LETTER FROM FRANKFORT.

Special Correspondence of the Mercury:

FRANKFORT, KY., Feb. 2, 1880.

The city is again quiet, after the primary held on Saturday. Carlisle is a sober place on election days as compared to this place.

Attorney Kennedy was on the streets Thursday and Friday last.

Representative B. F. Reynolds is at Hopkinsville, he being one of the committee sent by the Legislature to visit the lunatic asylum at that place.

John T. Raymond's troupe was in the city Friday night. On Monday night the famous vocalist, Julia A. Hunt, a native of Fleming County, was here.

Up to Monday there has been 152 bills introduced in the Senate and 218 in the House.

A bill passed the House Saturday allowing jurors pay in Magistrates' and other inferior courts.

An act for the benefit of John Scott, of Fleming, allowed him to peddle in that county without license.

The act for the benefit of Mrs. John M. Elliott has passed both houses, allowing her $5,000, to be paid in five annual installments.

An act reducing salaries in most of the public offices has passed the House and is ready to be sent to the Senate. It places the salaries as follows: Governor, $4,000; Secretary of State $1,200; Treasurer, $2,000; Librarian, $1,000; Register of Land Office, $1,500; Judges of the Court of Appeals, $3,500 each; Judges of the Circuit Courts, $2,000 each. As to the offices of Governor, Judges of the Court of Appeals and Circuit Judges, the act will not take effect until the terms of office of present incumbents have expired. The House manifests a willingness to cut down salaries of public officers, &c., and seems bent on retrenchment and re-...
