THE MERCURY.
PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY
KEHOE & VANCE.
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.
W. J. KEHOE. T. C. H. VANCE
SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One year, in advance $2 00
Three months, in advance 50
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1877

THE town of Salsbury, Missouri, has been burned by incendiaries.

ROMA is still vigorously pushing her little unpleasantness with Turkey. The Porte's attempt at mediation has failed. The reported death of Osman Pasha is not confirmed.

IT is a singular fact that no inquiry seems has ever been made on the by the management by Morse of his telegraphic alphabet, nor on the arrangement by Faber Pencil of his signs for the short hand consonants.

A SHORT and successful engagement occurred on the Potomac last week, in which the United States forces won the victory. It was the engagement of Lieutenant James Franklin, of the Navy to Miss Fannie Rose.

THERE is one thing prevalent in this community which should be stopped, and that is the custom of going away from home to get things which can be had at home just as cheap. A man doesn't belong to the merchant's pen do, or won't eat his meal but in many you, you should patronize him all the same when in your power. Going away from home to get what our mercenaries and mechanics can furnish is the best way we know of to kill a town.

IT the Catholic Church in Carlisle last Sunday week. Rev. Father Hickey spoke against the Murphy movement and request the members of his congregation to have nothing to do with it, as it was calculated to lead them away from the church. He advised those who had on blue badges to take them off, saying that if they lived up to what the church taught it would not be necessary to sign such a pledge or engage in such a movement. If Francis Murphy could bind up the Emerald Isle with his badge of blue, what a good deed it would be to the Irish people.

THE fact is painfully apparent that there is too much employment now in Carlisle. It is manifested in various ways, and it is a disgrace to our intelligence as well as to our liberality, and not calculated to improve the moral tone of the community. It is favorable with the unity in which the society dwell together. Some more but this spirit in rebuking their own children; others in their patronage of our business men. We heard one man say that if the Christian Church in Carlisle was going to run the Murphy movement he would draw out. Before the present management took charge, it was said that the Mercury was being run in the interest of the Presbyterians. And so it goes. We think the world is big enough for us all, and be that works most for the common weal will reap most of the common welfare.

Death of a Titled Daughter of a Former Citizen of Carlisle.

Benjamin Holliday is well known to many of our readers, and the following account of the sudden death of his daughter will be read with regret by many:

Pauline Cassandre Calvert, Baroness de Beaumont, died at the New York Hotel at 11 o'clock Sunday the 16th. She de Beaumont was the youngest daughter of Ben. Holliday, of California, and was married a couple five years ago to Baron Henri de Beaumont, of Paris. She arrived in New York by the steamer Britannic on Sunday, December 2, and was carried to her apartments at the New York Hotel, having been taken seriously ill on the voyage.

Dr. Purdon Bykers's aid was at once summoned, and for a time it was hoped that she would bring about a better restoration, but unfavorable symptoms supervened, her family were notified early on Sunday morning. Having in the meantime arrived in New York, her only child, a boy of four years, to by this sad bereavement before the moment among strangers, Baron De Beaumont, her husband, and Mrs. Holliday, her mother, and Mr. Holliday, brother of the former, all of whom have arrived, and are on their way to New York.

CAPTAIN OF OSCAR T. HAMAKER!

He is Arrested in Texarkana, and Brought Home.

Last week Jailer Kinsey and James Earlywine started to Texarkana, Arkansas, in pursuit of Oscar T. Hamaker, one of the notorious characters that have for years infested the Blue Lick heights of Cumberland. It will be remembered that in October last he murdered Jacob Bowers, a peddler, and accomplice in the murder of Joe Page, for which Perrin was tried and convicted of the Circuit Court and sentenced to eleven years in the Penitentiary, Hamaker succeeded in making his escape from the jail in Burkesville, and has been at large ever since. As the particulars of this affair was published in our last issue we will not enlarge on it here.

When Jailer Earlywine and Kinsey got to Texarkana they found that Hamaker had left that place for Shreveport, Louisiana, and they followed him there. Upon their arrival in Shreveport they found that Hamaker had left that place for Texarkana, and they followed him there. Upon their arrival in