PERSONAL.

Miss Irene Dodge of Normal was killed and Herman Scantlin of Atlanta severely injured at Springfield, Ill., when an automobile driven by Rev. Father T. M. Moore of Atlanta was struck by a street car. Father Moore and Miss Myra Bell, the fourth occupant of the car, escaped injury.

"John D. Rockefeller, charged with speeding an automobile, pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to three dollars." This reads the records of the court of Squire Dunn of South Euclid village. But Rockefeller did not appear in court in his public superintendent instead. The secretary admitted his master's guilt.

"Oh, I am so glad to see you," cried Mrs. Abner A. Brown, sixty-two years old, as she greeted her son Charles in Saginaw, Mich., after a long separation. The next moment she dropped dead of heart trouble.

Mayor Gaynor's fight for life in St. Mary's hospital in Hoboken, where he has been confined since the attempted assassination as he was about to depart for Europe, has reached the critical stage. All that could be gleaned by the statements by the attending physicians was that the minimum time in which the infection by the wound might appear had elapsed. This means that the danger of blood poisoning from bullet germs would be lessened if it had not been entered upon.

The "Old Master" has taken the final count. Joe Gans, former lightweight champion of the world, died at Baltimore of consumption. The most popular and most skillful negro boxer who ever appeared before the public, a favorite for close on twenty years, died, as he wished to—in the arms of his mother.

Victor Berger, the Milwaukee Socialist leader, before sailing for Europe, declared that all wars could be ended through the medium of strikes.

Miss Irene Dodge of Normal, Ill., was killed and Herman Scantlin was severely injured at Springfield when an automobile driven by Rev. Father Moore of Atlanta was hit by a street car.

SHERIFF SAVES MAN'S LIFE

Had Killed Two Men Who, He Said, Had Robbed Him in Vacant House.

Edwardsville, Ill.—To the fact that David Jones, of Edwardsville, Sheriff of Madison county, owns a big bulldog and John Burton, of Alton, owes his life. Burton admits that he killed Jones, in a hand-to-hand struggle, Leo Wentz and Lewis Walbrecht.

Relatives of the men say that feeling was so intense at Marine, where the killing occurred, that Burton was in imminent peril of being lynched.

When advised by phone of the tragedy, the sheriff did not wait for daylight, but ordered out his big mastiff car and with two deputies went after the man. With Wentz and Walbrecht he spent a portion of the afternoon and evening at a saloon. At 11 o'clock they left the saloon. Wentz saying he would give Burton and Walbrecht lodging in a vacant house belonging to Henry Jones, who lives across the road.

Jones, who lives across the road, was startled by the appearance of Burton, who he knew slightly.

"I have been robbed" said Burton, "and I killed them both."

CAR BARNS DYNAMITED

Alleged That Explosive Was Thrown from Adjoining Building—No One Injured and Little Damage Done.

Columbus, O.—As a climax to the innumerable depredations which have been committed in the past three or four weeks of the street car men's strike, dynamite was used to wreck the South High street barns.

The charge was either too small to complete the demolition of the two parties handling the explosive burglars found near Hope Friday.

According to the police the charge of dynamite was placed under a building to the south of the barn.

A hole a foot twelve feet in diameter was the result, and large timbers were blown from the foundation, iron girders, were splintered and twisted.

TRADE SITUATION BETTER

Weather Conditions Improved and Crop Prospects Are Now Those of a Beginning of Month.

New York.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Weather conditions decidedly better than last week, the records for the month of July showing more favorable conditions. Crop prospects have improved, the outlook at the beginning of the month. This is responsible for some improvement in business. Although, of course, business in some important branches of trade are conducted on a very conservative basis for immediate needs being more important, it is true that requirements. The volume of transactions is still large, in view of the activity in production in iron, steel and other lines. Although conditions in iron and steel have seen the trade conditions some further regarded hopefully, as the monthly statement of unfilled orders showed a further advance during July less than was expected, there is no improvement in prices.

The conservative activity in wire and wire products is maintained. In other departments of output and primary values are the tendency to cling to the high cost of production, the conservative purchasers, buyers are numerous in the more moderate and cautious manner in the shoe trade. Cotton goods are distinctly firm and are well maintained, notwithstanding the fact that there has been given no one large order. There is no intention to hold piece goods for the purchases for months, but the day-to-day requirement was large last week, and the demands for the spring are not doing so a year ago. Dress goods are actively affected by the new garment-making establishments.

A satisfactory volume of fall orders in the shoe trade, and there is shown for spring. Orders are higher and prices firm, but there is some disposition to grant concessions on most of the leather shoes. Retailers are realizing that week is almost over, and the demand is especially for shoes of medium price, the best quality of the year.

Business Failures.

Bradstreet's Review of Trade says:

Failures in the United States for the week ending July 14 were against 166 last week, 219 a week of 1909, 249 in 1908 and 243 in 1906. Business failures for the month just ended are comparing 97 for July of 1910 and 1909 and 1908.
