representatives, and we can assure our people that we presented Nicholas County in her brightest colors and spoke of our inbound sick grounds, our fine stock farms, our rich gold producing, and stock raising. We spoke of the general improvement of our farm lands, farm houses, and other evidences of thrift. We did our best to place the County before the convention in fitting terms, and we feel confident we did not overstate our advantages.

A great many valuable papers were read, and these, together with the county reports, will be published and circulated all over the world. The convention remained in session three days and nights, and wound up with a magnificent banquet at the Lindell Hotel.

Ex-Governor Knott called the convention to order. Governor Buckner was elected temporary chairman, and Ex-Secretary of State, Hon Jas. A. McKenzie, was elected permanent chairman.

Hon. John S. Williams was one of the most prominent members of the convention. He said in a public address that he had retired from politics permanently, and henceforth he would devote his time to business. He believed that he was good for twenty years more of hard work, and if he had spent as much time and energy in business as he had in politics and war he would have been a blooded millionaire. He had within the last year organized and began the building of two railroads and a street line of the latter he intends to put in. Was now in Louisville on business, but would return to his home in Paducah, and spend the balance of his days in quiet.

H. S. & J. H. GREENFIELD, of Gamaliel's Black, Owingsville, have just sold 210 hogsheads of tobacco, averaging 1,200 pounds at twenty cents per pound to Mr. J. M. Barker, of Carlisle. This is one of the largest sales ever made in this part of the country. The tobacco was bought early at comparatively low figures.

THE Ashland Hot, Lexington, under the management of Brooks & Hughes, has become one of the most popular hostelries in the country. There is scarcely a night but that every room is taken, and their dinning room is full at every meal. Charging but $2 per day, and furnishing the best the market afford, it is no wonder the Ashland is popular.

BALD HILL.

Bartsville church is feel nothing completed.

Samuel Holler has returned from Louisville.

John Linville, of Headquarters spent the Sunday here.

J. W. Sutherland has returned to his home at Lexington.

Our sorghum grinders are busily engaged grinding cane.

James B. Wade was in Bath last week on a business trip.

After a severe spell of malaria, Ed Conley is able to be out.

Our farmers are very busily engaged sowing and cutting tobacco.

Tobacco stage will shortly send some more stock at Cornelison's for this week.

Mr. Anderson Ward, of Robertson county, was visiting his relative here.

Our Sunday School was now in a more thriving condition than at previous time.

Aunt Sallie Stewart, of Robertson County, returned home after a week's visit here.

Our debating club meets at this place on the second night, every night, and Saturday night.

Elisha Martin's old family mare died last week, aged 22 years 7 months and 5 days.

The Cropton merchants have a full stock of goods now and are doing a fine business.

Rev. Francis Holler has been building a fine fence around his Bethel Home church.

We are glad to note that James L. Stephens who has been confined to bed of fever, is almost well.

Charlie Linville has returned from near Millersburg to remain at home and go to school this winter.

W. A. Fowle has 1 yearling barbs weighing 1,000 pounds, and he says he will sell and lead in the market.

Willie Beatty, of Mair station, was visiting Mr. Wm. Dobson's family Saturday and Sunday.

J. M. Dobson is giving instructions on wool music at our new Church every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Jos Mackin and wife passed through here Sunday en route for Fence Domain where they will visit relatives for several days.

Remember the Dedication the 4th Sunday in this month. Come and help feel lonker along with you for the benefit of your neighbor.

J. H. Dobson has the lumber on the ground to sell, and otherwise, improve his residence. Rejoice that he is coming.

Riley Dobson sold his crop near Paris, last week and moved to this place. He and his cousin Ben Dobson are in Bath this week looking for a home.

Ike Dobson went to the pasture for valuable old work mare last Wednesday and found her dead. He said she was the best work mare for 20 years and never found her dead before.

W. A. Fowle received the largest list of subscribers for the Apostolic Guide at church last Sunday that was ever given on this point, which speaks well for the morals of our community.

Love Barnes announced by his charming sister Miss Lotus of Rising Sun, that he was coming to see her and his family in W. M. Wells's place.

BOB ASH.

Land, Stock and Crop Hands.

Wanted—To sell 25 yearling steers. Robt. McVey, Jr., Carlisle, Ky.

At Brand-Gill & Co's store at Lexington, 97 barrels of apples at $3.50.

Hogs are now worth $4 20 for the best quality in the Lexington market. No engagements can be made at that price, however, for future delivery.

In Montgomery County D. G. Howell sold his two-year-old colts to Charles Donahue at $4. Wren Etherson sold to Wesh Galbraith a lot of two-year-old colts at $4. They average about 1,150 lbs. S. P. Hunt delivered his 82 colts which averaged 1,050 at prices ranging from 4 to 4½ cents.

Joseph McClelland, jr., near Millersburg, sold to John W. Hinsell for J. M. Bowles, of Palmyra, Mo., his prepotent yearling colt for $500. Mr. Bowles is lucky in getting this colt, as he is a fine prospect.

Two transactions on the Louisville market last week amounted to $210,000. M. J. Barker, supposed to be representing Leggett & Meyer, the great manufacturing firm of St. Louis, purchased from H. P. Thompson, of Clark County, 400 bales of hemp at an average of 22½ per 100 pounds, the amount being $18,000. The same buyer purchased 282 bales of the Ninth Street House for $12,000. This brought the sum of the two transactions up to $210,000.
