PARALYSIS FATAL TO J. M. HUGHES

Prominent Carlisle Man Dies At Home Following Illness Of Three Weeks

FUNERAL HELD SUNDAY

Mr. James M. Hughes, one of Carlisle's well known citizens, died at his home in Arnold Heights at 8 o'clock last Friday night following an illness of three weeks of paralysis. Mr. Hughes suffered a paralytic stroke and his condition continued to grow worse until his death.

Mr. Hughes was born in Nicholas county on April 3, 1853, the son of the late Edward B. and Matilda Hilbreth Hughes, a pioneer Nicholas county family. He spent all of his life in this county, most of his life being devoted to farming, up until his last illness. Mr. Hughes was in unusually vigorous health for his age. Until about three years ago when he sold his farm in the Pleasant Valley section he spent considerable of his time on his farm.

Mr. Hughes was a member of a family of ten children. One of the brothers, the late Rev. J. H. Hughes, died several years ago. For many years he was a minister of the Christian church for 57 years, his last charge being of some of the largest churches of the denomination in Louisville and Paris.

Mr. Hughes united with the Christian church under the ministry of his brother, the late Rev. J. H. Hughes. The brother also had been a member of the Christian church for more than 50 years and was a faithful and loyal member. Two brothers and three sisters preceded him to the grave.

Mr. Hughes was twice married. His first wife, who was Miss Lucella Roper, died September 22, 1880. On September 16, 1885, he married Mrs. Jennie McCuiston Stout, who survives. Two sons by his first marriage, Orman Clark L. H. Hughes, Carlisle, and William Hughes, Paris, also survive, with four sisters, Mrs. Julia Carpenter, Owensville, Mrs. Henrietta Cowan, Mrs. Sallie Young, Mrs. W. B. Wood, all of Paris.

Mr. Hughes was one of Carlisle's most honorable and upright citizens. All who of a modest and unobtrusive disposition, he was known and loved by a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services were held at the late home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Henry W. Bulwan, with burial following in the family lot in the Carlisle cemetery.

CONGRESSMAN-ELECT FROM THE THIRD DISTRICT DIES

C. W. Roark, Greenville, Representative-elect from the Third district, died at a hospital in Louisville Friday of a nervous disorder that followed his campaign last November. His condition was made worse by an attack of influenza.

Roark, a Republican, was elected last November over Lucas Fry, Curtis Tilton, Democratic incumbent, in the Republican wave that set in on November 6, ending victory and resulted in nine out of eleven congressional districts being Republican. It was Roark's first campaign for office and he was defeated in his first race by a plurality of 1,000 votes.

A special election will be held to fill the vacancy. John W. Moore, Democrat, who succeeded Fry, will be the nominee of the Democrats.

BABIES TO THE RESCUE OF FARM POPULATION

American farm population has dropped to the lowest point in 20 years, according to a statement issued by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The number of persons on farms January 1, 1929, was estimated at 27,241,000, as compared with a peak of 32,000,000 persons in 1916. The number would have been even smaller, the department statement explained, but for the fact farm life is healthy and the birth rate was far ahead of the death rate—23 births per 1,000 persons, as compared with eight deaths for 1,000 persons. There was a slight let-up in the movement from farm to city during 1928 as compared with the years immediately preceding, the department report indicated.

TWO CHILDREN DIE 8 HURT IN CRASH

Motor Taking Scott County Students To Base Ball Game Overturns While Rounding Curve

Two children were killed, a third was injured probably fatally, a fourth seriously and six others cut and bruised Friday afternoon when the small coupe in which they were crowded sideswiped a telephone pole and then plunged over a 15-foot embankment five miles from Georgetown on the Frankfort pike. The dead are Lloyd Robinson, 12 years old, son of Ben Robinson, and Mary Whitlock, 14, both of Scott county.

The children, all pupils in the White Sulphur school in Scott county, were on their way to a ball game between the White Sulphur and Georgetown. Five of the children were inside the car while the more new hanging onto the fenders.

Marion Sheets, 14, driver of the car, suffered cuts and bruises. Young Sheets came by apparently lost control of the machine, hitting a telephone pole and then plunged over the bank.

This is the bill introduced by Representative Will McRoban in the last legislature and defeated in the Senate committee after it had passed the House.

PIERCE BROTHERS GIVEN SENTENCES

Youths Charged With Theft Of Automobile Sent To Reform School

BOTH PLEAD GUILTY

A Ford roadster belonging to Curtis Farris, of the Millstone section, was found in possession of Fay Pierce, 16 years old, and his brother, Tom Pierce, 14, when they were arrested in Dayton, Ohio, several days ago at the request of Sheriff L. B. Barton. The machine was returned to Paris.

With requisition papers for the return of the Pierce brothers, Sheriff Barton went to Dayton early in the afternoon and returned the two youths to Carlisle, where they were lodged in jail to await trial on the charge of stealing the automobile.

Fay and Tom Pierce were arraigned in juvenile court Wednesday afternoon, and after entering pleas of guilty to the charge of stealing the automobile County Judge Darnall sentenced both to the Kentucky House of Reform at Greenville until they become 21 years old.

The two boys are believed to have stolen a large number of chickens, found in the automobile when they were arrested at Columbus, from a poultry house near Richmond. A Madison county farmer was in Carlisle Tuesday before the arrest of the youths and stated that a large number of his chickens had been stolen. A Ford roadster, leaving a Nicholas county license, was seen near his home the night the chickens were stolen.
