ANNOUNCEMENT.

Friends announce us as a candidate for Clerk of Nicholas Circuit Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

TUESDAY, SEPT. 16, 1890.

Mr. Clay thinks the Constitution should be amended so as to elect the Railroad Commissioners. Mr. Clay has discovered wind for thinks a great danger.

GOVERNOR BROWN, Lt. Governor Allard and ex-Governor Knott, were the guests of John T. Hinton, of Paris, last Thursday and Friday.

It is rumored that the Emperor of Austria is becoming tired. Some time since in an honest moplum, the road King of Bavaria is her crown and her throne was killed himself. It looks like if the Kaiser should come along he would get the whole crowd.

A POT of our exchanges are inclined to comment upon the action of the Con. Con. So far as we have seen it is word to say by way of criticism. The part work has been unanimously approved by the people, and it is now authorized to do so at places, and high likely to do the latter thing.

L. J. BRADLEY, who for several years past has been the editorial writer on the Covington Commonwealth, has become editor of the Newport Daily Journal. Mr. Bradley is one of the brightest men in the Kentucky press and he will fill the position as an editor.

A warm controversy is being waged in the Kentucky Legislature, Judge Tarlton, Judge Hulett, and J. D. Wilson, of Lewis, on the merits of the last election in that county. Judge Hulett seems to have the best of the affair, as he holds his certificate of election and no one dares contest his right to it.

GOVERNOR BUCKNER'S Brown-Yale from Frankfort depot to Governor's mansion in the old Frankfort cemetery. While some comment on the incident as though it was a thing to be regretted, the Democratic complexion of the office may become so historic as Andrew Jackson's visit to the Hermitage in his old age.

MR. FERRIS LOCKE, the long-headed paragraphist on the Louisville Times are a new dish the other day down at the Rowing Green home. It was a piece of electricity, by lights. The sheep had been sheared by light and it was a good job with the razor, another was had to use bare that and at the time.

In the lower House of the Tennessee Legislature a resolution was adopted declaring the General Assembly golfers to attempt the growth of the State's revenue. A number of Tennessee Democrats, who were Cleveland appointed Fed and his cronies, are of a sensation. It is charged that they had encouraged and abetted the measure and encouraged Inclosure. The resolution was adopted, and the experiment will be made at once.

It looks like the Democratic party of Kentucky would be from a Republican United States Judge Hiel of Louisville, Democratic Governor John Young Brown with a Republican Lt. Gov. Allard, Blanset W. Lindsay on charge of extensions, and the defeated Republican candidate for Governor, Hugh A. T. Wood as a distinguished guest on the stage. Such a change disposed of Frankfort here.

The only adverse criticism of the recent Democratic conclave of Allen county is that his first official act was appointed Clerk of the Circuit Court, vice Kentucky Colonel Esther Gunn, resigned, a commodious Democrat, Mr. Brown knew of a lemon, and he knew it was a lemon, and he knew it was a lemon. And he did.

PRESIDENT CLAY, in his opening address to the Tennessee Legislature, said that the Democratic party of the last two seasons, if the Railroad Commissioner should be elected by the people and not appointed by the Governor. This statement on the part of President Clay is taken to be an indirect effort to open a fire Brown, and many of the Democratic papers are making much to do about it.

HON. GARRETT S. WALLS, of Mayfield, having just completed his second term in a trial for Congress, which he lost by a few votes, announced at the Democratic convention, last week, in the city, where, as administrator of the Blackard estate, he has been trying to get the larger portion of the property in hanging to the estate law in the county, that Judge Wall is very prominently mentioned as a candidate for Congress, and gone to his district, Congressman Taul, Hopkinsville, Cottonton Post, September 3rd.

THE Hopkinsville County Journal is preparing to issue a Sunday edition. The Kentucky Journal of the same paper recently in the Circuit Court during the past five years, with a view of being there for a year.

Not only readers of the Journal will be interested in the mortgages, but the Amount of every county ought to do the same, and when this is done the mortgage ought to be duly of from the assessed value of the property on which the mortgage is held. This would be nothing but right and proper, and no man can successfully dispute it. As it is thousands of dollars of mortgage taxation, or double taxation is collected, which is not right.

AFTERNOON SESSION

After roll call the subject of advanced Arithmetic was ably discussed by Mr. Morris, who would have liked more time to complete matter of the subject.

The afternoon exercises of Spelling and Calls Book was given by Mr. Fetter, and Mr. Morris, who, in his opinion, would be the best thing in teaching these subjects.

Mr. Morris then gave the subject to Miss M. Tallent and others, our Institute was then taken up by the use of Books, which should be used in every school.

Many lively arguments for opening and closing schools were introduced and Hour on the old order was adopted.

MR. FERRIS LOCKE, the long-headed paragraphist on the Louisville Times are a new dish the other day down at the Rowing Green home. It was a piece of electricity, by lights. The sheep had been sheared by light and it was a good job with the razor, another was had to use bare that and at the time.

The well was called and the subject of Language was introduced by Mr. Morris and discussed by Mrs. Crabtree.

Language lesson was then taken up by Miss Tallent and Ruckle in which Mr. Morris, Mr. Fanson, and others joined by giving our instructions instead of Mr. Morris. This subject was ably handled by Mr. Fanson, Mr. Morris, Mr. Fetter, and others, and it was decided to spend the time in Geography.

Hour called to order, roll called and Institute opened by Mr. Morris.

Geography was then taken up and discussed by Mr. Morris, Mr. Fetter, and others, and Mr. Morris closed the subject
