VOL. XIII. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1879. NO. 46.

WEBSTER AND WEBSTER.

BY A. LINCOLN.

My confession is the acknowledgment of many foolish things; the relation of my follies and faults, and the recital of my sins and transgressions.

"Repenting, he sinned not; yea, rather, he sinned not in repenting."

My sins are so numerous as to be innumerable; they are more than the hairs of my head, and double that of my reckonings.

My follies have been so great, and so many, that they have swallowed up my wisdom and righteousness, and left me destitute.

Yea, I have become like unto a fool, and my heart is full of folly.

I went into the marriage state, and there I begat children, and they were fools.

Their mother was a fool, and her name was Folly.

Her father was foolishness personified, and he had no understanding.

Her mother was a fool, and she was the daughter of a fool, and her name was Folly.

Her brothers were fools, and her sisters were fools, and her kindred were fools.

Her father begat children, and they were fools.

Her mother begat children, and they were fools.

Her children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.

Her children's children begat children, and they were fools.
