That Terrible Tax For Law Enforcement

(By R. H. Cunningham)

This has been [illegible] that where the enemies of prohibition have been able to their attack, and have succeeded in getting people do not know the facts. I repeat the verdict. But here is one cold fact, made public, which will astonish every reader of this story. Congress appropriated $12,338,408 from public funds for prohibition enforcement. The enforcement officers collected only $3,474,617.09 from lawbreakers. This was in the years and penalties, leaving a deficit of $8,854,910.91 to be paid from the taxes collected from the people.

Without attempting to figure it out, how many people would ever guess that this oppressive tax burden amounts to no less than five and six tenths cents per year for every man, woman, and child in the nation. If we shall say, that the average family was man and wife, and ten children, and that the father earned and paid the tax for the whole family, that would mean the great burden of just a little over 48 cents per year for all twelve!

Think of it! Prohibition takes from us the price of a five cent cigar, or the price of a bottle of pop; or the price of three postage stamps a year. It is just terrible isn't it? Why, I know a fellow boys his girl a five cent drink. He would have to work two straws because the government took the other nickel. Little children by little over 48 cents per year for all suckers per year. Oh, what a burden! How shall we bear it?

Then, with about six per cent of the world's population, we have the world drives only about 85 per cent of the world's automobiles. We have 14 to his credit, the rest of the team passing the ball either to him or Stevenson who hit the hoops for 6 McLoney was the whole show for the Cynthiana team, collecting 19 points.

The district tournament March 4 and 5 in the district, composed of Marshes and Southern counties, will be held at the M. M. I. gymnasium and Carlisle will have the honor of entertaining the team that is the district champion. Carlisle will be one of the contenders for the honors as the clock strikes twelve on the night of March 5. And—who is the winner of the Carlisle-Paris game? Well, we are hoping for the Paris-Bourbon County game to be played in Paris that afternoon. The Marshes—Carlisle—Paris—Bourbon—Cynthiana—M. M. I. game will be a fitting climax, March 4th, at 7:30. More about the big event later.

MUSKETEERS WIN IN FINAL GAME

Cynthiana Defeated By Score Of 26-21 In Hard-Fought Game Here Friday Night

(By John Parker Rose)

The Musketeers defeated the Cynthiana Bull Dogs here Friday night, in their last Confederate game of the basketball season, 26 to 21.

With three minutes left to play in the first period, the game looked bad for the Musketeers, for Cynthiana was leading them 4 to 0. When Saunders called time out, the sensation of play the Musketeers sank three field goals to make the score 6 to 4 in their favor at the opening quarter ended. In the second period the game was close and at half time the locals were leading the visitors 18 to 8. In the last half, however, the ten point lead looked very small several times as Cynthiana began to hit the hoop from far and near but the Musketeers were able to stave off a defeat by dropping in a field goal now and then and kept a five point lead during the last quarter. At the end of the third quarter the score was Carlisle 24, Cynthiana 15. It was in the last quarter that the Cynthiana team put on their belated drive that fell short.

The Musketeers' type of offense clicked throughout the first half but they could not seem to keep it in the half. Cynthiana was forced to shoot from afar in most of the first half and for a short while during the last quarter the locals seemed to be perpetrated. Campbell was the leading point scorer of the Blue with 14 to his credit, the rest of the team passing the ball either to him or Stevenson who hit the hoops for 8 McLoney was the whole show for the Cynthiana team, collecting 19 points.

Musical Comedy To Be Given At Moorefield

Romance, comedy, minstrel dialect, happy music and a beautiful chorus combine in making the musical comedy, "Honeymoon Blues" an event for everyone in the vicinity of Moorefield to look forward to. Under the auspices of the F. T. A. and the direction of Patricia Williams of the Moorefield Dance Company of Brunswick Georgia, this play is to be presented at Moorefield School Auditorium on Wednesday evening March the second, at 8 o'clock p. m.

The cast of the comedy includes twenty-five people, twenty of whom are two sisters who start out in search of prospective husbands. Edith, the older sister, will contend that love is the only route to happiness while Anne, the modern sister insists that money is the objective. There is both pathos and comedy in the scenes as the girls launch song, dance and cry in their efforts to win the selected men. Ed and Ella, the colored man of work and the cook, furnish some of the high lights of the evening's entertainment, with their dialogues regarding baseball and a trip to the dentist. They also appear in a blues song and oldwar-cracks, songs, and loving-cup.

The cast of characters is as follows: Mr. Thorpe, successful business man, Mr. Thorpe, his wife, Edith Thorpe, old fashioned girl, Frances Hoage; Anne Thorpe, disgusted, Martha Lee Berry; Walter Palmer, banker, Aitken Dowling; Paul Rose, rich suitor, John Dowling; Ella, colored maid, Ruth Reid; Ed, man of work, Maurice Reed; cook, Lucile Wilson; Delilah Robinson, Lorene Wilson; Wyman Vee, William Junker, and Glenn Clay.

Choruses are interspersed throughout the play in colorful and appropriate costumes depicting dolls, old-fashioned girls, modern girls, Honeymoon Blues', bunnies, butterflies, bluebirds and stars.

A Sack Of White Flour Saves The Day

A Nicholas county gentleman was on his way to the other day and in a hurry to get home to avoid some trouble. Not thinking to stop at some Flour, everything is over now. He said he had to go one past any of the Flour they proved out to him and hadn't had time to stop. He said he had a sack with a wife of being a poor cook, this is where the domestic trouble came in. He said he just couldn't make good biscuit, etc., but for matter really got serious.

He had heard a lot about White Rose being and finally bought a sack of it. Right there, he said, his troubles ended. He had the finest and best biscuits he had ever seen and went down on his knees to apologize to his wife for accusing her of being unable to do the impossible. He made good bread from just any old flour.

He was so happy that he went back home and paid for two barrels of White Rose and said he never love anything else in his house.

GROSS SALES TAX PASSED BY HOUSE

Governor Wins In Fight For Tax Levy Which Was Reduced To 1 Per Cent

REAL ESTATE RATE CUT

Governor LaFoon's forces swept aside the opposition of insurgent Democrats and put through the administration's 1 per cent retail sales tax bill in a dramatic session of the Kentucky house of representatives Saturday. The vote was 64 to 34.

The bill was amended without opposition to make the rate of the tax 1 per cent instead of 2 per cent. Although he had enough votes to pass the 2 per cent rate, Governor LaFoon agreed to accept the lower rate.

The measure now goes to the senate, where administration leaders say it will pass without difficulty. The Senate will adjourn sine die at 6 p. m. Thursday. An emergency measure, it would repeal the inheritance tax law, aimed at chain stores, passed by the 1930 legislature. It would become effective April 1.

The house also passed unanimously Saturday the administration measure to reduce the state tax on real estate from 36 to 20 cents and increase the 66 to 24, an amendment offered by J. C. Robinson, Democrat, to reduce the tax to 15 cents. Governor LaFoon originally recommended that the state tax on real estate be cut to 10 cents, but said he would sign the bill when presented to a 1 per cent rate for the sales tax. The 20 cent taxation was fixed at 50 cents.

The rules committees of the House and Senate took control of all legislation Tuesday morning and hopes of members for the passage of pet measures were lost.

A bill to cut the cost of automobile license plates one-third was voted by the Senate 21 to 15.

A plan for the systematic retirement of the state debt over a period of 20 years was placed before both branches of the legislature by Governor LaFoon Monday.

FIRE DESTROYS J. R. SCOTT RESIDENCE

Building, With Most Of Contents, Consumed By Fire Last Thursday Morning

The two-story residence of J. R. Scott on the hill in the suburbs of Carlisle, was completely destroyed by fire, with most of its contents, about 8:30 o'clock last Thursday morning.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Neighbors discovered the entire roof of the building in flames and ran to the home. Members of the family were not aware that the building was burning. The fire department was called, but the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the structure.

A part of the furniture on the lower floor was saved, but most of the furnishings on the second floor were consumed.

The residence was a modern, two-story frame structure. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

LINDBERGH CHILD TAKEN FROM HOME

20-Months-Old Son Of Famous Flier Kidnaped From Home Tuesday Night

Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., 20-months-old son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, was taken from his nursery in the country home near Hopewell Tuesday night by the spirited away in a dark green sedan registered in the name of Henry Ford, of Detroit, Mich., N. J., and reported to have been stolen in Atlanta the day before. The car contained two men who stopped at least two men prior to the kidnaping of the child, according to the isolated Lindbergh home. The child, clad in a blue sleeping suit, was put to bed at the usual hour, 7:30 p. m. At 8:30 p. m. someone peered into the nursery. The crib was empty.

Within an hour after Colonel Lindbergh himself telephoned the first alarm, police squad cars blocked every primary road for miles. No trace had been found of the baby when The Mercury's forms closed.

Reveal's What's Wrong With Kentucky Farmers

At last the problem of "what's the matter with the Kentucky farmer?" has been solved. Thursday afternoon, Senator Alex Johnson, of Louisville, presented to the senate a communication reading as follows:

"The average Kentucky farmer gets up in the morning by the alarm of an Illinois clock, shaves with a Connecticut razor, goes to a Detroit overall, washes his face with Cincinnati soap in a Pennsylvania basin, sits down to a Grand Rapids table and eats Kansas meat and Indiana canning fried in Illinois lard on a St. Louis stove.

"He then goes to a New York lantern and goes out to his barn built from a plan obtained from a Chicago paper and feeds Iowa corn and plows the farm, covered with an Ohio mortgage, with a South Bend plow. And when bedtime comes he reads a chapter in the Bible, printed in Boston, and says prayers written in Jerusalem. He cranks under a blanket made in New Jersey, only to be kept awake all night by the barks and wails of a Kentucky yellow hound dog, the only home product he has, and then wonders why so many of his home town folks are out of work."

REDISTRICTING ACT BEATEN IN HOUSE

Committee Votes Unfavorably On Measure Which Would Have Cut Judicial Districts

The judicial redistricting committee of the House of Representatives last Thursday voted to report adversely the bill of Dr. A. H. Bill, Floyd county Democrat, which would reduce the number of judicial districts in the state from 37 to 32.

The decision was reached after a lengthy hearing in the house chamber presided over by the committee chairman, Rafaela L. Bowers, Democrat.

The measure was designed to rearrange judicial districts in the east and southeastern part of the state and also save about $100,000 annually in court costs. It would reduce the number of judges and commonwealth attorneys.

1,096 CASES OF FLU SINCE JANUARY 1

Figures Are No Cause For Alarm However, Health Officials Declares

Since January 1, 1,096 cases of influenza have been officially reported to the state epidemiology. Of this number, 300 cases were reported in January and 796 during the first three weeks in February.

"There is no occasion for alarm in these figures," Dr. J. L. Jones, state epidemiologist, said Saturday. "However, the situation should be watched and be continued. It should include a warning to isolate preventative measures in an attempt to avoid an epidemic spread of the disease."

Among the "donts" on how to avoid the disease, Dr. Jones listed the following: Do not let any person cough or sneeze into your face; when influenza is prevalent, avoid crowds; do not use drinking or eating utensils used by others unless they have been washed in boiling water; avoid the use of the common towel; eat nourishing food, and get as much fresh air and sunshine as possible.
