FOR APPELLATE JUDGE.

To the Democracy of the First Appellate District:

The death of that noble and pure gentleman, John M. Elliott, Judge of the First Appellate District, by an act unequaled in atrocity in any age, has cast a deep gloom over the minds and hearts of the people of this district.

My heart was devoted to him in life, and is full of sadness over his untimely death. [illegible]

THOMAS F. HARGIS.

In presenting the name of Hon. THOS. F. HARGIS to the people of the First Appellate District of Kentucky as a candidate for the office of Associate Judge of the court of the highest tribunal, it is not intended, neither is it necessary, to utter any fulsome eulogies upon his life and character. Those lives are the grandest and noblest which are the simplest and purest.

Judge HARGIS is essentially a child of the people. Born in the rugged mountains of the State; cradled among the lowly; inured to danger and hardship; gathering his education and knowledge amidst the stern discipline of daily toil; thrice wounded in battle; always prompt and ready at the call of duty; full of all generous impulses and noble daring, is it any wonder that he has achieved a name worthy of the highest honors in the gift of a brave, generous and chivalrous people?

THOMAS FRAZIER HARGIS was born at Jackson, Breathitt County, Ky., June 24, 1842, was raised on a farm and educated in the private schools of the county. During the fall and winter of 1860 he studied law while looking after his father's mercantile interests at Morehead, in Rowan County. In August, 1861, he enlisted as private in Company H, Fifth Kentucky Confederate Infantry, under Col. JOHN S. WILLIAMS, now U. S. Senator. He served with this regiment until its time expired. After the battle of Princeton, West Va., in May, 1862, he was promoted to Brevet Second Lieutenant for gallant conduct in action as a leader of the skirmish line. During the service he was engaged in the battle of Middle Creek. In October, 1862, he enlisted in Col. JACK MAYS' Tenth Confederate Cavalry as a member of Company E, and remained associated with the regiment until the close of the war. He [illegible]

MONDAY'S COUNTY CONVENTION.

Rally to the Convention next Monday and secure to Nicholas County the Appellate Judgeship and to the State a Judge who will be an honor and a credit to her—THOMAS F. HARGIS. The indications now are that he will be nominated. Let us have a rousing convention on Monday.

THE Republican State Convention meets in Louisville next Thursday. Hon. WALTER EVANS will probably be nominated for Governor, to be badly beaten by Dr. BLACKBURN.

HON. R. C. LACY, in a conversation with LABAN T. MOORE, understood from that gentleman that he is not a candidate subject to the action of the Democratic party, but will run an independent race.

IF there be any in Mason county who suppose that Messrs. STANTON and HARGIS will antagonize each other in that county, they will vainly lay this flattering unction to their souls, as these two gentlemen are on the best of terms, and have been for some time.

HON. R. H. HANSON, of Bourbon, is announced in our columns as a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals. Mr. HANSON will get the instructions of Bourbon and is also confident of those of Clark. He is a lawyer of many years practice, and has received the unanimous call of the Bourbon bar.

WHO WILL BE APPELLATE JUDGE?

A dispatch to the Enquirer from Winchester says that the withdrawal of Judge PETERS and the independent candidacy of LABAN T. MOORE insures the election of Hon. THOMAS F. HARGIS on the first ballot. While we are not so sanguine as [illegible]
