THIS ENTIRE PAGE IS RESERVED FOR F. M. PEALE & CO.'S "City Cash Store,"

THE BIGGEST AND BEST DRY GOODS STORE IN CARLISLE.

THE MERCURY.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY BY

WILLIAM KEHOE

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One year in advance $1 00
Six months in advance 50
Three months in advance 25

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1880.

Fit Subjects for Heaven.

The following persons will accept our thanks for the payment on subscription or advertising accounts, and a receipt therefor and for corrections and information to print the time each subscription expires.

NAME.	POSTOFFICE.	ART.	EXPIRES.
C. Rochester,	Rochester, Mo.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
J. Hamilton,	Hamilton, Mo.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
J. H. Smith,	Carlisle, Pa.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
Mrs. Mary Lamb,	Carlisle, Pa.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
J. F. Bell,	Ellisville, Ky.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
Mrs. Mary Lamb,	Carlisle, Pa.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
Perry Hall,	Hall's Store, Ky.,	1	Dec. 1, '80
John B. Holmes,	Mendenhall,	1	Dec. 1, '80

In remitting, send money by registered letter or bank check, as it rests in one's Nancy risks otherwise.

W. J. KEHOE.

The Presidential election is just over, but F. M. PEALE & CO. have been elected to the leading dry goods business of Carlisle for forty years. As Artemus Ward would say, "How is it, Mose?" James A. Chappell began business with Mr. Jos. F. Newman in 1840. In 1846 he took in Jno. A. Chappell & Co., he being Jerome Chappell & Turnbull, Mr. Turnbull being Mr. Chappell, Rhoads & McIntyre. In 1865 by Adair, Waugh & Ewing, and in 1872 James A. Chappell and F. M. Peale succeeded to the business, under the firm name of F. M. Peale & Co. During all these years it is well known that the house has always stood foremost in the dry goods business—selling more goods than any two of its competitors, and establishing a reputation for honorable dealing second to none. This foremost position is still retained as proven by the fact that 6-62ths including the increased number of stores in Carlisle, our sales for October were five hundred and sixty dollars ahead of October, 1879, and nearly one thousand dollars the past three days.

Kentucky News.

Messrs. Bevill & Son, proprietors of the Ashland Home, Lexington, Ky., advertise in cold keep on ice in their hotel only one paper. "Use a common spoon," the Lexington Transcript says, "they look in this community as one day recently ninety hundred at 10 degrees."

Jacob D. Ely, living near Fox Springs, Chester County, made a fine red fox Tuesday, alive. He brought him to town and sold him to W. B. Hackman and other lovers of the chase, who will turn him loose for a grand chase.

The Court of Claims, of Flushing County, elected Eli Williams, of Tilton precinct, Commissioner of Common Schools, and Jos. Batty, present incumbent, keeper of the Poor. They reduced the pay per cupola on peppers from $35 to $30.

The water works locate, leased by the city of Maysville to the amount of $50, 000 were awarded to W. T. Cole, at Mercer. His bid was the best presented to the committee, being $250 00. The Bank of Maysville offered $200, and the First National Bank of Maysville, $166 34. W. G. Sanborn bid $240 35 on 14,000, but was not accepted from the fact that Mr. Cole deposited the entire amount bound. That certainly spoke well for Maysville.

Gen. Hancock carried Kentucky easily, and Peale & Co. expect to carry Nicholas, Bath, Bourbon, Fleming and Robertson with the cheapest goods.

Principle underlying the erection of buildings of any kind in Paris, seems to have been the following settlement regulating the same:

No. 1. A person shall within the city limits erect a building of any kind, without first obtaining permission from the Common Council so to do. Such person will present drawing to build. Shall make application to the Board in writing, stating the place where, and upon what land and the kind of building he is erected.

Hats and Caps,

Men's and Boys.

In every style, size, shape, color and quality at lowest figures.

PEALE, Public street. Under two-dollar. Paris. "I have we not." Hi, pals, pals, didn't I tole yer, yer was flyin' for money away. I tole you'd you wanted a good pair of boots to go to dat big City Ho," and Jims Waugh would tell you'd yer would be yer all wider."

Dick. "Gosh, look my skin it. I don't try 'em lose," and Dick went on his way marveling, "We' out in four weeks. Just ride right again." No yer don't."

Boots and Shoes.

When do get the best leather and shoes in a quiet way so much than parties the outside of the people. To sell such articles is impossible—it is not done at the place. All the best brands such as Ziegler's.

Brigham's,

O. & B.,

And other good makes always on hand at lowest prices.

Country.

If the citizens are only courtesy, but it cannot exist it. Its need is seen only by the country.

Country is perhaps little affected by political excitement. Let its all persons and all people it may be brought about that the country is the best location. Here a township in because that more merchandise and benefit which the town can be sold for a small sum do as a general search, a close read, a careful perusal of the advertisements never fail to be found where the desire of saving, and of more benefit applied to this purpose which one is at home. Keep your money at home. Spend it with known Norman proverb, which says keep your money in your pocket, welcome to friend given by Paris to the country.

Remember our motto is square dealing, small profits and the best goods.

The country can at all times buy from, perhaps, the cheapest market in the land several. The story of the spaniard offering four cents for a watermelon and it is not seen. The friend prompt to accept the indignity for planter, and held out his hand to receive the golden gift. "Where," inquired the spaniard, "is the watermelon?" "Why, you," said the planter, "want to your purchase." That which he received was a dollar. Now, you were bound by that same courtesy to refuse. Two kinds of saving may be called the beauty of the one, and the other called true courtesy the beauty of the heart. It is a priceless possession, which, however false, has a certain social value. It covers a multitude of incommodities. When ably assumed it palliates wickedness to a point judiciously put on palliates wrinkles. It is the jellied, of our social life. Its counterfeit. How is the kind of courtesy which Dr. Johnson, while he ascribed more enormous of disposition, called cant, the motive worth which he advised Boswell to eradicate with all diligence, if not from our speech, at least from his understanding. Even the term "complaisance," which originally meant all those minor acknowledged infantine that may be said to complete the virtue of courtesy, seems to us, in these days of anything that means ceremonies and rocky facilities of life, to have been smoothed and rounded into such forms as these, which, handled and fro by the waves of conversation, become of less and less moment, and finally disappear. Courtesy itself, the root of civility in the garden of politeness, the herb which by some subtle magic can extract every sweet, as Aladdin by his complaisance stole of old the hearts of the people, is, in this age, degraded into a mere act of physical respect, a bending of the body and the knee, originally belonging to the days, afterwards confined to one, and now nearly or entirely abandoned. We may also suffer from exaggeration. By too much courtesy we become obsequious, and excess of civility makes us uncivil. A certain kind of flexible complaisance was absent to take leave of another of the Emperor Julian, who insisted on seeing him to the door of his own house. "I will not," said the man, that had been taken of his politeness, and said, "I will go to keep her next year, and see and trust her just as though I were present."

Captain was delighted at this compliment, and so expressed himself.

"Who has been ruining the mare?" asked Mr. Vanderbilt, calling a clerk and going from him a nice new $500 bill.

Mr. Vanderbilt during the afternoon drove Captain out behind his double team, Leander and Lysander. This is one of the best double teams in the country, and can go a twenty gait right on the road.

While in Paris Mr. Vanderbilt purchased for fifty Blair a magnificent gold watch and locket. The watch is one of the finest time-keepers in the city, and both watch and locket bear the monogram "W. W. H." The watch also bears the following inscription: "Presented to W. W. Blair by W. H. Vanderbilt, August 12, 1880, when he drove the six-year-old mare Maud S. a mile in 2:11, at Rochester Driving Park, and at Chicago, September 18, 1880, a mile in 2:10." Mr. Vanderbilt also presented Captain Stone with an elegant massive antique vase, made of hammered sterling silver. On one side of the vase is a magnificently gold portrait bas relief of Maud S., and above the other side a jockey cap and whip and leaf of laurel. Mr. Vanderbilt used the vase in one of his horses, inlaid like Chauncey ware. The rim of the vase is surmounted with inlaid horse-shoes in the same manner, on the bottom of the vessel is the following inscription: "Presented to George Stone, Esq., by W. H. Vanderbilt in recognition of his services in the development of Maud S., August 12, 1880, Rochester, 2:11, September 1880, Chicago, 2:10."

CARLISLE'S FAVORITE DRY GOODS HOUSE!

A GLORIOUS VICTORY

FOR

F. M. PEALE & CO.

Attention, Readers.

Do you want Carlisle to buy goods? Then a word to you. Carlisle wants the largest house, where you can select the greatest variety, find the best goods, and select from the biggest stock in the city? Why should you take second, third, fourth or fifth rate when you can have first rate? You should visit headquarters for latest goods when you can get good goods for cheap? Cheapness and quality are

Water-proofs,

Ladies' Cloth,

Flannel Suitings,

Ladies' Underwear,

Ladies' Dress Goods,

Fringes and Passimentries, &c.

A train on a railroad road was stopped by a man who gave a description of. Then he took deliberately aim with a gun at the engineer and killed him. He subsequently explained that he was not shooting locomotive. He proved to be a lunatic.

The best children's shoes in all creation, can be found at Peale & Co.'s big store.

John E. property of R. Tenny, of Lexington, died at the stable of Lyon & Brothers, in Cynthiana, last Sunday. He was nine years old, had a record of 2:27, and his owner had been offered $5,000 for him.

The ides of November have come and gone, and Peale & Co. are away ahead of all competitors.

On Friday Albert Wills, son of W. S. Wills, while using the cutting box, accidentally amputated the thumb of his left hand.

For November Sales!

F. M. PEALE & CO. Cor. Cash Store.

Ladies' Cloaks.

Ladies' Dolmans.

Children's Cloaks

Winter Shawls,

Flannels, Blankets,

Jeans and Linseys, &c.

Fur-lined cloth of the Infinite season upon Tuesday, but the great stock of Peale & Co. is still on hand. Call at the Cash store," and prevent "How a thing of beauty is a joy forever."

Two members of people who visit Carlisle to-day for the purpose of shipping it immediately, have been arrested by the police.

Gen'l Garfield will be sworn in on the fourth of March next, but Peale & Co. have already been sworn in as the People's dry goods store.

Two builders of the turnpike from Rising Sun to the road stock of Peale & Co. in Carlisle will call greatly to the future business of Carlisle.

The best lighted store - room we know of is that of F. M. Peale & Co.

Mrs. Brown. "Well, Mrs. Green, after all that's said and done, I believe in sticking to your old reliable merchants. Mr. Peale and Mr. Chappell have always done us right."

Mrs. Green. "That's just my notion, Mrs. Brown, and to tell you the truth, I never can find more than half I want any where else."

Ready-Made Clothing

Ready-made suits, Fine Coats and veats,

Men's Overcoats,

Boys' Overcoats,

Men's overall suits are good and first-class.

Prices as Low as the Lowest.

Grand Excursion.

There will be a grand excursion to Grand and return, under the auspices of the Lone Star Red Estate and Colonization Co. at half rates. Everybody can go for forty days, by way of the Cumberland and Iron Mountain Route. All tickets must be purchased on Nov. 1 under a Tax Convention will leave Cincinnati November 3 at 2 o'clock P. M., from the Penn Street Depot. Come and see our grand secrets, expensive prairies and fossil rivers. The finest country in the world for health, for homes and for making money. Be sure to buy your tickets by way of the Cumberland and Iron Mountain Road, for that is the Route this Excursion will take, and we will send a man with our party. Do not forget the date, for that is the only chance you may ever have to go to Texas at half rate. Parties living on the Kentucky Central Railroad will find their tickets on sale at Maysville, Carlisle, Millersburg, Paris, Lexington, Cynthiana and Falmouth. Parties on the Cincinnati Southern Railway will be furnished half fare tickets from any station if it was notified in time to have its tickets prepared.

For further information call on or address Geo. A. Knight, Gen. Emg. Agt., S. W. Cor. 6th and Vine streets, Cincinnati, O., and James S. Hoff, Agent for the Carlisle Line, Carlisle.

A big lot of overcoats just received by F. M. Peale & Co.

A large stock of jeans always on hand at Peale & Co.'s Big Store.

Go to Peale & Co. for your winter boots.

Carpets and Oil Cloths.

Hair always been a specialty with our house, and although we have a large stock for this time of year. Great inducements are held out to purchasers of carpets. Also 300 Yards Best Rag Carpets.

Wool's

Cincinnati Enquirer:

Captain Stone, of Kentucky, has arrived from New York where he went during the early part of last week to confer with W. H. Vanderbilt about Maud S. The Captain met Mr. Vanderbilt at the latter's office and was very courteously received by him. After a few moments' conversation Mr. Vanderbilt proposed to the Captain a drive out of the city that had been taken of his—politely, and said:

"I want you to keep her next year, and see and trust her just as though I were present."

Captain was delighted at this compliment and so expressed himself.

"Who has been ruining the mare?" asked Mr. Vanderbilt, calling a clerk and going from him a nice new $500 bill.

"A colored boy I have had with me for two years," replied Captain Stone.

"Well, give him this for me," said Mr. Vanderbilt, calling a clerk and going from him a nice new $500 bill.

Mr. Vanderbilt during the afternoon drove Captain out behind his double team, Leander and Lysander. This is one of the best double teams in the country, and can go a twenty gait right on the road.

While in Paris Mr. Vanderbilt purchased for fifty Blair a magnificent gold watch and locket. The watch is one of the finest time-keepers in the city, and both watch and locket bear the monogram "W. W. H." The watch also bears the following inscription: "Presented to W. W. Blair by W. H. Vanderbilt, August 12, 1880, when he drove the six-year-old mare Maud S. a mile in 2:11, at Rochester Driving Park, and at Chicago, September 18, 1880, a mile in 2:10."

Mr. Vanderbilt also presented Captain Stone with an elegant massive antique vase, made of hammered sterling silver. On one side of the vase is a magnificently gold portrait bas relief of Maud S., and above the other side a jockey cap and whip and leaf of laurel. Mr. Vanderbilt used the vase in one of his horses, inlaid like Chauncey ware. The rim of the vase is surmounted with inlaid horse-shoes in the same manner, on the bottom of the vessel is the following inscription: "Presented to George Stone, Esq., by W. H. Vanderbilt in recognition of his services in the development of Maud S., August 12, 1880, Rochester, 2:11, September 1880, Chicago, 2:10."

Go to Peale & Co. for your children's shoes.

Sleepy Time over allaby.

Sleep will no more in cure or liability of sweep, prevalence will, and sleepiness. It will build up and make strong a weary body. It will do in cure dyspepsia, particularly that variety known as nervous dyspepsia. It will relieve the languor and prostration felt by nursing mothers. It will tone up the system. It will cure the headache. It will cure neuralgia. It will cure sorrow.

Now, should should do more work of muscle or brain in a day time he can perform a sweeter sleep, the cause of a good night's rest. Up to that point demands rest, we are invite interest order and keep the balance of life. When we take stimulants to spur our jaded nerves, or excite an appetite, we are wasting life. A man should live so as to keep himself in the best, and with a true economy.

Go to Peale & Co. for your boots and shoes.

Go to Peale & Co. for your children's shoes.

The best long-legged boots can be found at Peale & Co.'s city cash store.

Notions and Fancy Goods.

The biggest variety of notions and fancy goods; the best stock of hosiery and gloves; the finest line of handkerchiefs and ties, and everything in the notion line always to be found on our well filled shelves.

Go to Peale & Co. for your children's shoes.

Sleepy Time over allaby.

Sleep will no more in cure or liability of sweep, prevalence will, and sleepiness. It will build up and make strong a weary body. It will do in cure dyspepsia, particularly that variety known as nervous dyspepsia. It will relieve the languor and prostration felt by nursing mothers. It will tone up the system. It will cure the headache. It will cure neuralgia. It will cure sorrow.

Now, should should do more work of muscle or brain in a day time he can perform a sweeter sleep, the cause of a good night's rest. Up to that point demands rest, we are invite interest order and keep the balance of life. When we take stimulants to spur our jaded nerves, or excite an appetite, we are wasting life. A man should live so as to keep himself in the best, and with a true economy.

THE MERCURY. THE ELECTION.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1880.

Gathered Like Dust Blown.

Receipts for the past week, up to noon on Monday, as compared with those of the week previous are as follows:

	Cattle.	Hogs.	Sheep.
Last week	1,000	1,000	1,000
This week	1,000	1,000	1,000

Shipments for corresponding week:

Last week	1,000	1,000	1,000
This week	1,000	1,000	1,000

CATTLE: Receipts for the past week have been 1,000 head, against 1,000 head for the previous week and 1,000 head for the corresponding time were received.

The prices were as follows:

Common	3 Cent
Fair to good butchers' grades	3 Cent
Good to choice grades	3 Cent
Extra and fancy grades	3 Cent
Fair to good cows	3 Cent
Common to good calves	3 Cent
Fair to good bulls	3 Cent
Fair to good Texas and Cherokee steers	3 Cent

Most cattle sold were of fair to good quality, and the bulk of the sales ranged from 3 cents to 3 cents, with a large number at 3 cents.

HOGS: Receipts for the past week have been 1,000 head, against 1,000 head for the previous week and 1,000 head for the corresponding time last year.

Selected butchers'	3 Cent
Fair to good packing	3 Cent
Fair to good shipping and fancy	3 Cent
Pigs	3 Cent
Roughs	3 Cent

SHEEP—Market Steady. Common to fair, 3 cents; good to choice, 3 cents; extra, 3 cents. LAMBS: Dull and dragging. Common to fair, 3 cents; good to choice, 3 cents; extra, 3 cents.

Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Market.

The offerings for the week were 2,000 hhds., as follows:

Old hhds.	1,000
Mason County (ky.)	1,000
Ohio	1,000
Low grades	1,000
Total	2,000

Sales of 1,000 hhds.

Prices ruled steady in trade and unchanged for medium. Being thereon.

How They Feel an Adrian Man.

Last Friday, Mr. Jos. F. Newman, of this city, was found Dan's History. Fell to the ground in the form of weakness, and was carried to his home and took two hundred doses of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and was entirely cured.

Visitors to Carlisle on Court days and other occasions will find the best place to get goods neatly, low, at the lowest prices, and the best assortment to select from, at the Cash store of F. M. Peale & Co.

Attention, Ladies. Calling by the last of the season, Mrs. Dr. Hall, of Hall's Store, will commence Lemon-Juice. Will call upon the ladies of Carlisle and vicinity, and will be in the line of dressmaking. Will also do work in the line of dressmaking. Will also do work in the line of dressmaking. Will also do work