Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. My had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean, to you, to recover as quickly as Mrs. Navy did. For more than 50 years, this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women, has been used by thousands of weak and ailing sufferers. They found it of real value in relieving their aches and pains. Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use, at once, by you. Try it, today.

Points of Excellence in Mules

The following is a copy of the specifications for mules prepared under the direction of the Quartermaster General of the U. S. Army governing the purchase of such animals for the government.

The mule must be sound, well-bred and of superior class; of a kind disposition, gentle and well broken to harness, with the exception of the pack mule; with free and prompt action at the walk and trot; free from vicious habits, without material blemish or defect and otherwise to conform to the following description:

A gelding or mare of uniform and family color, in good condition; from four to eight years old; weight depending on height, to be as follows:

Wheel mules for six-mule teams to weigh from 1,150 to 1,200 pounds and be from 15 hands 1 inch to 15 hands 3 inches high.

Lead mules for six-mule teams to weigh from 950 to 1,050 pounds and be from 14 hands 3 inches to 15 hands 1 inch high.

Wheel mules for four-mule teams to be from 1,100 to 1,200 pounds and be from 15 hands 2 inches to 16 hands high.

Lead mules for four-mule teams to be from 1,050 to 1,100 pounds and be from 15 hands 1 inch to 15 hands 2 inches high.

Pack mules to weigh 950 to 1,000 pounds and be from 13 hands 2 inches to 15 hands 1 inch high.

Head—Fine and of medium size, with ears fine and erect; forehead broad and full; eyes large, clear, prominent and mild, with well developed brow and face solid; nostrils large and open; nostrils large and open.

Neck—Medium length and smoothly joined to the shoulders and withers, with crest fairly marked.

Shoulders—Long, oblique, well and smoothly muscled, and so formed as to provide proper support for the collar.

Chest—High, wide, very deep and full.

Back—Short, straight and well and smoothly muscled.

Loins—Short, straight, broad and muscular.

Barrel—Large, with ribs well arched and definitely separated from each other.

Fore Legs—Vertical and properly placed, with elbow large, long and clear of chest; forearm large, very long, heavy muscled and vertical.

Knees—Large, wide in front, well placed and free from blemishes.

Laugh Early and Often

Mirth is God's medicine. Everybody ought to barter health for it.—Bovee.

Mirth a medicine!

Certainly, and a good one—better than half the preparations of materia medica. It is one of nature's real tonics, a balm for life's bruises, and it may be taken as a liniment for mental pain a panacea for nearly all ills.

Dr. Sanderson says:

Mirth, rightly cultivated, is a lever, a stimulant for the tissues of the body than drugs which react. Laughter is an antidote for giving influence. Another physician has said, "Laughter is a necessary to wholeness as a blessed.

Therefore—laugh early and often.

Most of us take life altogether too seriously. We do not laugh enough, or if we do laugh it is a stingy sort of mirth that does not do much good. We laugh so seldom we lose the disposition, the power, to laugh. Laughter is a habit. It may be cultivated.

A laugh is a massage.

Metaphors aside, a good laugh is a real "massage" treatment. When you laugh your diaphragm gets busy. In moving rapidly up and down it massages the liver, stirring up that organ to its duty. It also affects all the organs beneficially.

"Laugh and grow fat" is a shrewd observation of many generations.

The old kings were wise. They hired jesters to make merriment for them. And Lorenzo, able lawmaker, set up the god of laughter in the public dining room of Sparta.

Laughter is a good buffer.

It is like the shock extinguisher folks put in the rear springs of their automobiles to keep from being jarred to death by the knobs and "massage" treatment of life's rugged road. It reduces friction to the minimum.

Laughter is normal.

It is a fact that good health and mental and moral balance may require that the fun loving person who can laugh and is breaking, like him to stay, give him the following problem to work out: Tell him to take any number between one and nine, add one, multiply by nine, cross out the left hand figure, add fourteen, and the number you first took, and look out for results. This ought to work and if he does not grasp the result he is too stupid to call again.—Ex.

Convention Adjourns After Good Session

Joint Meeting of C. W. B. M. and Bible Schools Has Big Success

The annual convention of the Christian Women's Board of Missions and the Bible School for the Eighth District, composed of the counties of Bourbon, Bath, Clark, Harrison, Nicholas and Montgomery, closed here last Friday after an interesting two days session. Over two hundred delegates were present and a very elaborate program was carried out. The Bible school convention closed Friday night with a stereoptican lecture by Rev. W. J. Clarke, who is in charge of the organized adult Bible class work in the State. Rev. W. G. Eldred, of Carlisle, was elected president; Rev. G. W. Mills, of Owingsville, vice president, and Rev. B. W. Trimble, of this city, was re-elected district statistician and secretary for the tenth successive year. Cynthiana was chosen as the place for the next convention.

There are fifty-eight Sunday schools in this district with an attendance to May 1st of 24,316. By October 1st there will be ten mission schools established. Six Sunday schools have workers' conference during each month, and fifteen schools have a teachers' training class and fourteen are graded schools. Ten schools have organized adult classes. Twelve schools will be in the front rank by September 30. Fifteen schools will send representatives to the School of Methods at Morehead, June 17 to 27. There will be none of the chief Sunday school workers in the State in attendance and this educational school which has just been established, will be of great interest to Sunday school teachers and workers. One hundred and nine Sunday school pupils have united with the church during the year. This number is from seventeen schools. Offerings to American Missions from district Sunday schools $617.84; to State Bible School Work, $275; to Orphans' Home at Louisville, $261.40, besides many nice well filled boxes of clothing, fruits, toys etc. To the Moninger Mission at Bethany, W. Va., $149. To Foreign Missions, $744.50. There were present at this convention representatives from twenty-one schools of the district. Two hundred and five delegates, exclusive of Mt. Sterling church, registered during the good sessions of the convention.—[Mt. Sterling Gazette.

Use of Corn in Liquors Causes High Living Cost

A New York dispatch says:

The increased price of corn and the consequent increased cost of beef, poultry and eggs is due to the increased use of corn in the manufacture of distilled and fermented liquors, as well as in the manufacture of breakfast foods, according to members of the Produce Exchange. Sixty per cent. of the 3,700,000,000 bushels of corn produced in this country last year is being used by the brewing and distilling establishments, they pointed out yesterday.

"More corn is being used today in the manufacture of distilled and fermented liquors than the entire national crop of twenty years ago," said a member of a Produce Exchange firm. "It is no wonder, considering the new uses which have been discovered for corn in the last twenty-five years, that the price of corn has risen from 60 cents to 85 cents in that period. When we complain about the increased cost of beef, poultry and other corn-fed products we forget that there are 25,000,000 people drinking liquors distilled or fermented from corn every day."

Our Public Roads

The necessity for good public highway is attracting more and more attention all over the country, and the several states are vieing with each other in road building.

We have enough public roads at the present time to reach one hundred times around the earth if they were set end to end. We have more public roads than any other nation on the globe, and less good roads than any other first-class nation. The average cost of hauling a ton a mile in Europe is 10 cents, while with us it is 25 cents. The average haul in this country is nine miles, which means that we pay $1.25 cents per ton more for hauling than it costs in Europe, assuming that the average distance is the same. It has been estimated that good roads would save this country $500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000, and a good many of the progressive states are awakening to this fact. It the year 1911 Alabama, a near neighbor of ours, spent nearly $1,500,000 on road and bridge building. Arizona spent a quarter of a million dollars on 81 miles of modern highway. A single county in Arkansas purposes building 270 miles of pike at a cost of $1,500,000. California is about to spend $25,000,000 on her road system. Colorado's state commission will spend half a million dollars this year. Connecticut spent $1,500,000, and her legislature has appropriated $3,500,000 this year. New York in 1908 appropriated $50,000,000 for the improvement of her 80,000 miles of road, and has expended practically all of it. Pennsylvania has appropriated $50,000,000 for a system of highways connected with the county seats. The bond issues of Texas counties last year amounted to nearly $9,000,000. Legislators and the public generally are beginning to realize that money used in road building is not money spent, but money wisely invested.—[Memphis News-Scimitar.

Will Pool

A move has been put on foot by the Bluegrass growers of Kentucky to pool the crop this year and it is likely that the principal growers of Clark will join in as the invitation has been sent out for all to join hands and keep the price from being run down. The supply of the world is gathered in this section of Kentucky and all nations watch each year for the crop, as the demand comes from all over the world. The price in the past few years has been from 75 cents to $1.00 and the growers have decided to perfect an organization and secure more than this small sum. The seed brokers have been making a fortune each year off the farmer, and the time has now come for the Central Kentucky growers to stand together and get a big price for this needed article.—[Winchester Democrat.

Keep the water quite hot all the time. Wash with the grain of the matting, from side to side, the entire national crop of twenty years ago," said a member of a Produce Exchange firm. "It is no wonder, considering the new uses which have been discovered for corn in the last twenty-five years, that the price of corn has risen from 60 cents to 85 cents in that period. THE WELD THAT HELD The Secret of Strength

The secret of strength in a fence is Simplicity of Construction plus the best materials and workmanship. The electrically welded fence is the strongest fence, the most economical fence, the most durable fence ever made. You don't have to pay for bunglesome wraps, ties, or twists, which add nothing to strength, and which detract from good appearance and from durability. The

Big Average for Blue Grass Seed

The largest yield of bluegrass reported so far this season was made known yesterday when Mr. H. S. Caywood of North Middletown, completed the stripping of his seed, which aggregated 1,442 bushels, an average of about 70 bushels per acre. Mr. Caywood, yesterday in his report, sold the seed, which was stripped in a green state, to Jones & Sledd of North Middletown for 37 1-2 cts. per bushel.

Grass seed stripping began in earnest yesterday morning and hundreds of strippers have been turned into the fields to harvest the crop, which is estimated to be the largest in many years. Local dealers are now receiving seed, and for seed from the strippers the price of 40 cents per bushel is quoted on the local market for this week, while the advance price of 45 cents per bushel is made for seed stripped the coming week. Hand combs strippers are receiving from 35 to 45 cents for seed according to the quality.—[Bourbon News.

Gas in Bracken

John Brown, of Brookville, president of the Brookville Oil and Gas Company, and E. S. Perrie, of Dover, connected with the same enterprise, were here Tuesday, shipping some of the well machinery to Parkersburg, W. Va., for repairs. The above named gentlemen inform us that gas was struck at a depth of 900 feet in the Brookville well, and that they are now drilling 1150 feet and that the gas flow gets stronger as they attain depth. Mr. Brown, who is an experienced oil and gas well digger, says that every indication points to the Brookville well being a big one, and that it may prove to his expectations that it will furnish gas for commercial purposes to the surrounding towns, and that the company expects to run a pipe line to connect the towns in this vicinity if they are successful. The company has leased a large percentage of the land between Augusta and Maysville for boring for both oil and gas and that they expect to begin boring in the immediate vicinity of Augusta within the next few months. Our people sincerely hope that their quest may prove successful.—[Bracken Chronicle.

Pension Increases

The old soldiers who draw pensions, of whom there are a number in Nicholas county are rapidly filing their application for an increase under the new pension law. The increase will date from the time the application is received by the pension department. Application blanks can be had upon application to him. Immediately upon receipt of the application properly filled, a receipt will be forwarded to you showing that your application has been received, and no further steps by you will be necessary, your claim will receive attention in its turn. If you do not receive your receipt promptly as you think you should, do not grow impatient; remember that the number of applications already passed the 50,000 mark and that they are constantly coming in. Art extra force of over one hundred clerks has been engaged to assist in this immense amount of business and in due time every applicant will receive attention.

Raising Hogs in Kentucky

The swine industry in Kentucky deserves much more attention than it now receives. Not only should the number of hogs produced annually be increased, but also the breeding and feeding should receive more careful attention. To begin with, we can not afford to raise any but the best hogs. By this we do not mean any particular breed, but we do mean that the animals raised should be the best bred. A good grade is better than a pure bred of poor breeding, but the average pure breed is infinitely better than the average grade, to say nothing of the Government's two all-important particulars in the pure breed, namely, heredity, first, more economical gains are secured by well bred consumers, and second, when the animal is ready for market it will consumer the best, whereas the scrub will probably sell 50 cents lower. Just here it is well to remember that this 50 cents reduction must be taken from our margin of profit, which is now enough already.—[Mayfield Messenger.

The Court of Appeals holds that the residence property of a church is not exempt from taxation under the constitution of this State. This decision was handed down in the case of the Cavalry Baptist Church, Colored, of Louisville, against C. W. Milliken. Heretofore parsonage properties belonging to the various churches have been held to be exempt when they were occupied by the pastors in charge.

Dr. Keller Leaves State Health Body to Serve on Tuberculosis Commission

(Frankfort News-Journal, June 15)

Dr. H. S. Keller, of this city, who has been a member of the State Board of Health for a long time and has done good work while on the board, tendered his resignation to Governor McCreary, as he could not serve on that board and accept the position of Tuberculosis Commissioner, the position to which he was appointed yesterday by the Governor.

Dr. Keller wrote the following letter of resignation:

"His Excellency, James B. McCreary, Frankfort, Ky.—

"Dear Sir: I hereby tender my resignation as a member of the State Board of Health of Kentucky. I do this in order to accept your appointment as a member of the Kentucky Board of Tuberculosis Commissioners, appointment I very much appreciate, as it will allow me to participate in a work that means a saving of many lives in Kentucky, as well as the education of the people in measures to prevent tuberculosis, which means much to future generations.

"Very respectfully yours,

"H. S. KELLER."

In accepting the resignation, Gov. McCreary wrote Dr. Keller a letter, thanking him for his faithful service as a member of the State Board of Health.

Homes Wanted For Children

The Children's Home Society of Kentucky has at present a number of attractive babies, as well as older children of both sexes up to 15 and 14 years of age. The children are expected to be treated as members of the family, sent to school, Sunday school, etc., and place our children with Christian families only.

If any of the readers of this paper can give a child such a home and would like to take a child to raise, if they will write to the Kentucky Children's Home Society, 1036 Baxter Ave., Louisville, Ky., they will take the matter up with them.

Each age of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy, for they are the children's blessings. Children's tablets are taken by people who are digestion and keep the bowels open. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action, especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by Chas. E. Butler & Co.

An Act Prohibiting the Use of Public Drinking Cups

The use of the common drinking cup on railroad trains and in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, or steamboats, in stores or other publicly frequented places in Kentucky is hereby prohibited. No person or corporation in charge of the aforesaid places, and no person or corporation shall permit on said railroad train, in railroad station, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, steamboats, stores, or any publicly frequented place in Kentucky, the use of the drinking cup in common. No person shall so be posted in a conspicuous place, by the individual or corporation, by the drinking water contained in any of the places mentioned in the foregoing paragraph, a warning card, with the above printed thereon in large letters, so they can be easily read. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act, shall upon conviction, be fined in a sum not less than one dollar, and not more than ten dollars, and each day's violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense, punished by fine in the amount stated above. If this act is inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Approved by the Governor, March 22, 1912.

The potato crop of Louisiana and Mississippi has been materially reduced by the inclement weather. The acreage has been greatly increased but the production will be about the average.

Big Seed Yield

Henry S. Caywood, of North Middletown, last week stripped 72 bushels of seed to the acre. This is a most extraordinary yield and undoubtedly equals if it is not in excess of any other yield in the county, if not in the state. The field from which the seed was stripped contained about twenty-two acres, but of course this must be deducted a large pond, a thicket, etc., embracing about two acres, which would leave about twenty acres net, which yielded the enormous amount of 1,442 bushels.

Caywood sold the seed to Messrs. Jones & Sledd, of Bourbon county, at 37 1-2 cents per bushel, a total of $539.75, or $26.53 per acre.

Neither the yield of seed is reported from near Little Rock, this week. Mr. Elmer Bundy man, the well-known farmer and stockman, had a small patch of ground containing just one fourth of an acre, that yielded 18 bushels, or at the rate of eighty bushels to the acre. This is undoubtedly the biggest yield in the Blue Grass region so far this year.—[Bourbon News.

Torrent 1912

Torrent, the beautiful Kentucky mountain resort, has opened for the season and a charming summer is promised to all who care to spend the vacation there. All are delighted to hear that Mr. Howe is again manager and has arranged every convenience and pleasure for his guests on the 12, 13 and 14 the Kentucky State Board of Underwriters will meet for the convention there and every room has been engaged for the week. On the 21st and 22nd, a meeting of the Press Association will be held there and on the 23th and 26th, the doctors will hold their convention. The opening ball at Torrent will be on the 28th, and will be a beautiful event of the season. An orchestra has been engaged for all summer and many dances made for a happy time at this ideal summer home.—[Winchester Democrat.

Another One

James B. Haggin will own all of Fayette county, if he keeps up his purchases of blue grass land. The latest to fall in his hands is the farm of John McClintock, containing 250 acres on the Maysville pike near Lexington. Mr. McClintock retains his beautiful home and 55 acres. The price was not given out but it is said to be about $250 per acre. Indeed the millionaire turfman never lets cash be a consideration when he wants a piece of land in the blue grass country.

Land, Stock and Crop

The Texas potato crop is extremely light although the acreage is increased about 20 per cent. in most sections.

The aviation meet at Lexington drew small crowds, and proved a failure. Sunday the owner of three machines refused to allow them to fly, claiming the box office receipts did not justify the risk.

Five hundred million goat skins have been imported into the United States during the decade, and the money sent out of the country in payment therefor amounted to $250,000,000.

At the dispersal sale of W. Gettys, Athens, Tenn., eighty head of Jerseys made an average of $200. Most of the cattle went to Tennessee. Devotion's Noble, a bull, brought $625.

Geo. G. Hamilton, of Montgomery county, sold 216 extra fancy export cattle to C. C. McDonald, buyer of Schwartzchild, Sulzberger & Co., at $7.86 per hundred. Mr. McDonald also bought in the same county 62 head of fat cattle from A. L. Tipton, at 7 1-2c.

The Columbia Herald says Mrs. George Dixon's experience with sheep proves what can be done with that profitable farm animal. Six years ago Mrs. Dixon received as a present a lamb, which she made a family pet. She has since kept a flock of from thirty to forty ewes, and sold $56 worth of lambs and wool and now has a flock of twenty-two head of sheep and lambs. This year the sheep sheared eight pounds of fleece each, for which she received 22 cents or an average of $1.84 for wool from each member of the flock.

(Danville Advocate)

Lincoln county has broken all records in Kentucky for political pie hunters and many are feasting sumptuously, while a swarm of others, lank and lean, look on the trail. It is currently reported that Lincoln county has more guards, clerks and officers under the Democratic administration at Frankfort than the entire city of Louisville and Jefferson county.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now in session in Milwaukee, has adopted resolutions preventing election to any office of the General Conference of any man who
