APPALACHIAN EXPO.

OPENS AT KNOXVILLE, TENN, SEPTEMBER 12 AND CONTINUES FOR A MONTH.

EXPOSITION READY FOR OPENING

Taft and Roosevelt Will Visit the Exposition—Preparations Magnificent Grounds and Exhibits.

Knoxville, Tenn.—The Appalachian Exposition, to be held in this city from September 12 to October 12, is nearing completion. The buildings and grounds have been completed for some weeks and already a large number of exhibits are installed. With the beautifying of the main grounds completed by the opening day, one will view an exposition complete in all respects except for the fact that buildings have that lane so valiantly labored to complete will be ready for occupancy. The full tradition will rest a bare fortnight before the nightly pageant of the visiting population will present the spectacle of a portion of this Appalachian home, of pioneer days, of the early and march through the gates. Knoxville is a city of beautiful residential environments. It any prospective visitor has been misled by glowing editorial of the ribbons in advance the Appalachian Exposition is a reality, dating back every primatic hue. The Knoxville Commercial Club, headed by Colonel Wm. J. Oliver, have returned home after a tour of the state which by special train through the South, touching the leading cities and at every point they were accorded an enthusiastic reception and received thousands of assurances that the major portion of the population of the state visited will be present at the exposition.

Among the many notables who will attend the opening are some of the most cordially welcomed and grateful of all the visitors, President Wm. H. Taft and ex President Theodore Roosevelt. The exposition officials have positive and personal assurances from both that they will attend in person with their presence.

The visit of ex President Taft is not yet been definitely determined, but it is hoped that he will be present on October. However, Col. Roosevelt will be one of the features of the time for his visit to the exposition coincides with his veterans day reunion of Rough Riders at Knoxville.

Roosevelt being a Spaniard war veteran, the reunion of the Rough Riders is a prominent part in the exercises of that day. Governor Patterson of Tennessee is a comrade of T. R. and he will hold the reins of state while the ex President and snake the hands of thousands of his old friends in the south.

Governors of Tennessee, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, North Carolina and Georgia have been invited to attend the exposition and it is expected that chief executives will attend. Governor Harmon of Ohio, governor elect Gov. W. H. Patterson, of Tennessee, will be present on the opening day of the exposition. Governor Harmon will deliver a formal address and Governor Patterson will preside at the first great events.

Governor Harmon's address promises quite much encouragement to the exposition management. It has been prepared by order of the heads of the agricultural department of Ohio, being installed at the exposition building in Knoxville.

Few people realize the magnitude of the work exhibit and horse show which will be held in connection with the Appalachian Exposition. The horse show exhibit will extend through the entire five days exposition period, the dates for this exhibit being September 16 to 20 inclusive. In perfecting the details for this great exhibit management has been left undone to make it one of the most fine exhibits.

The premium lists feature the exhibit of the Spanish, Arabian, Percheron, Belgian, Shire, Clydesdale and Hackney. The first week of the exposition.

One of the very attractive features of the exposition will be the horse show, which will be held in the horse show, which will be held in the exposition. It has set aside $6,000 to be divided among the horses of the latter present of the land over a period of five days.

That the exposition will be an accomplished success from every standpoint, is already vouchsafed. Knoxville has spared no pains to make it so. Its generous expenditure of money, its spirit diffused into the work of the local and progressive people, its lavish expenditure of money by the master-hand of men of brain, in carrying out the objects of a national and preventative feature, is an assurance of success. The Appalachian Exposition will be fruitful of beneficial results and one of the great events that has ever occurred in the onward march of progress in the south.
