

THE HORSEMANSHIP. There is hardly a person of any body that is not acquainted with the horse and his uses. The horse is the most useful and most valuable animal that we have. He is the mainstay of the human race, and without him we could not get on in this world. He is the most intelligent of all animals, and he is the most obedient. He is the most useful of all animals, and he is the most valuable. He is the most intelligent of all animals, and he is the most obedient. He is the most useful of all animals, and he is the most valuable.
