LAWS OF NEWSPAPERS.

Every subscriber who does not give express notice to the contrary is considered as wishing to continue their subscription.

If subscribers wish the paper discontinued at the time subscribed for, they will please notify us, or the paper will be sent another year.

If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publishers, and the paper is afterwards directed, they are held responsible till they settle their bills and order it discontinued.

If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bills and ordered them discontinued.

If subscribers direct a change of their papers, they must state the name of the post office to which they have been sent, as well as that to which they wish them changed.

The courts have decided that ordering the removal of a paper, without paying up, and having them returned to the office, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

NOTE.—Any person who sends us the name and money for a new subscriber will receive the paper for one month free of charge.

Carlisle and Nicholas County—Permanent Advertisements.

Carlisle is situated about in the center of Nicholas County, and is the county seat. It contains 1,200 inhabitants, has a fine brick court-house, three churches, a good school, a flourishing Female Seminary, a Masonic and Odd Fellows' Lodge, a Temperance Lodge, a Sunday School Normal School, two flouring mills, a steam saw-mill, a planing mill, a carriage factory, and brick, several manufactories and many mechanical shops. It is on the line of the Kentucky Central Railroad, and has a good warehouse, facility for shipping and receiving goods. Carlisle is the county seat of Nicholas County, which is bounded on the north by Bracken County, on the east by Robertson County, on the south by Harrison County, and on the west by Bourbon County. The county contains 200 square miles, and has a population of 12,000. It is underlaid with limestone, and is rich in agricultural resources. Its principal products are corn, wheat, oats, tobacco, and hemp. Its surface is undulating, and its soil is fertile. Its principal streams are the Licking River, which forms the northern boundary, and the South Fork of the Licking, which forms the eastern boundary. Its principal towns are Carlisle, Millersburg, Sharpsburg, Oddville, Nicholasville, Hillsboro, Cynthiana, Paris, Georgetown, Lexington, Frankfort, Versailles, Midway, Shelbyville, Simpsonville, Eminence, Pendleton, Alexandria, Newport, Covington, Louisville, Bardstown, Elizabethtown, Hodgenville, Glasgow, Bowling Green, Franklin, Scottsville, Russellville, Hopkinsville, Elkton, Cadiz, Eddyville, Princeton, Madisonville, Henderson, Owensboro, Hawesville, Cloverport, Brandenburg, Irvington, Hardinsburg, Leitchfield, Elizabethtown, Shepherdsville, Taylorsville, Bloomfield, Shelbyville, Shelbyville, Shelbyville
