THE MERCURY.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

G. R. KELLER
J. W. POWLING

KELLER & SOW, Publishers

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
One copy to subscriber, $1 00
Six copies for $5 00
Twelve copies to an address, $10 00
ADVANCE IN THE CARRIER DISTRICTS OF THE MERCURY PRINTING OFFICE.

THURSDAY, FEB. 16, 1899

PAY UP AND GET A PRIZE.

Farm Journal Five Years.

By special arrangements made with the publishers of the FARM JOURNAL we are enabled to offer a five year subscription to this popular family paper, well worthy the price, for the MERCURY one year ahead, and the offer will be made to every old subscriber who will pay all back dues and one year in advance, both papers for $1 50.

In order to get the Farm Journal on a cash basis we must have payment in advance. We have no agents, only responsible parties will receive the number of five years at the price named.

The Farm Journal is a Quarter of a Century Old.

This announcement is addressed to every one who is interested in the Farm Journal, endorsing the subscription of a relative.

HON. W. J. BRYAN is to be a regular contributor to the Farm Journal, and the supply of mail is heavy. Mr. Bryan's first letter will be read from Lincoln, Neb., and the subject of mail is highly interesting to the readers of the Farm Journal.

The Farm Journal contains the following from Washington: Senator Brown, of Nebraska, and Senator Allen, of Nebraska, are among the distinguished and elegant people who are sending in their subscriptions to the Farm Journal.

Mr. Thomas B. Searborough, the well known Democratic leader of Indiana, says: "I have been a reader of Uncle John W. Scott's weekly sermons for years, and I can't resist a temptation to Mary."

Mr. A. J. Wilson, of Indiana, is to be a regular contributor to the Farm Journal. Mr. Wilson's letter will be read from Washington next week.

The Farm Journal is a Quarter of a Century Old.

The Farm Journal is a Foundation.

Hon. S. J. Pentz is a regular contributor to the Farm Journal. Mr. Pentz's letter will be read from Washington next week