REPORTS from many points in Kentucky are to the effect that the coming crop there will be at least 25 per cent. under that of last year. But few have the courage.

SENATOR JOHN SHERMAN, of Ohio, is reported to be a candidate for Speaker, Alliance on the Silver question. The issue is a question of dollars and cents, Sherman has the dollars, it looks like he is to be in it.

It is said that Col. Bennett H. Young is preparing for the next Gubernatorial battle here. He should take interest in the Louisville Post, as he is relieved of responsibility for that independent free lance's doings.

CAPT. L. D. HOLDERAN, after many years of faithful and efficient service as City of Clerk of the Louisville Post in Frankfort, has resigned his position. He claims that the absence of the Legislature is due to a clerical error.

MAJ. THOMAS SHERLEY, a prominent lawyer, and leader in Louisville politics, and now he is in Canada. We have often heard it said that politics in Louisville would break a back, but this is the first authenticated case that has come to our observing.

The Constitutional Convention resumed business at the old stand yesterday. They had a great love feast, over the big property pieces their work by the people, and a man who differed with them was not regarded very highly.

THE Chief of Police of Louisville, if dismissing from the force every man who uses profane language, The Louisville Times says that if the Chief pointed in his determination he will have to send to Ireland for a new crop of policemen.

ACCIDENTS are about rare. A Democratic clerk of the Kentucky Position Tax Commission, who was at Frankfort last week because he could not make his accounts balance by about $1,000, while the Republican Postmaster at Paducah stopped over and cut because Registered letters and Postal notes drifted out of his office through his office.

GEN. BUCKNER, the government expert, who was sent to Texas to experiment with the new making process, declares that his investigation has shown that the process is a great advancement if it succeed. People are doing mighty smart, and the good Lord may have to call a halt, after the style he did at Babel's Tower.

WHEN Colonel Nutt Adams entered as his office of Railroad Commissioner last summer, he cut look ahead, twenty-seven years of office holding. And yet we are told that on a Federal cut-off nothing from the Democracy of Kentucky, shortes the Louisville Times.

THE subcommittee of the Senate Finance Committee is in Boston hearing testimony of manufacturers regarding the workings of the tariff and the cost of producing various commodities. The lead and silver industry has been the most prosperous under the tariff, says Mr. Carlisle before the subcommittee and the abnormally large difference between the manufacturer's price and that paid by the consumers for lands and shoes.

HON. W. P. KNOTT, one of the brightest young lawyers of Central Kentucky, is a candidate for the Attorney General, and will no doubt be nominated. Mr. Knott has been one of the most faithful workers for the Democratic party, and deserves well at the hands of its people. Intelligent, honest, energetic and capable, he has the elements in him to make a good officer.

THE stories that come from Illinois of the ill-treatment that is meted out to the Hebrew citizens, or rather Hebrew residents, of that country, are heartrending, and it is enough to make every civilized nation on the globe blush for shame that such a thing is allowed among them. The men of means who are upon the Hebrew throne are darkness himself a very good, a very demon, and the Sons of the Innermost Hell will be too cool for them when the Divided Spot is ready to enter them. He will drop his reward.

GEORGETOWN has been undergoing quite a lot of excitement the past week or so. A negro shot and killed a white man, a mob took him from the jail and hung him; the darkies threaten to kill the whites and burn the town, the town was fired in four different places on one night; the Sandford Killed Mr. Montgomery and two of the Jarvis boys, and the Jarvis boys shot up the town and killed himself and the town by Judge Lind one hundred cubic yards to be burn to be used in defense.

THE Indiana State Board of Tax Commissioners gave the Standard Oil Monopoly, Jacobs and Dougherty a new lease of life yesterday, and just for there to pull, for cutting up and cutting their books and to answer questions touching the records of deposits in their second banks. Gov. Hovey and Auditor Sharpe, of Indiana, will look to part in the proceedings, holding them to be illegal and void. The Standard Oil Monopoly will have to write of Indiana corpse. (Dulle Tribune.

This is the case that we mentioned as coming in our last issue, and its outcome will be watched with much interest by the people of Kentucky.

The Inauguration.

Hon. John Young Brown was sworn in as Governor of Kentucky, at Frankfort, Tuesday, in the presence of the numerous concourse of people. The city was filled with strangers, and a great crowd petals was made by the soldiers of the Confederate Veteran Camp. Not a nearly elected Democrats were among them and are now ready in dust the dirge of Jim and draw their salaries.

Hon. John Young Brown, the new Governor officially, was inaugurated under very pleasant circumstances Tuesday, and he starts upon his official career with the best wishes of the people of Kentucky. His administration will be one of the most important for many years, and we have no doubt but that it will be marked by the wisest and most ability and credit. He is a statesman, and we are sure all his acts will be done upon a high plane of statesmanship.

Hon. John W. Hendy, the new Secretary of State, is a member of the well known Louisville tobacco firm of Brady, Gittens & Co., and he is recognized not only a business man, but a high student of public affairs. He will bring to the duties of his office a thorough knowledge of the duties of the office.

Capt. Jack Amos, the new Adjutant General, is one of the best men in Kentucky, generous to a fault and a lover of friends. He served through the war with great credit to himself, was one of the bravest and best of soldiers, as he is now citizen and friend.

Captain Willis L. Briggs, of Breckinridge, who closed out Governor Buckner's term as Secretary of State, is one of the truest men in Kentucky, and as Sherman has the dollars, it looks like he is to be in it.

It is said that Col. Bennett H. Young is preparing for the next Gubernatorial battle here. He should take interest in the Louisville Post, as he is relieved of responsibility for that independent free lance's doings.
