PROGRAM

Tonight, Thursday, Comes, Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy in "SHE WANTED A MILLIONAIRE." Size measured now in dollars and cents, she dreaded poverty, the tragic mistake of real life when she is too beautiful to marry for real love. Come and see this one, also Movietone News.

Saturday—Buck Jones in "THE DEADLINE." A dandy western full of action and hard riding. Also a comedy.

Monday—Comes Robert Montgomery and Helen Evans in "LOVERS COURAGEOUS." Together they had courage to defy the world to take the love they found, but he is only a hotel porter. How about it? Was she marrying the job or the man. Be sure and see this one. It is a sure good one.

LYRIC THEATRE

A number of local fans will go to Cincinnati next Tuesday for the opening of the base ball season.

The contractors started Monday on making approaches to the overhead bridge on the new Myers Station road.

The Carlisle city schools will close on Friday, May 20. The commencement exercises will be held on Thursday night, May 19.

Thieves raided the chicken house of Dee Bibbins on Spring street one night the past week, taking most of his large flock of chickens.

In county court Saturday, I. B. Ross qualified as administrator of the estate of Mose Carter Munson. W. T. Parker qualified as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Lena Maze.

Drills have been held each night this week by Howitzer Company, the national guard unit stationed in Paris, in preparation for the annual federal inspection, which will be held Friday night.

The recent wind storm broke a large plate glass window in the building of Mrs. Lillie Wood, on East Main street. The building is occupied by Joseph Gordon, city goods merchant.

Roadmaster D. W. Sapp has been at Cincinnati the past week preparing the camp for the summer session of the Boy Scouts. The camp will not be held until after the close of school.

Carter Duncan Tyler, negro woman who was convicted at the last September term of the Nicholas circuit court on a charge of selling liquor and given a year in the state reformatory, escaped from the reformatory Tuesday night and is reported loose.

In the Bourbon circuit court last week Stella Howard, Carlisle negro woman, was given a sentence of seven years in the state reformatory on a charge of selling liquor. Her case is a little near little Rock last summer.

Master Commissioner William Conley sold at public auction at the court house door on Saturday the farm of the late George Wilson in the Sand Hill section, containing approximately 54 acres, to Mrs. John Wilson for $76.50 per acre.

W. O. Hays, Trustee in Bankruptcy of O. L. Conyers, sold at public auction at the court house door Monday afternoon a farm of 21 acres in the Sand Hill section to the People Bank of Science Hill for $500.

Approximately fifteen contractors were in Carlisle Tuesday and went over the route of the Carlisle and Paris highway road to make estimates on a bid. Bids for the construction of the road will be opened by the State Highway Commission next Wednesday afternoon.

A large number of veterans of the World War attended a meeting held in the court house Tuesday night under the auspices of Nicholas Post of the American Legion. T. H. Hughes, State Adjutant of the Legion, and James D. Bory, State Service officer, addressed the audience, which marked the opening of the post's campaign for members. Several new members were added after the meeting.

Mack Ritchie, of this county, and W. H. McCord, of Bourbon county, who were arrested last December at a warehouse in Paris on charges of hunting together for the purpose of intimidating, disturbing and alarming persons in charge of tobacco sales, were not indicted by the Bourbon county grand jury during its recent session and they were released from the bonds of $1,000 each under which they had been placed.

The mystery play, "The Yellow Shadow," will be given by the Carlisle high school in the high school auditorium on Tuesday night, April 12. From the beginning until the final curtain, when the mystery is solved, this play is most exciting. Strange sounds, strange disappearances, black arms lifting people into nowhere and strange through it all excitement closely related to the high tension the action produces. Details will be given later.

Deputy Sheriff J. Clarke Lee came out second best in a foot race on the East Union pike Tuesday morning with Leonard Watkins, of the Myers section, who is charged with selling liquor. Mr. Lee met a car occupied by Watkins and attempted to serve a warrant on him. Watkins jumped from the car and ran over a hill with Mr. Lee in pursuit, but made his escape. Watkins was recently released after serving a jail sentence imposed in federal court on a charge of operating a still.

DAFFODILS

(By Clara Hood Rugel.)

I planted many daffodils
Upon a green hillside
For once I'd own a hundred blooms,
Of fragrance have my fill.
And I would keep the fragile flowers
Until the petals fell—
Such treasure I would never give,
Would never lend or sell.

And then I saw a little child
With empty hands at play;
A curtain drawn above a sill,
A man grown old and gray.
I could not keep my yellow flowers—
At night I dreamed they ran
To kiss the child, to paint the sill,
To cheer the tired man.

And now I own a naked hill;
The wind sighs for perfumes.
I gave the flowers to children's hands,
Old men and darkened rooms.
But when the springtime comes again,
I'll have them now on tow—
And if my heart heals selfishly,
No one shall ever know.

Text: "Now Absalom in his lifetime had taken and reared up for himself a pillar, which is in the king's dale." 2 Samuel 18:18. Symphonic theme: "Some day I'll know as I am known. And make the age to come, my own?" An unusual message for young and old. A sermon about life as we live it.

7:30 p. m. Picture: "The Ascension," from the painting by Hofman. The lesson is found in Luke 24:1-13 and Luke 24:50. 51. Sermon deals with human observation, the Christian's glorification; inestimable gain; heavenly rapture at His footed work; and His benediction upon His Church. Good music.

9:30 a. m. The Bible shool hour.

6:30 p. m. Jr.-Int. and Sr. C. E. meetings.

Wednesday night at 7:30 April study of Walter Scott's work dealing with the subject: "Christ, the Personal Saviour, in the Gospels of Matthew." Prof. Pitts's Class to lead devotions.
