All Right...Let Us Judge CATHOLICS BY THE BIBLE!

Many sincere people regard the Bible as the sole authority for Christian belief.

And they reject the teachings of the age-old Catholic Church because these teachings and forms of Catholic worship are not mentioned by name in Holy Scripture.

"Where," some will ask, "does the Bible say anything about the Mass or Purgatory? And how about confession to a priest, praying to Mary, and those seven Sacraments you Catholics talk about? They're not in MY Bible."

Although everything contained in the Bible is true, yet the Bible is not the sole source of all truth. For example, we know that Christ established His Church . . . that the Church existed long before the Bible was completed . . . that millions lived and died in the Savior's truth without ever having seen a Bible.

But we are willing to set aside these historical truths for the moment and judge Catholic beliefs and practices by the Bible.

Take first, for instance, the fact that the Bible does not mention the Mass or Purgatory by name. Well, neither does it mention the word Bible by name. Furthermore nowhere within its covers is it stated what are the writings which contain the inspired Word of God. The only authority you have for this is the word of the Catholic Church, which preserved and collected the Scriptural writings and put them between the covers of a book.

The word "Sacrament," meaning a sacred rite, is not used anywhere in the Bible. But Holy Scripture does make clear the sacredness of such Catholic rites as Baptism, Confirmation, the Eucharist, Matrimony, Penance, the Last Anointing, and Holy Orders, the latter rite being the depositing of the successors to the Apostles.

The Sacraments were in possession of the Church and in daily use before a single line of the new Testament was written. People were being received into the Church by Baptism long before there was a New Testament. They were receiving Confirmation, were being married according to Christ's teaching, and praying over and anointing the dangerously sick.

Christ definitely did establish His Church. He did deputize His Apostles, and their successors, to continue His teaching. He did promise that His Church would endure forever, and could not fall into error. But He never did say: "All My teachings shall be in a book. Read and believe nothing else."

A tremendously interesting pamphlet explaining the Catholic teaching concerning such things as the Sacraments, Purgatory, why Catholics do not eat meat on Friday, why we call it Catholic Church instead of "Roman" Catholic will be sent in a plain wrapper on your request, and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet No. KC-28.

Peek at THE STARS

BY LYN CONNELLY

WHO'S TV's most popular band leader? Hardly anyone will deny that it's that famed expounent of "Champagne Music," the amiable 32-year old Lawrence Welk of ABC-TV . . . The Welk success story began with his birth . . . His father, Ludwig Welk, an accomplished accordionist, had fled from his native Alsace-Lorraine in 1878 and settled on a small farm in Strasburg, North Dakota . . . One of eight children, Lawrence mastered the accordion and at 15 was playing for community dance and church events.

A few years later he brought together an "orchestra", consisting of only drums and an accordion and made his inaugural broadcast over Radio Station WNAX of Yankton, S. D. . . . Later he added a piano and saxophone and his group played under such names as "The Hobby Tobby Boys," "Lawrence Welk and his Honolulu Fruit Gum Orchestra" and "The Big-Feet Little Band in America."

Although successful in the Dakotas, Lawrence desired to play a new kind of sweet dance music—a tempo which was "gay and exciting, something sparkling and bubbling like champagne" . . . To achieve his goal he enlarged his orchestra, introduced new arrangements and in the 1930's successfully harmonized the country . . . The orchestra began to go big time in the late 1930's, making major hotel engagements and short films and wasting hundreds of records . . . A TV series in Southern California became so popular locally that it grew into the present national ABC-TV favorite, "The Lawrence Welk Show".

Early in his career, Lawrence had married a Yankton hospital nurse, and they have three teenage children . . . The Welks live in a charming Mediterranean-type home near Los Angeles, and in his spare time Lawrence reads, plays golf and tends the garden.
