Joints Stiff From Rheumatism Hot Springs Failed To Cure, Andes Medicine Does The Work

Montgomery, Ala., June 10, 1914.—Hot Springs, Arkansas, has a world-wide reputation as the mecca for the cure of all forms of rheumatism. Invalids are carried there on stretchers in rolling chairs. Every train is crowded with people whose joints have become stiff, and they come in droves to the healing waters, with hopes of being cured in their normal health again. People of all walks of life, who have found the Hot Springs all that coveted goal. Health, the blessing of all good and great things.

Moreover, these South-plying waters with their wonderful fame by their curative powers, some time back gave the Andes Medicine a very valued behalf. The Andes Medicine is the work of Mr. J. D. Boardman, living on Madison Street and Ninth Street, who has been a sufferer from rheumatism of the very worst form for the past twelve years. His aches were perfectly stiff, and he dragged his feet along, and the pain during the plague, bloody weather had intensified.

He visited Hot Springs with hopes of finding relief from his trouble, but it failed to give back the use of the ankle. Mr. Boardman also called at the Andes sales-room and bought a bottle of the Andes Medicine. He was so much more of the Great Medicine, he was so much benefited, he done me more good than my trip to Hot Springs. Look back for the Andes medicine. It is the best one I have had of them in twelve years and I expect to continue the use of the Medicines as I believe it will be entirely cured. Rheumatism is caused from kidney trouble, Andes Great Prescription acts on the kidneys, regulates, and cures permanently. The Great Oil is used externally. If the directions are followed these two wonderful remedies will cure any case of rheumatism. Andes Prescription has done more, real good, or sufferers from catarrh, indigestion, stomach, liver, kidneys, poor blood, bad nerves, weak nervous, all run-down systems and tired all-gone feelings must be a medicine worth trying. Kentucky, Price, Andes Great Prescription, 50 cents; Great Oil, 25c. These medicines are doing great good in Nicholas county. They are for sale at Tureman's Pharmacy in Carlisle.

Got Missing Figures

THE General Manager was presenting plans for an extension of the factory to the company's directors at Detroit. He found that he had left an estimate sheet in his desk at the factory. He called up the factory in the Detroit office, and rang the telephone. His assistant read the figures to him, and the directors were able to act without delay.

COMMENT

Now that your tobacco has been sold, don't you think it would be well to settle up with the merchant who has toiled you over the tight spell with a six months credit, who has enabled you and your wife and children to wear better clothes than would have been possible had your credit not been good? Many of the city papers are conducting campaigns urging the early payment of January accounts, claiming, with good reason, that the prompt payment of the butcher, the baker and candle-stick maker, not to mention the grocer, haberdasher, dry goods merchant and newspaper, will help more than anything else to make a prosperous town. Pay the merchant promptly and he is enabled to meet his bills promptly. A prompt-paying merchant is apt to be a prosperous one, and a prosperous lot of merchants means a prosperous town. Think it over.

The "Russian Hunters down in the "Black Patch" recently visited a man who would not work, and whose wife supported the family. They hitched him to a wagon, alongside a horse, and made him haul several loads of fire wood for his family, then unhitched him, took him to the barn and made him eat six ears of corn. The Danville Messenger says the Russian Hunters might find some work up in this end of the State.

The New York Evening Post comments on an amazing church notice from the Henderson Journal, which follows:

CHURCH NOTICE IN KENTUCKY

If I had to meet it with my own eyes in the December 5th Henderson (Ky.) Daily Journal I would not have believed it! But there, among the church notices, I read:

"First Baptist afternoon service at three o'clock, especially for old people, subject, 'Mountains Up the Road to Hell.' Solo 'I want to go there,' by Mrs.

The House rejected the Senate Amendment to the Immigration Bill, excluding from the United States "All members of the African or black race." Representatives Barkley, Thomas, Rouse, Sherley and Stephens voted for the amendment. Representatives Johnson, Fields, Cantrill, and Langley voted against it. A. O. Stanley did not vote.

"There may come a time when the American people will have to judge whether I know what I am talking about," said Prez. Wilson, last week, in his Indianapolis speech. From the enthusiasm with which the remark was greeted, we are led to believe that the judgment of the American people has already been rendered.

We have received a sack of garden seeds from Senator J. N. Camden to be distributed among the people of Nicholas. It is, we advise, a trifle early to be thinking of gardening, but the seed is here, and you can have your share by calling at this office.

The Jackson Times says that if some of its delinquent subscribers do not come in and pay up the paper is liable to go to hell and advertise some some people ahead of their arrival.

In a statement issued from Washington, Senator Camden announces that he has positively decided not to make the race for Governor of Kentucky.

Something to worry about: Monday, the first "dry" day in Paris, was wet.

Candidacy Of R. D. Squires Attracts Attention

A representative of the Louisville Evening Post was here Thursday for the purpose of interviewing Mr. R. Dean Squires in regard to his race for State Superintendent of Education.

The Post representative called at the MERCURY office after his interview with Prof. Squires and stated that the chances of the local man looked good all over the State. He said that a few days before in Guthrie, Ky., on the Tennessee line, he met some staunch supporters of Mr. Squires who were anxious for the Carlisle man to get into the race, and that throughout Western Kentucky he seemed to be well known and have many friends and supporters.

Only One Saloon To Stay Open In Paris

A dispatch from Paris to Sunday's Herald says:

Paris, Ky., Jan. 9.—An agreement was reached here today by the "wets" and "drys" under terms of which the saloons of Paris will not open for business on Monday morning, as was originally intended by the decision of the Court of Appeals in the Shelby County contest.

With one exception every saloon keeper in Paris agreed to keep his place closed Monday and afterward until the highest court in the State passes on the question. John Johnson, who owns two saloons, one at Tenth and Pleasant streets and one on Main street, was the sole saloon keeper refusing to remain closed.

A test case probably will be made in his case if he persists in the determination to keep open and the attorneys for the "wets" will ask for a writ of prohibition to prevent the officials of the county from interfering with him, with a view of obtaining an early decision from the Court of Appeals as to whether the law provides that the saloons shall close sixty days from the certification of the result in the county or whether they may legally remain open pending a court decision on their appeal.

Tobacco Growers To Meet Tuesday In Lexington

Tobacco growers from all over the Burley belt will meet in Lexington next Tuesday to perfect an organization looking to the control of crop production and change in the manner of marketing the crop.

It is probable that an individual reduction in the crop raised from 25 to 30 per cent will be one of the suggestions made to remedy the situation, which has caused the low prices is causing much dissatisfaction.

Millersburg And Paris People In Auto Wreck

A party of four had a narrow escape on the Maysville & Lexington pike between Millersburg and Paris late Sunday afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding turned completely over and was almost entirely demolished. The occupants of the car were Mr. Turner and Mr. John Kreiner, of Paris, and two young ladies, of Millersburg. They were enroute to Paris, and at a point where the embankment at the side of the road is steep, ran too near the edge, and in attempting to get back into the road, the car turned over.

Mr. C. H. Fisher and family, of this place, who returned from Sunday morning, reached the scene of the wreck a few moments after the accident occurred and brought the two young ladies to Millersburg. Mr. Kreiner's arm was broken, but the rest of the party escaped with slight bruises, although one of the women was pinned under the car.

Says Spring Lambs Will Be High This Season

The lightest price ever realized in America for lamb was reached next spring and summer for choice selections from the Kentucky and Tennessee crops is the prediction of J. E. Poole of Chicago, associate editor of the "Breeders' Gazette" and the "Chicago Livestock World," who was the principal speaker at the Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association branch of the Farmers' Week meeting, which was held at State University and the experiment station last week. The crowd of farmers listened with close attention to Mr. Poole.

It is the opinion of Mr. Poole that Southern sheep growers are exceptionally fortunate in their flocks, city also runs business and high school principals there. But who shouldn't they attend this great educational week at our Kentucky University?

Thursday afternoon we listened to Miss Buckman's address on "Sewing and Hat Making for the High School Department." She also had a class of girls demonstrate hat making.

Friday Miss Agnes Highland, teacher at the Locust Grove school, and six of the pupils of her domestic science class, Hattie and Fannie McClary, Glenn and Mary Stone, Clayton and Letta Cannon, attended meeting. Most of these girls have been able to try as teaching domestic science, that is school lunches, cooking on oil stove, a kitchen cabinet with all kind of cooking utensils, and a number of dishes prepared by the patrons of the school, and they are not only studying it in theory, but they practice and serve lunches, which are cooked by the domestic science class, to the parents.

Miss Sweeney and the rest of the faculty of the Domestic Science Department of Kentucky University were so delight-ed because Miss Highland and her pupils came that they entertained them to luncheon soon and then treated the children, giving each of the pupils of the Locust Grove school for permitting their children to take this trip for it will be worth a great deal to them.

Several high schools were represented, and talks given by their principals. Some of them are doing wonderful work in cooking, sewing and agriculture. We are sorry that the Nicholas county high school children are not taking this vocational education because most of them will continue to live on the farm and they would be happier for having learned these subjects in a scientific way.

Judge Barker, as president of Kentucky University is improving every phase of our education—4 departments and he is ably supported by an excellent faculty.

I don't see how leaders in educational work can afford to miss such feasts of educational food. Hats are to be had at Kentucky University each first week in January. Next year we hope to take every teacher in the county, especially the Domestic Science Day, and we hope next year other schools will do practical cooking and sewing so the pupils can go.

Next teachers' meeting and pay day will be January 23.

A splendid meeting of trustees was held Monday in the auditorium of the school. A large number were present. An account of the meeting will be given later.

I shall be out visiting schools until Saturday.

Tobacco Sales For Past 4 Months Are Reported

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 14.—Reports of the sales of tobacco by the warehouses for the months of August, September, October and November have been filed by the warehousemen with Commissioner of Agriculture Newman. These reports are made under an act passed by the last General Assembly which provides on or before fifth day of each month the proprietors of a warehouse shall make a statement under oath of all the tobacco sold upon the floor of his warehouse during the past month and shall designate how the total number of pounds of such tobacco was divided between types and varieties of tobacco.

The reports for August, September, October and November are:

Burley tobacco sold for growers, 96,465 pounds; average, $8.50 1-2 per one hundred pounds.

Burley tobacco sold for dealers, 2,207,230. Average, $6.56 5-6.

Burley tobacco re-sold, 1,903,640 pounds. Average, $8.90 7-8.

Think This Over

When a newspaper gives you a lot of free advertising in order to make some interest in advertisement in which you are interested, keep track of the items that are printed week by week and multiply that number by the regular advertising rates of the paper. Compare the total with the actual money value of any favor that you get from any other business concern. Then take into consideration the fact that advertising and circulation are the only two things that a newspaper has to sell. Are these days of high prices, how much do you think it ought to give away? —Exch.

Fire Makes Two Attempts at Home Of W. H. Cannon

The family of W. H. Cannon, who lives on Cassiday, were awakened one night last week to find the door in front of the hearth in a blaze. Mr. Cannon succeeded in extinguishing the fire, after it had burned quite a hole in the floor, and going back to bed, was again awakened by a repetition of the attempt of the fire in the same place.

After the second experience, Mr. Cannon and family decided that sleep was out of the question and sat up the rest of the night.

The fire, it is supposed, started from the reflected heat of the grate, in which a big fire was burning.

Rural School News

Last Thursday your county superintendent went to Lexington to attend the close of Farmers and Special Educational Week at State University. We were entertained by Pres. Henry S. Barker and wife, and Miss Bess Dean, Dean of Women of State University. Thursday morning I listened to excellent addresses by Prof. Alvin Miss Mary E. Sweeney and and Miss Chinn on the various phases of economics from the standpoint of the producer and consumer. Friday morning I gave my quota of the information I had received.

We were surprised to find so many county and city superintendents, city and rural teachers and high school principals there. But why shouldn't they attend this great educational week at our Kentucky University?

Thursday afternoon we listened to Miss Buckman's address on "Sewing and Hat Making for the High School Department." She also had a class of girls demonstrate hat making.

Finest Watch In Lexington Given To Cooper

It is estimated that five thousand Lexington people heard L. T. Cooper, the man who created such widespread attention in the East, one evening recently. Cooper explained to the vast crowd the benefits on health and hygiene, accompanied by a unique demonstration of his celebrated preparation, Tanlac, which he is personally introducing in the larger American cities.

In connection with his visit to Kentucky, Cooper said: "I shall remain in Kentucky for only a short time. However, I shall give the people of this section of my country the same benefits as my study and my medicine that I have given the multitudes of New York, where I have been busy during the past year helping the hundred of thousands of suffering humanity in that great city.

"While here, I will prove to every one how easy it is to guard against the inroads of ill-health by guarding your stomach as carefully as you do some other features of your daily live.

"Catarrhal affections of the head, nose, throat and stomach, as well as the kidneys, produce a stuffed up condition of the vital organs, and nine times out of ten this trouble is responsible for most of the ill-health of we people of our day Americans. Faulty methods of living are back of this all, and it is never too late to be correct our faults.

"Tanlac, the wonderful medicine that I am introducing to correct this condition, I believe to be the best thing of the kind on the American market today. This fact has been proven throughout the great Eastern cities, as well as right here in Lexington, where hundreds of people are already realizing the surprising results from its use.

"They all testify that Tanlac has a peculiarly grateful effect, seems to go right to the desired spot, warms up the entire system, and gives great strength and development where it is most needed—correcting all of the ills and weaknesses which come from years of misuse of the vital and digestive organs."

Cooper exhibited a handsomely engraved gold watch, studded with forty-seven cut diamonds, and which is valued at $1,000, which was given to him as a token of appreciation by a prominent jeweler, whose son was relieved by Tanlac.

The celebrated Tanlac is sold exclusively in Carlisle by Tureman & Son, druggists.

Obituary

In loving memory of Capt. J. W. Herndon, of Carlisle, Ky., who died December 5, 1914, in his 74th year.

He is gone but not forgotten, and his voice from us is silent. And now there is a vacant place that never can be filled.

But he is singing with the angels as those resting in pure bright.

Where there is no pain nor sorrow, nor and no tears to dim our sight.

He was a kind and loving father, never sorry, never sad,

But always had a word of welcome to make everybody glad.

And at last it all his suffering, never did he once complain,

Stood it all with, oh, such courage never shrank from ache or pain.

And at last it all his children, will be faithful and true,

We shall meet him up in heaven with our other loved ones, too.

yer by profession, it was newspaper work that brought him into contact with the lawless feudists of the Kentucky mountains and that is a vocation which proved responsible for the plot of his story.

It is rare for a man of Mr. Buck's youth to be the author of a hundred thousand seller, but "The Call of the Cumberlands" has already passed that moment.

The story has been dramatized and the play has met with unusual success throughout the country.

We have secured "The Call of the Cumberlands" as our next serial and the first installment will be out in an early issue.

A Kentucky Feudist

A TYPICAL backwoods mountaineer, but with the soul and genius of a poet, is the leading character of our new serial. He is a member of a feudist clan, brought to avenge the deaths of his ancestors. His introduction to modern civilization, his transformation to a man of law and order and his efforts toward regenerating his people are entertainingly told in

The Call of the Cumberlands

In addition to the many stirring incidents with which the story abounds there is a capital love story that will appeal to the women.

If you like a good story don't miss the first installment.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
