Effects of the Outrage Mill on Elections.

(From the Cincinnati Enquirer.)

As we look over and into the philosophy of the late election in Ohio, we can not fail to see a few facts in it that are wholly outside of it. The Chisholm killings and the Dixon killings and the Yazoo plans are too good electioneering arguments for Republicans to be neglected by any but the enemy. Democrats can not afford to furnish them.

It does not matter that the killing by an individual is not the killing by a party. It does not matter that similar acts of violence are every day committed in the Northern States. It does not matter whether or not the killing was justifiable in the eye of the law. The effect is the same.

What is Portaline?

This question is thus briefly and truthfully answered. Portaline, or Tabler's Vegetable Liver Powder, derives its name from the fact it regulates those portals of the body through which the most dangerous diseases make their entrance into the human system. Simple roots and herbs, for which we are indebted to bountiful nature, have been scientifically combined and presented as a cure to all suffering with Constipation, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, and all diseases arising from a torpid liver. Price 50 cents a package. For sale by Tureman & Howell.

JUBILATE DEO.

Dedication of the New Baptist Church.

The long-looked-for dedication day of our Baptist brethren has come and gone, and another completed church, erected to the worship of the living God, points its tapering spire heavenward beneath the glowing tints of a bright October sun. What can be said of the day itself; indeed, what unlimited pen could depict such a glorious day—when heaven and earth seemed blending into one. By the hour of eleven every seat in the church, and every extra chair which could be placed in the aisles, had been filled. The new furnace worked to a charm, diffusing an agreeable warmth throughout the auditorium, while the upper sash were sufficiently lowered to admit a supply of pure, fresh air. The young gentlemen ushers, Messrs. John McMahill, James Kenney, Robert and Galther Smith and Rankin Rowell, performed their duties courteously and with alacrity. The services, under charge of Rev. A. N. White, were opened by the choir singing the sublime sentence: "The Lord Is in His Holy Temple," followed by reading of the scriptures by Rev. Mr. Newton, pastor of the M. E. Church. Invocation by Rev. A. N. White, after which the well-known hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Next came the reading from 1st Kings, 8th Chapter, a part of Solomon's prayer at the dedication of the Temple, by Rev. Mr. Stackhouse, followed by prayer from Rev. Mr. Newton. After the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee," Rev. T. C. Stackhouse, of Lexington, preached the dedication sermon from the 118th Psalm and 25th verse: "O, Lord, I beseech thee to send now prosperity." From this text the speaker proceeded to set forth the conditions of church prosperity. Many distinguished divines have preached in Carlisle on divers occasions, but we doubt whether any one has ever delivered a more terse, logical and eloquent discourse in any of our pulpits. It was indeed a splendid piece of oratory, brilliant in thought, abounding in metaphor and glowing with the

CUSSEDNESS ON CASSIDAY.

Pres. Kendall Dangerously Stabs John Shannon.

About sundown last Thursday evening a difficulty occurred between Pres. Kendall and John Shannon, at the latter's house, on Cassiday Creek, which may result fatally. Shannon was carved in an inhuman and painful manner. After the affray Kendall rode to town, where he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Herrin. We met him on Thursday morning, but he refused to be interviewed, stating that he was compelled to do what he did, and exhibited a gash on the back of his head, evidently made by being struck with a stone.

SHANNON'S STATEMENT.

The wounded man being visited at his house on Friday afternoon, made the following statement:

The wounds in my body and arm and fingers were made with a knife in the hands of Presley Kendall on October 23, 1879, here near my house. I was beaten over the head and face with a pistol in the hands of Presley Kendall at the same time, and was shot at three times by Kendall. He cursed and abused me about two years ago because I bought a piece of land. He said that I undermined him in the buying of it. I heard that he threatened to burn my house logs. On October 23, 1879, he came down through my place and I told my wife to tell him that I did not want him to come through here any more, he had treated me so badly. So he came up here in the evening. I met him at the hog pen and asked him what he had been abusing me so much about, and he said that when anybody promised him anything that he wanted them to give it. I told him that I wanted him to stop cursing me and he began cursing me then, and I told him he must stop. So I got over the fence with a rock in each hand, and he drew his knife out. He got off his horse before I got over the fence. His horse was between me and him. I went around on the side of the horse where he was. He ran up and cut me before I had offered to throw the rock, and cut me on the arm. I then threw one rock at him, but missed him. I don't know whether the second one I threw struck him or not. After this he shot at me three times. Before he shot the third time I had started toward him, but had nothing in my hands. After shooting at me he ran up and stabbed me across the bowels and in the breast; then he knocked me down with his pistol and cut me again.

The musical burlesque "General Grant's Trip Around the World," will be a feature, concluding with the great allegorical picture, "Europe and America," and the famous extravaganza, entitled, "The Rehearsal; or Merry-Making." Admission, 35 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents, to be secured at Tureman & Howell's. Piper's Hall. Don't get left. Crowd in.
