THURSDAY, SEPT. 11, 1890.

FRIENDLY FOES. of the Farmers' Alliance, believe that it is now impossible to prevent the formation of a third political party.

In an interview at Lexington, Saturday, Hon. W. C. P. Breckenridge says Grover Cleveland will undoubtedly be the Democratic nominee in 1892.

NEW YORK Republicans in State convention at Rochester, nominated J. Sloat Fassett for Governor and appointed Colonel Fellows of the Port of New York, for Governor.

JAS. A. GARFIELD, Jr., son of the late President, was defeated for the Republican nomination for State Senator in the Ashtabula district, in Ohio, because he was a friend of John Sherman.

THE Constitutional Convention has decided that the Auditor, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Clerk of the Court of Appeals shall be ineligible to succeed themselves, this provision to apply to the recently elected officials.

COL. THOS. H. HARRIS is mentioned as a candidate for Speaker of the Lower House of Representatives. He is one of the ablest, and would make an excellent Speaker. His legislative experience fully qualifies him for the position, and we hope he may succeed if he concludes to enter the race.—Flemingsburg Gazette.

HON. BENJAMIN HARRISON, President Benjamin Harrison, who is now in the good of Dr. C. W. Mallory, last week. Mr. Hensley is one of the ablest members of the last House that accepted a resolution to the Harrison administration, and while not a public speaker, he was recognized as one of the working members of that body.

A RACING remedy is one level with the Silver Dollar. The Macon Telegraph is a Green organ. Not so good humor, we believe, but in another. We shall give Gen. Green our hearty support in all proper ways, but we can not be an "organ" for one who is so much a stranger as Gen. Brown is to us. And we know of the men Mr. Brown leads us to believe we shall like him when we become better acquainted with him, and if that is true we shall be honest in our support.

THE people of Nicholas will remember that during the discussion of the new Constitution we claimed that under Section No. 181 there was a doubt about the exemptions of growing crops and personal property. It was claimed that were wrong, but it now turns out that the Con. Con. thought it there was something in our claim, it was so plain that it was not worth while to make a change in the part the second relating to "money, notes, or other personal property, &c. The above the repeal of the part to be exempted from taxation, and in addition thereto, $250 worth of personal property. This is something like right.

THE Republican correspondent of the Louisville Courier, writing from Frankfort says: The Farmers' Alliance men are a very independent people. They didn't pull enough votes at the last civil election to entitle them to one dollar's worth of recognition. They didn't have two thousand votes in all Kentucky. Judge Hazelrigg, Democrat, and Republicans alone could not be caught by it.

The Farmers' Alliance will find that the Republican correspondent knows quite as much about politics, and that the only place of hope and help for the Farmer is in the bosom of the Democratic party.

Such people are continually begging Gov. Brown to appointing his friends to office. Now, we think he should not. He should support those who supported him, and in doing so he will always have friends that will stand by him.—Frankfort Argus.

We endorse the sentiment expressed in the Argus, and we do so quite cordially because we think it does some good. The Governor does not appoint an officer except those most intimately associated with him in the discharge of his duties, and that he should have the personal and political sympathy of those about him is not doubted by any reasonable man. Governor Brown has done what others have done before him, and he is right.

GOV. BROWN.

(Falmouth News.)

While this excellent office has a record that is almost matchless, there is reason to believe that the new incumbent will fall a while behind. Fewer men have been chosen to fill high place who were better qualified to assume the functions. Governor Brown is rarely equipped for holding of the trust which the people have lately have confided to him. He is a man of great and kindly sympathies, within the gift of the American people. He is a statesman of the largest calibre. He is a profound scholar. No one can doubt his rare fitness for the office. Such being the case, it may not be remarkable indeed if his administration should not be a successful one.

The old regime has run out and the new one has taken its place. The unlucky can complain bitterly but succeeded a man who was as popular as he was gracious as Brown.

The Silver Question.

In an interview with John Donnelly, Democratic Congressman of St. Mary, that respondent said: "If by universal or even general coinage of silver is meant the coinage of silver brought from any part of the world, I am satisfied that the confiscating power of the silver dollar would be considerably less than that of the gold dollar would have the same power, which would be a sad thing for the people. It is idle to say that the greater quality would prevent this. Silver is not a money metal, and it will never be a money metal in any land or time, for the reason that it was convertible into a money metal, it would be worth $1 29 in greenbacks to buy $1 in gold, and even after the war $1 in gold had the purchasing power of $1 in greenbacks, and as the day of resumption drew approached they got closer together, and now since the convertibility, important purchasing power—not because the greenback is high, but because the greenback is high. How much silver is convertible? My judgment is that we can safely coin every dollar of silver produced in the United States. If this is what the advocates of free coinage favor I am with them. If they want to open the mints to all the world I am not with them."

IMPORTANT AMENDMENT.

A special from Frankfort, Sept., 9th, says: The Revenue Commission has prepared an amendment to the exemption section of the new revenue law, so that the exemption of crops grown in the year the assessment is made and in the hands of the producers. Amendments looking to the prevention of double taxation in the matter of bank deposits were voted down.

In accord with his promise to his friends during the campaign, Governor Brown offered an amendment to the revenue law, which provides that authority shall be given to counties to fix different rates of taxation for different kinds of property. He asked if the rule laid down in the new law was placed in operation in Louisville it would paralyze the industry of that city and consequently of the State as it would tax the Louisville banks out of existence. His amendment was voted down.

THE Attorney Committee has prepared an amendment to the new Constitution, as follows: Section 91. The General Assembly shall, by general law, provide manufacturing the notes of the people of any county, city, town, or district, may be taken, upon whether or not spontaneous, issues, or not, and shall make no exclusive grant away thereon, of the right thereof may be granted to any person shall be protected to another man, or to any law in force relating to the sale or gift of such issues.

HON. BENJAMIN HARRISON, President Benjamin Harrison, who is now in the good of Dr. C. W. Mallory, last week. Mr. Hensley is one of the ablest members of the last House that accepted a resolution to the Harrison administration, and while not a public speaker, he was recognized as one of the working members of that body.

The Germ Destroyer.

In the field of discovery and invention, medicine has not kept pace with surgery. That, perhaps, is natural, since surgery is the mechanical branch of medicine. The general supposition is that the theory of disease, however, opens a new field for medicine, and will take it completely away from the mediæval superstitions that still cling to medicine. Medicine, however, is not without its discoveries. Its discoveries are few and the facts on which they are based are not known to the laity. Such a discovery is the germ destroyer, which is now being used in the hospitals of Europe and America. Its use is not without its dangers. It is a powerful poison and the fact is known wherever the last has been made, that Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) will destroy the germ of malarial disease, the microbes of skin disease, and the bacilli of contagious and other forms of blood poisoning, quite them from the blood, and purifies and invigorates the system. No medical discovery has been made which has proved more effective.
