KENTUCKY NEWS BRIEFS

71,697 people attended the Blue Grass fair at Lexington last week.

The Kentucky Fox Hunters' Association annual fall meeting will be held at Richmond October 15-17.

Ralph G. Euler, an attorney of Indianapolis, died on a C. & O. sleeper near Ashland last Saturday.

The 94th annual meeting of the Disciples of Christ in Kentucky will be held at the Christian church at Dawson Springs September 27 to 30.

One man was killed and damage estimated at $50,000 was done in a fire early Saturday morning which destroyed the tipple of a coal mine near Hazard.

Mrs. Nannie A. Schaeffer, 78 years old, died at a Lexington hospital Sunday night from injuries suffered several days before when she was struck by an automobile.

Mrs. Claude Fitzwater, 21 years old, was painfully wounded Sunday afternoon at her home in Cynthiana when a pistol which she tossed from a room accidentally exploded.

Thomas S. Ehrn, Kentucky financier, president of a bank at Louisville and former State Treasurer, has been named as chairman of the speakers bureau of the State Democratic Campaign Committee.

An argument between two women resulted in the killing of Wade Gordard, 47, and the wounding of Mrs. Rose King, 34, and her son, Ed King, 20, at an entertainment at a school house in Pulaski county Friday.

Henry Portwood, Jr., of Midway, University of Kentucky football player, was taken into a Lexington hospital Sunday night with a shotgun wound which he is alleged to have sustained in a fight in Scott county.

After the driver of an automobile crashed into a car driven by J. W. Brim, of Newport, near Cynthiana, last week, the driver of the Bell county car sent away several cars of Mountaineer whisky and made his escape.

James Linden, 37, Fayette county farmer, died at a Lexington hospital Saturday from accidental poisoning believed to have been caused from eating tomatoes from a can which had been sprayed with a chemical to kill insects.

The College of Law of the University of Kentucky for the year is confined to five rooms on the top floor of the Natural Science building, will be housed in a newly remodeled building containing 14 rooms at the beginning of the February of the coming school year.

Mrs. Mary Buster Allison, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Clapbrook, last week filed suit in the Mason circuit court against the Bank of Maysville, executor of the estate of Mrs. Clapbrook, and her sister, Mrs. Robert Utter, charging undue influence was exerted on Mrs. Clapbrook when she made her will which left the bulk of her estate estimated at $150,000 to Mrs. Utter.

ADVERTISING SOLD CANS

More than 1,100,000 cans of salmon were used during a national newspaper advertising campaign this year, as compared with 290,000 cans during a corresponding period in 1925, when no advertising campaign was used, the American Salmon Packers report.

MONEY ORDER RECEIVED SENT 23 YEARS AGO

(Lexington Herald)

Thomas Brown, postmaster of Millersburg, received through the mail last week a money order issued in Athens, Ohio, March 24, 1903, to J. P. Barker at Millersburg for the sum of $25.

The order, long misplaced in transit, had just found its way to the office for payment.

The form of the money order of that time did not include the name of the sender and Mr. Barker, who is now a resident of Monticello, Ark., does not know by whom it was sent the $25.

As the payment is needed at the local office after one year the mail will have to be taken to Washington, D. C.

The money order bears the signature of the Athens postmaster C. D. Coe, by clerk, and was currently filled out but just where it has been for more than 23 years is the mystery.

THE APPLE CROP MAY PROVE FAILURE

The apple crop of Robertson, which gave promise of being the biggest on record, may prove to be almost a total failure in the windup. Only a few farmers in the county sprayed their orchards and as a result people are falling rapidly and those remaining on the farms are of very inferior quality. This should prove a lesson to all who have orchards, and let them join together next season, secure necessary operators and company mixtures, and give attention to their orchards. Thousands of dollars have been invested by our people in fruit trees and they should be preserved.—Mt. Gilead Tribune-Democrat.

MEN BURIED ALIVE BY CAVE-IN OF CITIES

The Maysville Independent carries the following account of the accident in which a workman lost his life in Maysville last week, when sand poured into the ditch in which the men were working, burying them alive:

"Henry Shaffer, 16, was smothered to death yesterday morning when a trench at the Boley warehouse of plant caved in caishing him and his companion worker, James Mack, 20, who narrowly escaped with his life and were it to the work of rescuers who flocked to the scene soon after the weighty sand fallen in upon them.

Mack remained held fast by his sand from 10:10 a. m. until 11:00 a. m., when he was lifted from the trench and carried swiftly to the hospital by the P. W. Porter & Son ambulance where Dr. A. R. Pugsley made an examination and found that the man had not sustained any serious injury and no bones were broken, but he complained of some pain about the body especially where the rope was passed around him.

As soon as Mack was removed the workmen turned to the rescue of the fellow worker for J. H. Hutchings was the first to enter the trench after Mack had been removed and in fingering about in the sand he discovered the hold of Shaffer and he brushed the sand from his head and the rescuers soon been that the man was dead. Soon many of them volunteers, then began the tedious work of removing the body for the trench was sand moved in almost as fast as it was removed. The sides of the trench had to be braced and the opening widened to keep another slide from occurring and covering the rescuers. Ropes had to be stretched to keep back the hundreds of anxious people who came to the place, all of them willing to do anything to assist in the rescue. There were men and women, boys and girls, from all parts of the city.

A rope was placed about the man's body to keep the sand from sliding deeper into the sand, and little by little his body and limbs were released until at 12:15 p. m., two hours and five minutes after the accident, the body was removed and placed on a couch.

Shaffer and Mack were employed by Mr. J. C. Cannon, contractor, and were engaged in laying a sewer for service of the warehouses at the time of the accident. The man had been at work since seven o'clock and were leveling out the bottom of a 15-foot trench at the northwest corner of Warehouse No. 2 of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association on the east end of the city. The soil was wet and with sawdust mixed with it, making it slippery and treacherous. The top of the trench was wide, there could be no any slipping in from that section, but in clearing away the loose soil from the bottom of the trench in order to make room for the sewer pipe, it gave room for the sand to squeeze in from the bottom and it did so quickly that the two men were buried.

Mr. Fred Watson, the foreman of work, had left the Mason county court against the Bank of Maysville, executor of the estate of Mrs. Clapbrook, and her sister, Mrs. Robert Utter, charging undue influence was exerted on Mrs. Clapbrook when she made her will which left the bulk of her estate estimated at $150,000 to Mrs. Utter.

ADVERTISING SOLD CANS

More than 1,100,000 cans of salmon were used during a national newspaper advertising campaign this year, as compared with 290,000 cans during a corresponding period in 1925, when no advertising campaign was used, the American Salmon Packers report.

MONEY ORDER RECEIVED SENT 23 YEARS AGO

(Lexington Herald)

Thomas Brown, postmaster of Millersburg, received through the mail last week a money order issued in Athens, Ohio, March 24, 1903, to J. P. Barker at Millersburg for the sum of $25.

The order, long misplaced in transit, had just found its way to the office for payment.

The form of the money order of that time did not include the name of the sender and Mr. Barker, who is now a resident of Monticello, Ark., does not know by whom it was sent the $25.

As the payment is needed at the local office after one year the mail will have to be taken to Washington, D. C.

The money order bears the signature of the Athens postmaster C. D. Coe, by clerk, and was currently filled out but just where it has been for more than 23 years is the mystery.

THE APPLE CROP MAY PROVE FAILURE

The apple crop of Robertson, which gave promise of being the biggest on record, may prove to be almost a total failure in the windup. Only a few farmers in the county sprayed their orchards and as a result people are falling rapidly and those remaining on the farms are of very inferior quality. This should prove a lesson to all who have orchards, and let them join together next season, secure necessary operators and company mixtures, and give attention to their orchards. Thousands of dollars have been invested by our people in fruit trees and they should be preserved.—Mt. Gilead Tribune-Democrat.

COURT RULING ENDS TEXTBOOK WRANGLE.

The American Book Company has been ousted by the Funk & Wagnalls Company, in the federal court of New York, from interfering with the sale of Funk & Wagnalls' Standard Dictionary, adopted in 1924 by the State Textbook Commission for use in the common schools, State Superintendent McInerny Rhoades has been informed.

The commission gave the Funk & Wagnalls Company the contract on a "supplemental text" and the American Book Company contended that supplemental adoptions are only recommendations, the "basic texts" designated in the adoption of the county schools.

The American Book company got not a printed list of its events giving the hand adoption, mentioning its dictionary, which it contended among the local district and county superintendents. It asked to enjoin this state for Textbook Wagnalls Company through The Funk & Wagnalls Company, a New York concern.

It has been customary for textbook publishers to Commission awarding contracts for textbooks for five years to divide the list between "basal" and "supplemental" texts, and there has been a question whether the supplemental list should be determined by state superintendents, Mr. Rhoades said. The Funk & Wagnalls Company is the protection of the State Board of Education when it meets in a few days.

Tourist excursions are now running between the Netherlands and Southern Europe.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR CARLISLE CITY SCHOOL

(Continued from page one.)

Classics, Third Reader, 61 cents; Jones Spelling Book, Grade Three, 50 cents; Practical Drawing Book 1, 18 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 1, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 1, 56 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 1, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 2, 56 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 2, 60 cents; Webster's Elementary Spelling Book, 51 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 3, 60 cents; Writing Book 3, 20 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 2, 68 cents; Webster's Elementary Dictionary, $1.40; Progressive Music Series, Book 4, 60 cents; Writing Book 4, 20 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 3, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 3, 56 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 5, 60 cents; Writing Book 5, 20 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 4, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 4, 56 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 5, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 5, 56 cents; Fourth Reader, 61 cents; Practical Drawing Book 2, 18 cents; Jones Spelling Book, Grade Four, 50 cents; Practical Drawing Book 3, 18 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 6, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 6, 56 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 6, 60 cents; Writing Book 6, 20 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 7, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 7, 56 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 7, 60 cents; Writing Book 7, 20 cents; Fifth Reader, 61 cents; Practical Drawing Book 4, 18 cents; Jones Spelling Book, Grade Five, 50 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 8, 68 cents; Pilot Arithmetic, Book 8, 56 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 8, 60 cents; Writing Book 8, 20 cents; Sixth Reader, 61 cents; Practical Drawing Book 5, 18 cents; Jones Spelling Book, Grade Six, 50 cents; Essential Language Habits, Book 9, 68 cents; Progressive Music Series, Book 9, 60 cents; Writing Book 9, 20 cents; Emerson & Bender Physiology, 84 cents; Supplementary Reading, 10 cents; Supplementary Reading, 10 cents; Supplementary Reading, 10