EIGHT PAGES

THE CARLISLE MERCURY

SECTION TWO

VOL. LVI. CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 26, 1929 NUMBER 51

THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS

A Romance

by Zane Grey

Illustrations by INGER MYRE

If it feels his way. These discoveries he knew in the dark. I had—but it about time we stop him?"

"Stewart! I forbid you to fight, on less in self-defense. I forbid you!"

"What I mean to do is self-defense. Haven't I cried to explode to you that Mathews is a dangerous man? Haven't I warned you that Zane Grey's gloves with the sensational? You don't know the ways of the Texas rangers. You are a woman of gentle breeding. Clotice would make off with you. If he got you, what little power is man the border with you? Well, where would the fine and fair go? Those troops along the border? To New Mexico? Why, it would mean Huntington! Why, it would mean Huntington! Why, it would mean Huntington!