THE TRAGEDY OF THE MOB

(Lexington Leader)

While the whole nation has been preparing out its gifts through the channel of the Red Cross and other organizations to assist those who in the Mississippi Valley, States have been made the victims of the great flood and the tears of the American people is stirred with profound sympathy by the plight of those whose loved ones have met a tragic and whose hardships have been so real, a mob in Mississippi, one of the States most seriously affected by the delays, has taken two colored men charged with a crime, but never tried or convicted, and hanged them in their insane fury.

Extra judicial executions by the mob when the guilt of the accused has been clearly established, when the delays of the law irritate the public mind, and when the criminal is put to death in a manner in way are without rational justification under democratic institutions and forms. Mob rule is no cure for corrupt courts, inefficient police officers, political judicial processes, or failure of justice in any direction, though these developments may offer some excuse to the individuals who compose the mob.

In the end the public has only itself to blame for such things. The people rule if they wish to rule, but if they neglect the prime duties of citizenship they can hope for nothing but bad government by politicians who have only selfish interests to serve and who are as in efficient and incompetent as they often are corrupt.

Civilization often seems to be but a thin veneer covering up the jungle instincts and passions. From time to time these horrible manifestations of brute fury give us glimpses into the depths from which man has been struggling for so many thousands of years. It is to be devoutly hoped that the State of Mississippi will undertake to punish as they deserve those who are guilty of this barbarous deed, and that, as in Georgia recently, the heavy hand of justice will fall upon the members of the mob and create a new sense of fear if not of respect for the processes of orderly justice.

LYRIC THEATRE

The blue grass seed crop in this country, stripping of which was completed last week, is said to be one of the lightest harvested in several years.

Yesterday, June 22, marked the official beginning of summer. Tuesday was the longest day of the year and the days will now gradually grow shorter.

The contractors started Tuesday afternoon to oil the Carlisle and Sharpsburg road and the Maysville and Lexington road from the city limits of Carlisle to Hillsborough.

A coop of chickens donated by citizens of Nicholas county for the rehabilitation work in the mountains, was shipped Wednesday afternoon by County Agent C. B. Elston.

Tax Commissioner Jim Will Martin has been appointed campaign chairman in Nicholas county for Robert T. Crowe, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Judge Flem D. Sampson, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, said a party of about ten friends were in Carlisle Wednesday in the interest of Judge Sampson's campaign.

Brownies Comedians, playing their annual engagement in Carlisle on the Piper lot this week, are having large attendance each night. "Brownie" and his troop have many warm friends throughout the county.

H. C. Chappell, of Middlesboro, editor and publisher of the Middlesboro Three States, and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Railroad Commissioner in this district, was in Carlisle yesterday in the interest of his race.

Coleman Harrey, who lacked only three percent of the necessary grade to graduate from the Carlisle high school this year was awarded his diploma last Friday morning: after he had passed a test in Geometry, that, as in Georgia recently, the heavy hand of justice will fall upon the members of the mob and create a new sense of fear if not of respect for the processes of orderly justice.

Thus Nicholas county will have a short tobacco crop this year seemingly assured. The rainy season prevailing around having prevented will be one cause of the shortage, but the scarcity of plants is the principal factor. It is said plants are scarcer than ever known and have caused many farmers to cut their proposed acreage in half.

At a special meeting of the city council Monday night, it was decided not to oil the streets until July 15, the day after the chautauqua ends. The delay was decided upon because of the American Legion picnic and the chautauqua. Two property owners on Main street were given until next Tuesday to construct water tables, and if the work is not completed by that time it will be done by the city.

The suit of W. I. Dorsey against R. G. Waldron, former manager of the Carlisle tomato canning plant, and the center suit of R. G. Waldron against Mr. Dorsey, as the result of the leasing of a building belonging to Mr. Dorsey, was settled in circuit court yesterday with a compromise verdict, the jury deciding in favor of both parties and dividing the court costs. This case has been tried twice previously in circuit court, both trials resulting in hung juries.

Harry Elmore, son of Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Elmore, has been playing sensational baseball for the University of Cincinnati club for the past three years in the outfield, has been signed up by the Detroit Tigers in the American League and will be sent to a minor league for further development. Elmore was a team mate of Ethan Allen, who is playing center field for the Cincinnati Reds, and is said by coaches to be as good ball player as Allen. While Elmore was attending the Carlisle high school he was a sensation in Central Kentucky base ball.

DAISIES

Over the shoulders and slopes of the dunes
I saw the white daisies go down to
A host in the sunshine, an army in June,
The people God sends us to set our hearts free.
The Bobolinks rallied them up from the dell,
The orioles whistled them out of the wood;
And all of their singing was "Earth, it is well!"
And all of their dancing was, "Life, thou art good!"
