HOW TO SAVE MONEY, TIME, COAL AND COAL OIL

If you have an old worn out coal stove or range, that is taking too much coal, sell it or give it away and buy a POINTER RANGE, the STOVE OF GOOD kind. All our customers say this stove makes a hotter, quicker fire on less coal than other stoves they have used. You will be surprised how little coal it will take. If you are using an old fashioned oil lamp, such as a Rayo that simply "DRINKS" coal oil, throw it away too and get an ALADDIN LAMP. Makes 10 times as much light, pure white light like sunshine, and will burn 30 hours on 1 gallon of coal oil. Prices now reduced. C. R. King.

Petition Asks Division Of Farm Of R. W. Rankin

In the Harrison circuit court at Cynthiana last week, O. C. Rankin, administrator of the estate of his father, R. W. Rankin, through his attorney, Hanson Peterson, filed a petition in equity asking that commissioners be appointed to divide the land jointly owned by R. W. Rankin, now deceased, and his wife, Nannie Rankin.

In the petition the plaintiff prays that sufficient lands of R. W. Rankin be sold to pay the debts of the decedent, after setting aside a home for his wife, Nannie Rankin. The plaintiff states that the amount of the debts and interests owed by the estate of R. W. Rankin is approximately $65,000. The petition also alleges that the personal estate of the decedent, which was duly appraised, amounted to $2,889.80. Since the land jointly owned by R. W. Rankin and Nannie Rankin amounted to more than $65 acres, which is worth about $40,000. The land is in the Morning Glory section of Nicholas and partly in Harrison.

Bracken Has Cash Exceeding Total Debt

Bracken and Robertson counties adjoining counties, with a combined population of 12,000, are the only bonded debt of $155,000, according to a report filed with Governor Ruby Laffoon by Nat B. Sewell, State inspector and Examiner.

Bracken county owes $80,000 and has cash in a sinking fund for retirement of the bonds amounting $91,293.56. It is the only county in the state in which Mr. Sewell has found this condition, he said. He also found that all officials of the county had properly accounted for all funds entrusted to their hands. Inspector's reports for the past three years have disclosed this same information with regard to this county.

Robertson county is bonded for $75,000 and has $2,000 in a sinking fund for retirement of the debt. Its salary roll aggregates $2,955 a year, while Bracken county's salary roll amounts to $5,940 a year. Mr. Sewell returned to the Treasury $4,26 collected from two officials of Robertson county.

State Mails Fund Checks To Schools

The State Department of Education last week mailed out per capita checks to the various districts of the state's common school districts. The distribution totalled $136,000.

The department drew $144,870 from the treasury for school purposes but held up releases for Allen county districts, Bracken county districts and Hickman city districts, until the board in these districts qualify for the funds.

Because of depreciated property values, the school funds for the present year is $7 against $9 last year.

Wealthy Bourbon County Man Ends Life Tuesday

William Hehr, 58 years old, wealthy Bourbon county farmer and businessman, shot and killed himself at the home of his brother, John Hehr, near Broadwell, Harrison county, Tuesday morning. Mr. Hehr was found with a shotgun beside him. His head in a garage near the Hehr home and had an hour later never regaining consciousness. He had been despondent over ill health. Mr. Hehr owned a large farm in the Broadwell section of Bourbon county and had lived alone on the farm for a number of years. He was never married.

Kansas Farmers Like Roosevelt's Topeka Speech

Telegraphic comment from leaders in both political parties in Kansas being received at Republican headquarters reflected the favorable reactions of Governor Roosevelt's speech at Topeka on farm problems. Governor Harry Woodring said: "I think seventy percent of the farmers of Kansas will be for the election of Roosevelt, which means he will carry the State between 60,000 and 70,000." Guy T. Helvering, Democratic State Chairman, says: "The large crowd, standing in the rain, shows the close attention and the timely applause shows the interest in Governor Roosevelt's subject and the unqualified approval of his address. Absolutely and without question this was the largest political gathering ever assembled in Kansas. His vigorous delivery and magnetic personality shines like a diamond in the crown of the Kansas people's appreciation of Governor Roosevelt's visit to Kansas. Everywhere I attended the Democratic swing around I heard the comment and observed the strengthened himself greatly in the great agricultural state of Kansas."

Carl V. Rice, Democratic chairman, Kansas Supreme Court, says: "One of the chief characteristics of the Kansas Campaign has been the enthusiasm and the popularity of Governor Roosevelt. Thousands of this independent farmer state came to Topeka and were delighted with the personality and the vigorous, impressive politics of the speaker. He brought a message of hope for a brighter future to the wives and daughters of agricultural districts, threatened with ruin by policies of the present administration."

W. P. Wagner, General Attorney, Union Pacific, says: "A great speech. It is just what the farmers have been looking for. He made himself clear as to his intentions when elected."

Chauncey Little, Democratic Leader, says: "The address was the ever heard on agricultural affairs. He put the agricultural problems and give the farmer the benefit of the tariff, shows he is thinking farmers a domestic price for domestic consumption and a world price for the surplus."

Willard Residential, Banker, says: "Governor Roosevelt showed a wonderful understanding of farm problems and gave the farmer a great speech in my opinion was that he gave the farmer credit for being capable of working out his own destiny if given equal opportunity. His scheme to plan utilization of land in accordance with means of production was meritorious. But his emphasis for action, rather than theory and his knowledge of agricultural problems impress me most."

O. T. Wood, Rancher, wheat grower and former U. S. Marshall, says: "When Roosevelt said all the farmer needed was an even break with the protected industrial, he hit the nail on the head."

The Houston Chronicle is authority for the statement that on a recent hot day J. E. McGrew, of Yoakum, Tex., gathered up a basketful of corn that had popped in the field from the sun.

Number Ballots Will Be Long And Perplexing

The ballots that will be handed to the voters of Kentucky when they go to the polls in November will be the longest and most complicated since the adoption of the Australian system of voting in this State. It will contain in addition to the Democratic and Republican tickets, the Prohibition, Socialist and other minor parties. First under the amended election laws party will appear the eleven Presidential electors, 27th the nominee for United States Senator, followed by the eleven nominees for Congress, making a total of twenty-one names of candidates.

The voter who desires to vote the straight ticket has plenty of marking to do, as all that will be necessary for him or her to do is to place the X mark in the circle at the top of emblem, but the voter who desires to "scratch" his ticket, that is, vote one or more candidates of another party will be faced with rather a complicated task. Heretofore when desirous of scratching a ticket the voteman and a voter desired to support the candidate of another party for this office all he had to do was to place the X in the circle under the emblem of his party and then in the square opposite the name of the Congressman he desired to vote for. This would result in his ballot being counted for the party nominees under the emblem save the Congressman. In the case the Congressman are to be elected this fall under the State-wide election contention contend that a different system of "scratching" for these offices will have to be devised to carry out the intent of the voter being carried out. In order to vote for one of the "scratches" his ticket in the old way will vote for the Congressman of his or than nine and will lose his vote for all of these offices. Therefore in order to "scratch" a ticket for Congressman the voter must place the X in the circle under the emblem and then stamp in the square opposite the name of the candidate for Congress he desires to support. His ballot will be counted for the nominees for Presidential electors and U. S. Senator under the emblem voted and for the Congressman indicated.

This situation will prove rather confusing to the average voter who will likely result in but very few "scratched" ballots being cast. The voter desires to run the risk of having his ballot thrown out.

Two Men Slain In Feud In Manchester Sunday

The ambush killing of two men and the wounding of two others in Manchester Sunday, is the last renewal of an old feud, caused Governor Ruby Laffoon said in a statement of twenty-five national guard men stationed there today.

One of the men slain was Commonwealth Attorney Frank H. Baker, 29, of London, Ky., and the other was Judge Lewis Daniel Brock, 45, of Cincinnati. The wounded are Lee Yeaman, 30, of Wilder, Ky., and Ed Brock, 22, an uncle of the Commonwealth Attorney.

The troops were ordered at the request of Circuit Judge Ernest Lewis, of London. The Governor, in sending the militia, said the troops were ordered into the area two or three months, and he had been informed the men responsible for the killing were ensconced in the courthouse. However, it later was learned, that the assassinations had escaped.

Commonwealth Attorney Baker and Judge Lewis said, went to Manchester Saturday afternoon with a group of men and stopped at Wiley Baker's home. Some of the men left town Saturday night, the Judge was told, but when the Commonwealth Attorney and Judge Lewis left office of the house Sunday morning they were shot down by a barrage of rifle and shotgun fire, apparently directed from the Clay county courthouse across the street.

Frank Baker and Brock were killed instantly.

Saturday's shooting climaxed a series of killings in Clay county, which authorities have attributed to a feud of more than two decades standing.

An Unusual Event At Carlisle Christian Church

A most unique and unusual event is taking place this week at the Carlisle Christian church. The members of the congregation and their families are conducting a Revival Campaign to which households of Carlisle are invited to contribute their old jewelry, trinkets and other articles of value for sale at auction. When the crucible is filled, the articles will be melted down and the proceeds from the sale will be used as a fund for Evangelistic work.

Called the "Jewelry Campaign" by the pastor, the Rev. S. H. Cunningham, it is a most novel and unique affair. The first is that there is in every household a piece of jewelry which is of little value to the individual, which is of no use and which is a trinket. I refer to old accumulations of jewelry, etc; containing gold or silver, which have been accumulating outlived their usefulness; representing a dead and dissolved asset, without nothing to anyone's happiness. Our aim is to bring it into circulation in behalf of Christian service.

Moreover, we believe that there are many people who have been greatly increased. Our means to give, to money, have in many cases decreased. But by collecting and melting down these articles we have found a new way to meet the present stress without a drain upon our private purse.

"Incidentally, we will in this way, give the weak minded gold, all of a new useless dress and purify the gold, that it may become a thing of worth to the community's prosperity and happiness."

Continuing each Sunday, Sept. 25th, bring or send items to church, or phone and they will be sent. Imitation or fictitious crucibles on display in church.

Democratic Editors Form Editorial Association

A temporary organization of the Democratic editors of Kentucky, which it is hoped to make permanent, was perfected at Friday night's meeting of editors and publishers from all sections of the State, held at the Phoenix hotel in Lexington.

Editor Ollie Gaines, president of the editorial Association was the name selected for the new organization at the meeting Friday night. A. S. Thompson, editor and publisher of the Paris Kentuckian-Citizen, was elected president; Joe Costello, editor and publisher of the Owensboro Messenger, was elected secretary.

The permanent organization will be perfected and the remainder of the officers selected at a meeting to be held in Louisville October 7.

Local Judging Team Twelfth At State Fair

The livestock judging team of the vocational agricultural class of the Carlisle high school placed twelfth among 39 similar teams from all parts of the state at the Kentucky State Fair at Louisville last week. The boys judged a total of 1,000 head, three of dairy cattle, two of beef cattle, two of sheep and two of hogs. The individual score of each contestant, out of a possible 450 points, was: Ernest Allen, 374; Jesse Hutchison, 371; Edward Pumphrey, 315. Judged by the class alone, the team fired twenty in the judging selected five hogs which placed them in the top of the total points, the local team was the twelfth place.

Due to the fact that the judging team has had one year of training, it made a much better showing than last year's team. With the same training and experience the present year, the team hopes to be among the top teams at the State Fair next year, if the fair next year.

The judging team is coached by Mr. C. B. Leonard, instructor of the Carlisle vocational department.

This week visiting a number of farms to judge stock. Mr. Leonard and members of the team wish to express their appreciation to the farmers who have cooperated with them in this work.

University Of Kentucky To Open Season Saturday

Swinging into action at home against the V. M. I. Cadets, Kentucky's Wildcats will open their nine-game Southern Conference football schedule at Lexington Saturday afternoon, September 24. The Wildcats have spent their fall practice session on Labor Day.

The Kentucky and the Cadets have occupied a place on the Kentucky gridiron near the last of the season. That they are to be met in the first conference battle of the year, is a matter of interest to the fans.

Kentucky's first game with the colorful "shipwreck" Kelly, who was graduated in June from West Point, will be a more potent test than any of the Wildcat candidates will present a more powerful and experienced opponent than was had last season. Among the Cadets are Jack Kerchevall, of Salt Lick; Ellis Johnson, Ashland; Jack Ryan, Mahoska; Malcolm Dunn, Nicholasville; Jack Jean, Owensboro; Daniel Durbin, Louisville, and several others.

The line appears to be every bit as strong as last season's, which was headed last season by Captain Wright. Wright tipped the scales at 240 pounds, should be at least 250 this year. Others gravitating around him, including Captain Boyd Fenwick, Ashland, Ky., at 195; Hall, 190; Wagner, 195; Rupert, 193 and Kreuter 190.

The Saturday following the V. M. I. game the Cats will play Georgetown at Lexington, and then will prepare for the invasion of Atlanta, where they will meet Georgia Tech.

PLAN TO PREVENT FIRES

Calling attention to the deplorable loss of human lives and the property waste of approximately half a billion dollars annually through fires, President Hoover proclaimed the October 9th to be observed by the citizens of the nation as "Fire Prevention Day."

The president in his proclamation, calls attention to the per capita loss in this country which is now nearly double that it was 20 years ago.

Nearly everyone realizes that many fires are caused each year by negligent failure on the part of property owners and by the failure to observe precautions to avoid such a disaster.

Aladdin Lamp Burns 50 Hours On Gallon Of Oil

An advertisement of C. R. King in last week's Mercury stated that the Aladdin lamp burns 50 hours that burns for five hours on one gallon of oil.

This, of course, was a typographical error. The Aladdin will give a clear, bright light on a gallon of oil for 50 hours.

Prices on this lamp are now reduced. Mr. King says. He is giving a beautiful Aladdin free on October 15.

Body Is Preserved By Restorative Process

(Hardin County Enterprise)

The restorative process which has been presented for future exhibition at Elizabethtown, Ky., Cave in Barren county, through a restorative process performed on a lost Saturday by Prof. C. F. Calloway, professor of anatomy of the University of Minnesota, assisted by Logan Dixon, Elizabethtown funeral director and Mr. Hardin funeral director at Smiths Grove.

The body had been buried for three years on the Collins farm, but was found one day the week and placed in a metal casket in the cave, where it remained for the past four years.

In restoring the body last Saturday it was found necessary to remove the vital organs of the deceased being used as guides. Prof. Calloway, who is a specialist in restorative processes, assured the accompanying mourners, attended Mrs. Collins' body restoration.

Richmond Says Salaries Will Be Paid Teachers

Within the next few days, James H Richmond, superintendent of public instruction, will announce a plan under which county school boards will be able to pay salaries to their teachers.

Mr. Richmond returned Sunday from Washington D. C., where he conferred near three days in a conference with Alec Pomerene of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation in connection with a loan of $6,500,000 for the state of Kentucky.

Kentucky sought to obtain a loan of $3,000,000 to retire outstanding interest-bearing warrants. $2,900,000 to pay teachers—salaries and $1,500,000 for welfare and unemployment work.

Mr. Richmond said the conference was satisfactory and that the plan which he would announce whereby teachers would be paid their salaries was outlined at the conference.

Seldon R. Glenn, member of the state tax commission, conferred with Mr. Pomerene the question of the $1,000,000 loan for redemption state warrants. He had no statement to make as to the outcome of the conference.

PRECINCT WORKERS ARE SELECTED BY COUNTY CHAIRMEN

Initial Steps Taken In Forming Democratic County Organization Here

TO MEET IN OCTOBER

Initial steps in the forming of a Democratic campaign organization in Nicholas county were taken, last week, when Warren Fisher, county campaign chairman, and Mrs. B. F. Reynolds, secretary, met for two women, announced the appointment of precinct chairmen and workers in the eighteen precincts of the county.

In making the appointments many of the younger Democrats of the county have been selected as precinct workers and these are urged to take active part in this work, which eventually they must take up for their party.

A meeting to further perfect plans will be called here in October, at which time it is hoped that all precinct chairmen and all precinct workers who can possibly attend will be present.

Below are the lists of men and women workers selected in the various precincts:

State Asks Bids On New Highway

Will Open Bids October 26 For Grade And Drain Of Carlisle And Millersburg Road

The State Highway Commission, in an advertisement in this issue, announces that sealed bids will be received at Frankfort on October 26 for grading and drain of the Carlisle-Millersburg road, beginning at the Bourbon county line in Junction with the Maysville and Lexington road, a distance of approximately 3.1 miles.

If a contract is awarded at the October meeting it is probable that work will be started at once and the grade and drain of the road will be completed during the winter. Paving will be done next year.

Deeds for all of the right-of-ways in this county have been delivered to the State Highway Commission at its meeting two weeks ago.

Dispose Of Two Estates In Will

Wills Of Mrs. Wiggins And Miss Kate Ashby Are Filed For Probate In County Court

The wills of the late Artie Wiggins and the late Miss Kate Ashby were offered to probate in county court last week.

After providing for the payment of all just debts, Mrs. Wiggins disposed of his estate as follows: To his widow, Mrs. Belle Wiggins, the farm on which he resided, known as the Dock Miller farm, located on the Maysville and Lexington road, to be here forever, with the proviso that the remainder of all real property during her life-time shall be sold at public sale and the proceeds of personal property to be here absolutely. All household and kitchen furniture he bequeathed to Mrs. Wiggins. The remainder of his estate he left to be divided among his heirs-at-law. Henry L. Stephens, nephew of the deceased, was nominated as executors of the estate and were given full power and authority to dispose of the land and other property in order to settle the estate. The will was dated June 8, 1926.

At the time of his death Mr. Wiggins owned 943 acres of land.

The will of Miss Ashby, after providing for the payment of all just debts, disposed of her estate as follows: For masses, $100; for the support of her lot in the Catholic cemetery in Paris, $100; to Robert George, of Carlisle, $100; to Catherine Ashby, daughter of Mrs. John Salmons, of Mt. Sterling, $100; to William Conley, Jr., and Anna May Conley, $200. All of the remainder of the estate is bequeathed to the Right Reverend Francis W. Howard, Bishop of Covington, Ky., and his successors to be placed in trust for the education of worthy young men themselves for the priesthood and for the assistance of needy youth in the past work with Mrs. Frances Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Duncan and children spent Sunday with Mr
