Mrs. J. H. Robinson Tells How She Benefited From Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., July 1.— Miss Fannie H. Robinson, of the millinery firm of Robinson & Blumer at 1626 West Market street, this city, a successful and widely known business woman, says she found relief from Tanlac after trying other remedies with no permanent benefit.

"I was in a run-down condition," she exclaimed recently, "and I seemed to have very poor circulation. I suffered from severe headaches, and my sleep was uneasy. I was nervous and lacked energy.

"I tried different physicians and different remedies, without getting any relief. One day a friend said to me, 'Why not get a bottle of Tanlac? Everyone says it is fine.' I tried that I one a great deal to the person who suggested that to me. My trouble has disappeared since I began taking this medicine. I am full of energy and vigor, eat heartily and sleep like a child. My nerves are in fine shape, and my friends have noticed what a change has come over me. Tanlac did it all, and I am glad to say so publicly."

Tanlac, the peerless preparation, is of especial value for its tonic qualities. In cases of impaired appetite, sleeplessness, faulty circulation, nervous trouble and rheumatism it has proved of remarkable benefit, as scores have testified.

This remedy is now on sale in Carlisle at Tarbox & Son's drug store.

Traveling Man's Experience

"In the summer of 1881 I had a very severe attack of cholera morbus. Two physicians worked over me from 4 a. m. to 9 p. m. without giving me any relief and then told me they did not expect me to live; that I had best telegraph for my family. Instead of doing so, I gave the hotel porter fifty cents and told him to buy me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and take no substitute. I took a double dose according to the directions and went to sleep after the second dose. At five o'clock the next morning I was called by my orderly and took a train to my next stopping point, a well man but feeling rather shaky from the severity of the attack," writes H. W. Ireland, Louisville, Ky. Obtainable everywhere.

THE CARLISLE MERCURY.

ESTABLISHED 1867--OLDEST NEWSPAPER IN NICHOLAS COUNTY

VOL. L. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 8, 1915 EIGHT PAGES—NO 26

COMMENT

In looking over some old papers last week we found a copy of THE MERCURY of July 4, 1912, a permit of which proved most interesting. Some of the items which appeared in that issue are reproduced below:

A new base ball club is about to be organized in Carlisle, and the first nine will be composed of the following young gentlemen: Ezra Howe, John Carter, P. S. Adair, Wm. Dinsmore, Robert Sims, S. M. Waugh, Milton Hopkins, Tommie Dinsmore and Moses Gienn. We can count upon it soon ranking as one of the very best clubs in the country. John Carter is captain—an excellent selection.

The Kimbrough House bar will open on Monday next. (County Court day), one barrel of John T. Redmon's celebrated eight-year old whiskey.

An announcement at the head of the local column, which shows that the editor has been troubled in those days, as well as during the present stringent times, is the following:

There is considerable money owing us, and we have pressing need for all we can get. Let those owing us take the hint and settle. Don't wait for personal duns on Court Day, but call at the office and pay up.

The temperance question came in for its share of attention in those days, too:

A grand temperance picnic will be given by members and friends of the Order today, July 4th, at the Parks' woods on the M. & L. R. R., near Larking River. All good Templars and their sweethearts are invited to be present with a well filled basket spring chicken, pies and other good things

This one sounds good:

Owing to the decline in price of all kinds of cattle in the Kentucky House, has reduced day board, to the astonishingly low price of three dollars per week.

At Long Branch, New York, Longfellow defeats Harry Basset in a dash of 400 miles. Time 4:24. So intense was the interest in this race, that THE MERCURY got out an "Extra" when the news came on July 3, 1872. The following is a paragraph from the description of the race, as it was printed in the extra edition on the 3rd and reprinted in the regular edition on the 4th:

As the horses warming into their stride, passed the grand stand, the excitement arose to fever pitch. The first mile and a half found their positions (head and head) unchanged, but the backers of Basset had misgivings as their favorite was doing his best, while it seemed that Longfellow was still being held in by his rider. Their fears were confirmed when the horses swept past the grand stand the second time. Longfellow's rider gave his head to the horse, who gallantly responded, and quickly placed two lengths between himself and Bassett. The scene was indescribable. Men threw their hats into the air and cheered wildly; while the ladies waved their handkerchiefs and bet countless pairs of gloves on John Harper's steed. From this moment it was evident that all was up with Bassett and although his rider used whip and spur without stint, it was of no avail. Every moment Longfellow increased his lead and landed an easy winner in 4:24 or, as some of the judges claim, in 4:23.

MARRIES IN BALTIMORE

Mrs. Irene Royse Of Nicholas Marries A Baltimore Tanner Last Week

Baltimore, Md., July 1.—Freed from his wife who obtained an absolute divorce from him at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Joseph Towson, Ludwig W. Hoffman got a license and was married to Mrs. Irene M. Royse, formerly of Carlisle, Ky., who was named as co-respondent in the divorce proceedings, before the clock had struck the noon hour. As a matter of fact, the license was obtained by Hoffman fifteen minutes after Judge McLane had signed the divorce decree, and the couple were married less than a quarter of an hour later.

In the application for the marriage license Hoffman, who is a prominent tanner, gave his age as forty-three years, while Mrs. Rose gave hers as twenty-five and said she had been divorced at Carlisle, Ky., in 1912.—[Lexington Leader.

The Craw-Fish Sign

Old people who watch signs in discerning the weather for the future are confident that we are to have a wet summer. The predictions are based upon the fact the craw-fish are not building mounds this spring, but end the holes abruptly at the top of the ground. This sign is relied upon absolutely by many people and according to them is unfailing. In seasons when the weather is to be dry the crawfish build high mounds. By the fact that they have no mounds at all this spring is indicated that the summer will be exceedingly wet.—Bourbon News.

Mr. Linville recently sold his farm near Carlisle and will take possession of his recent purchase in March, when he and his family will move to the farm to reside.—[Bourbon News.]

HOLTING THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

ADVERTISEMENT.

I

"Politics makes strange bedfellows."

You are with the man today you despised and abused yesterday. Men change but principles are unchangeable, indestructible.

To good government, parties are absolutely necessary.

Before parties can exercise any great influence or become dominant factors in the science or administration of popular government it is absolutely necessary that they formulate and promulgate a declaration of principles by which they will be governed and upon which they will rise or fall.

II

When these principles have been adopted in a platform they become the law of that political organization.

No member, great or small, has the right to violate or transgress this party law either in whole or in part.

He must live up to the declaration of principles or abandon the party organization.

If he lives up to the principles adopted, he is entitled to the respect, admiration and support of his party. If he deviates from those principles, or declares that he is not in sympathy with them he should relinquish all claims to the support and confidence of organization individually or collectively.

In short he would join some other party founded and organized upon principles in harmony with his opinions and beliefs. If he does not do this he is not true to himself, his state or his country and is universally regarded as the party and its nominees principle.

III

A man who refuses to vote for a Democrat who has been nominated in a Democratic primary participates in the primary or convention which gave to this person his nomination, is characterized as a bolter, is branded as a deserter and held up to the ridicule and criticism, the scorn and contempt of those who believe in party law, party discipline, and party supremacy and loyalty.

The nominee of a party can never be an object of pity.

If it were so you would reverse the order of things, for from the beginning of time, God or the Creator has been greater and grander than the created.

IV

In 1911 in the city of Louisville the Democrats of Kentucky in convention assembled decreed in favor of extending the county unit so as to include all of the counties of the Commonwealth. This decree was adopted by an overwhelming majority. Don't neglect a cut, sore, bruise or hurt because it's small. Blood Poison has resulted from a pin-prick or scratch. For all such ailments Bucklen's Arnica Salve is excellent. It protects and heals the hurt; is antiseptic, kills infection and prevents dangerous complications. PARIS PASTOR SCORES DANCE

Rev. Mangum, Baptist Preacher, Says Recent Dance In Paris "Disgraceful"

Paris, Ky., June 30.—Paris society received a hard jolt Sunday night, when the Rev. O. E. Mangum, pastor of the Paris Baptist Church, severely reproved the conduct of a number of young men and women at a subscription dance given at the Masonic Hall Thursday night. No utterance from the pulpit in Paris has caused the comment and called for strong from this castigation. As a result the Masonic Order has placed a ban in the future on such dances.

In the course of his sermon Mr. Mangum said:

"It was one of the most disgraceful dances ever held in Paris. There actually was drinking of whiskey and beer were brought over from Lexington and nearly all of the young men were under the influence of whiskey, but, in spite of this, what of the ladies continued to dance until an early hour. Of course, such an affair could only end in a fight, and the police were called in to break it up. Each one of the public dances is more disgraceful than its predecessor and I consider how much longer the respectable people of Paris will attend them.

"If all of the reports are true, the time has already come when no really respectable woman will dare to go to that hall and allow herself to dance with a crowd of half drunken men. What has become of the womanly modesty, when such a thing could happen without a protest from them? Such was the character of the dance that the main restaurant of Paris was denied them and they had to go with policemen to guard. It is reported that the Masons will prohibit all future performances of like nature. If they do not, the Masonic Lodge at Paris is not what I have always believed it to be.

"And right here and now let me say to this church that, if, in an to remain your pastor all the dancers who are members of this church must do one of three things: Give up the dance, take their church letter or be excluded. We cannot temporize with it. I would feel myself a moral coward did I not protest against this indecency. And, further more, the respectable citizens of Bourbon county are moral cowards if they do not do all in their power to break up this wholesale lowering the liquor traffic. The

This is the first time in the history of the Paris pulpit that has preached from his pulpit such a scathing rebuke to the Paris society is saphael. A few claim that his remarks were unnecessarily strong, but the great majority are congratulating Mr. Mangum and promising him their moral support.

The sermon raised quite a storm in Paris among the chaperones and promoters of the dance, who, Friday, met and adopted the following resolutions:

Paris, Kentucky, July 2, 1915.

Whereas, the Rev. O. E. Mangum, pastor of the Baptist Church of Paris, in a sermon delivered by him on Sunday night, June 27, did make certain untrue and scurrilous assertions in regard to the character of the young men and women who attended the dance, and

Whereas, the said pastor made these untrue assertions, wholly on hearsay evidence and without any attempt to verify the truth of the same, therefore, be it

Resolved that we, the promoters and promoters of said dance, declare that said assertions were untrue and without the least basis of fact. Taking advantage of his position, he wilfully and maliciously slandered the young men and women of our city, as well as that of our visitors. Furthermore, he has caused said untrue and scurrilous assertions to be published in the public press.

Resolved, that we demand of Mr. Mangum a retraction of his untrue statements, the same to be given equal publicity in his pulpit and the papers."

Brotherhood Of Locomotive Engineers Endorse Prohibition

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in national convention at Cleveland, Ohio, last week endorsed state and national prohibition, by the unanimous vote of its over 800 delegates, representing over 50,000 locomotive engineers in all parts of the United States and Canada.

Drunken Men And Loafers Rare Sights

(E. E. Mattox, Manager Summit City Shoe Company.)

We as a business firm are, of course, opposed to licensed saloons or the sale of intoxicating liquors, and we feel that we can give an honest and fair statement of our observation of the effect that prohibition has had in West Virginia after a short trial.

We feel safe in saying that saloons were conducted in Bluefield as nearly in conformity to the law as in any city in existence, and the evil arising from the liquor traffic were not as great as in many other cities of similar size. We also feel in justice in stating that there is not one-fourth of liquor consumed in Bluefield that was consumed here under license.

The appearance of a drunken man is so rare that it causes comment. The moral effect prohibition has on our city is wonderful. Practically no loafers are on the streets.

The criminal docket is very small compared with the days of the licensed saloon, and the police force has been greatly reduced. In other words we now have a city to be proud of. It is almost certain that the better people would not have license under any considerations.

The buildings formerly occupied by saloons were soon filled with desirable lines of business. We find people buying goods and saving for them who were not able to do so when we had license. Prohibition in West Virginia does Prohibit and is proving a great success.

We hope to see the time when every state in the Union will fall in line with Old West Virginia and enact laws whereby neither the manufacture nor sale of intoxicating liquors will be allowed.

Three Minnesota Counties Outlaw Liquor Traffic; Pole, Carlton and Lincoln Enter White List

With startling rapidity the counties of Minnesota under the new country option law are outlawing the liquor traffic. The latest victory occurred on May 24 when Pole, Carlton and Lincoln counties voted to outlaw the saloons. The passing of Pole county into the dry column is almost as much of a factor as was Clay county, recorded last week. It is looked on in South Dakota and has been a hindrance to law enforcement in that state. Since the county option law went into effect twelve counties have added to the list of dry counties.

LIQUOR WITHOUT A FRIEND

E. S. Pedigo

Three months after the closing of the saloons in Bluefield there was a marked improvement in retail trade conditions, especially noticeable in substantial and cash sales. From conversations had with other merchants, I feel assured that even if there were nothing to be considered but the business point of view, not one of these merchants would vote to have the saloons re-opened, and certainly there has been a great improvement in the morals of the city.

Byron Here

Senator W. A. Byron, of Bracken county, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor was here last week. Senator Byron has always been prominent in public affairs in this district. He was a member of the school board in Bracken county for eight years, and State Senator from his district. He passed the law increasing the school term from 5 to 6 months; made a strong fight to organize the farmers in the tobacco movement, having made several speeches in Nicholas county and in the city of Carlisle. Senator Byron says that he feels that his chances for nomination are good.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF KENTUCKY

JAMES P. EDWARDS.

In accepting the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of Kentucky, I do so with a full realization of the importance of the office and the responsibility of the Democratic voters of our party in nominating me for it. I am a Democrat because I believe that the Democratic party in the Kentucky Democratic solidarity represents the best and most practical principles of government, and I am ready to do my part in the work of the party in connection with the other nominees.

I believe that the only just government is that which derives its power from the consent of the governed, and that the Democratic party represents the best and most practical effort in the greatest degree of individual liberty and equal rights to all that has been made in the history of the world. I believe in the tariff denounceable in fact, all the tariff denounceable in fact, all the tariff denounceable in fact, all
