Herman Craycraft, farmer of the Jacksonville section of the county, was brought to the JOhnson Memorial hospital in Maysville Monday for an operation for appendicitis. He was stripped and placed on the operating table and was being given ether when suddenly he jumped from the operating table, ran down the stairs and out of the building, undressed. Hold-unconscious, Craycraft declared, "I must see my babies." When he recovered from the effects of the ether, Craycraft would not be reconciled and insisted on dressing. He was given his clothes and despite protestations of physicians and nurses, started afoot for his home six miles from Carlisle.
