LETTERS FROM MERCURY'S COUNTY CORRESPONDENTS

BARTERVILLE

"Here's to the chigger, not very much bigger, than the point of a very small pin; the bumps that he raises, make you scratch like all blazes, and the way that you swear is a sin."

Great anxiety has been felt for Robert Gaunce who so narrowly escaped death last week, by being thrown under a moving loaded auto coal truck and dangerously crushed under a front wheel. Hopes have been entertained for a final recovery.

A needed business improvement has been recently installed into our town here. It is a cream station, under management and manipulation of Mr. Veach Taylor.

The Barterville high school cordially invites all students within reach, to attend this school this fall, offering a course of study and instruction not to be excelled in the county, or state and pleasing success to students, who enroll.

A committee has been lately appointed to wait upon Mr. Butler Rhodes of the firm of J. T. Earlywine & Co., and ascertain, if possible, the date and to whom he will get married that we may authentically report it in The Mercury. Many friends interested.

Quite a light vote was polled here, as elsewhere, in the August state primary election. Republicans may have come out better, or at least should have, in the interest of their home man for Congress, Mr. A. R. Kendall, of Bailtwell.

MEETING FOR MEN ONLY AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY, AUGUST 12 AT 2:00 P. M.

Final preparation for a mass meeting for men only at the First Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, were made today. A thousand cards have been distributed over the town announcing this special service for men and boys. The age limit will be from 12 years old up.

The speaker, Brother Joe W. Hamp, of Atlanta, Ga., who has been preaching to packed houses every night for the past week, will bring a message on "THE DEVIL'S ARITHMETIC." This message has been delivered in many states throughout the north, south and west and has met with an almost unanimous vote of approval wherever delivered.

Big moral issues of a local state and national character are discussed in a fearless, frank and sincere manner. The applause at many places has been vociferous and deafening at some points of the address. Every man in this section is invited to be present and hear a message that has in it strength, virility and power.

It was announced last night that the speaker will on Saturday night take the people on a trip to China, Japan, the Philippines and the Hawaiian Islands, and lecture on the country and people as he observed it on a recent tour of the Orient. There is much that is humorous, pathetic, tragic, admirable and amazing in this trip. It is not a sermon, but a lecture and everybody is invited to come and go on the trip.

The speaker will bring on Sunday morning a message on the Book of Revelation and on Sunday night his closing message will be "Saying Good-bye to God." A large delegation is expected on Friday night from Maysville. The minister will speak on that occasion on the subject "Short Beds and Narrow Quilts."

Mr. Floyd Montgomery is in charge of the music and is furnishing program that are inspiring and helpful to each service. His solos are effective and greatly appreciated by the congregations. He plans a special program throughout the day for the closing day on Sunday. Extra chairs have been provided to accommodate all that the building will seat. There have been several additions to the church membership.

Pastor W. M. Hammond is pleased with the results of the meetings thus far and the widespread patronage on the part of the people of other denominations. He extends a hearty invitation to everyone to avail themselves of the closing days of the present series. —Adv. 1t

LYRIC THEATRE

See advertisement of Harper's Garage on Page 8.

Mr. Sidney Clay, of near Moorefield, threshed out 75 stacks of rye this week that made 90 bushels.

Parks Tilton has accepted a position as bookkeeper with Hinton & Construction Co., at Pineville. He will also assist in supervision of the work under construction.

The family of the late James S. Waugh moved last week from the residence of Mrs. Ella Metcalfe on Main St. to the residence of Mrs. Anna Lute Bryant on Maple.

The Mt. Sterling Advocate, of Tuesday, says: "W. Hoffman Wood of this city appears to have been defeated by Eva R. Kendall, of Nicholas county by less than 200 votes."

Carlisle and vicinity was visited by quite a severe electric and wind storm Saturday afternoon accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain and some hail. Not to the extent of damage to crops, however.

Marion Mathers has been elected assistant superintendent of the high school at Perks Mill, in Franklin county. Mr. Mathers is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, department of education.

The following property owners on Sycamore street are improving their property by the addition of concrete water tables: Mesdames Ella Ward, James Henry, Jett Pittman, D. M. Curry and Webb Buntin.

Dr. N. H. McKinney won three premiums on his Irish Setter dogs at the dog show at Harrodsburg last week. He won first prize on male puppy, second prize on female pup and third prize on best brace of dogs.

At the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, George C. Myers was elected city assessor for the ensuing year. Only routine business was transacted, a few claims being allowed in the usual reports being made.

John Squires Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reed; has accepted a position as teacher in the Van Lear high school for the coming term and will also be athletic director. Mr. Reed is a graduate of the Carlisle high school and of the University of Kentuck.

The large tobacco barn of Clarence Tapple, in Bourbon county was struck by lightning on Tuesday afternoon and burned to the ground. It contained all his farming implements and 200 bales of hay. He carried insurance but not enough to rebuild.

Mrs. Victor Martin suffered painful bruises about the head and body last Thursday night when she fell down a flight of steps leading to the basement from a room in her home. Mrs. Martin alighted on a concrete floor and her escape from more serious injury is fortunate.

It is understood that the State Road Department will at an early date widen the culverts on the Maysville & Lexington road. Another step to the safeguard the lives of the autoists. The guard rails between here and Millersburg on the severe curves is another step toward the prevention of automobile accidents.

Flour has dropped 50 cents to $1 in price the past week, due to the bright prospects for a large crop of wheat in the great wheat-growing sections. Central Kentucky will not consider up to the bumper crop, however, as there was practically no wheat to survive the winter. "If a man should happen to bring in a load of wheat, I suppose he would be offered about $1.60 for it," said W. R. Boyd, of the Carlisle Mill & Supply Co.

Home grown tomatoes have been slow in making their appearance on the local market, but are being received in small quantities and retailing at 10c per lb. Corn is very plentiful, retailing at 25 and 40 cents per doz. The blackberry crop will probably be at its best this week, and it will be an opportune time for housewives to preserve this fruit, for which Nicholas county is famous. Not in many years has the summer been able to buy sugar as cheap during the preserving season.

R. T. Kirkland & Company announce the opening of their summer clearing sale in this issue. You will find their big 2-page advertisement in the second section of The Mercury today. Last year Kirkland & Company's sale, held during August, was one of the most successful merchandising events in the history of the county. This year it does not take a knowledge of prices for one to realize that the business firm is staging a Reduction Sale in which prices are really reduced. Read every line of their big advertisement. There are some wonderful bargains offered. Mr. Kirkland believes in patronizing home industry, as well as asking the patronage of home people. He is thinkin The Mercury the advertising medium upreached in this county, to carry his message to you.

The rooms were attractively decorated in garden flowers, the color scheme of Maragaret Lee's home being carried out in the decorations and in the delicious two course luncheon served at the conclusion of the games. At this time a very happy secret was divulged concealed in the ices, frozen in design of roses and grapes, was the following announcement:

Margaret Harper
B. B. Embry
September, 1st.

The announcement at this time came as quite a surprise to the guests, and showered the bride elect with congratulations and good wishes. Miss Harper is one of the pretty and attractive daughters of Mr. Robert Harper. She has a wide circle of friends who will be interested in knowing of her approaching marriage. Mr. B. Embry holds responsible position with the B. J. Murphy, Auto Accessory Co., of Lexington and has made many friends in Carlisle, where he is traveling for this house.
