The proud Pharisees never knew the power of God, but sin-sick sinners found the Saviour. His name to call sinners to repentance, and associated with them in fulfilment of His mission. His words were a stern rebuke to their pride and self-conceit. Why should He spend His time with those when they were so sure they did not need Him? His defenses, wants, disputes and kills. Men cannot relieve the sinner, education, culture, reformation, rituals and religion will not cure sin. Blessed is the man who has awakened to his condition before God, and has received Christ as his Saviour. Coming 9:30. You are welcome.

CITY SCHOOL NEWS

Religious Education

Last week marked the beginning of another course in the unique and pioneering study of religion, known as the Religious Education.

On Tuesday of last week the pastors of the churches of Carlisle took themselves the strain, or rather the pleasure as they stated it, of keeping the Carlisle schools a better understanding of the principles of Christ. This course of study consists of the parables of Christ. Every Tuesday finds the class studying one of these parables.

The students and faculty of Carlisle school feel very proud of the progress that has been made in this religious study, because this school was the first in Kentucky and probably in the United States to set up a course of religious study. Interest in study now has spread into other schools of the state. The school is expecting further gains from the course during this year of study.

Books Borrowed For School

The school library has written to the Kentucky Library Commission at Frankfort asking for a traveling library consisting of from fifty to one hundred books which will be added for a limited time to the supply made up from hundred books now contained in the library.

Athletics

During the current basketball season, we have heard of variety teams, second teams, major teams, etc. To cap the climax, a new organization has been formed in our sports department known as the "pigmies." This new section consists of the smaller boys from the lower grades who are anxious to get a good start in the new idea, but it is only conceivable that the younger one starts the sooner one develops. Coach Coleman Chesnut has been teaching the boys the principles of basketball such as pivoting, passing and shooting. The enthusiasm with which these youngsters attack their work gives us hope for the future basketball team.

Friday night, the pigmies played a preliminary game with the girls pigmies, using players were seen. Little Jimmie Coleman, who is a pigmie, weighs 64 being star boxplayers before joining with several other teammates following close behind.

New Encyclopedia Added

A new 23-volume set of Funk and Wagnalls New Standard Encyclopedia have been added to the high school library. These books are up to date and furnish reference to the modern sciences and studies. Since they are smaller and more easily handled than the other encyclopedias, we feel sure they will be of great help to the students and faculty.

Seeds Of German Type Of Leaf To Be Planted

Prof. J. B. Pullen, head of the agriculture department of the Kentucky State College planted Saturday one-half teaspoonful of tobacco seeds imported from Germany and said to be the only one kind in the United States free from nicotine. The seeds will be produced in an egg incubator produced by Jack and Jill Farm and sold by an animal guard.

Prof. Pullen, a Kentucky citizen, owns the seeds, which he obtained from Dr. Erich Basc of Germany in exchange for Inspedena serica seeds grown on Chinese country.

Nicotine-free tobacco plants were grown by Dr. Basc, Professor Pullen said, in a greenhouse in Germany under supervision of the ministry of agriculture and economy, directed by Dr. Paul Konig.

Pullen says the tobacco is described as being as harmless to smokers as water, retaining its full tobacco flavor, and containing nicotine which is suitable for salad dressing.

Oklahoma City—Charles F. Urschel released August 1 after nine days $200,000 paid; kidnapers convicted.

Auditors Slam Welfare Board For "Politics"

Charging that the "whole organization is permeated with politics," auditors of the governor's advisory council recommended Tuesday that the public welfare board be reorganized on a nonpartisan basis with the commissioner of welfare in charge of state institutions.

Constitutionally entrusting the administration of state penal and charitable institutions, the auditor's report said that total expenditures by the department of public welfare in 1932 and 1933 were $1,403,800.

Fully twenty per cent of this amount was expended as a bounty for representing the price that taxpayers paid for the political spoils system, continuance of the practice of taking interest bearing warrants, and inefficiency. It said it was remarkable that the institutions were able to operate as well as they have on the small amounts remaining when the "dead loss" was deducted.

CWA Employes Discharged Given Right Of Appeal

Instructions to county Civil Works Administrations regarding appeals of dismissed workers or complaints of workers on wage rates have been sent out by Paul A. Martin, legal adviser to the Civil Works Administration for Kentucky.

"This office is in receipt of a letter from Washington, stating that they are flooded with complaints from every part of the United States complaining of discharge in one form or another and wage rates," Martin stated.

"In order to lessen the burden on the central office," he continued, "it is necessary to set up committees in each county some machinery, providing not only for the right of appeal, but the steps by which appeal may be made.

"We must not be placed in the position of denying our citizens rights that are normally given them in our courts nor ought we to make this machinery difficult or complex.

Martin requested county administrators to make the following arrangements:

"First, to let it be generally known to workers that any man who is dismissed for any reason or thinks he is entitled to a higher wage rate, may have the right of appeal before the local Civil Works Administration and the right to be represented before that board by a representative of his own choosing.

"Second, to furnish this office a copy of the request for appeal, the decision of the board, and any pertinent material used in connection with the case.

"Third, to advise this office weekly of the number of cases coming before local administrations for adjustment and cases in which an appeal is desired from local administrations to this office."

THE CARLISLE MERCURY

VOLUME LXVIII ESTABLISHED 1867 CARLISLE, NICHOLAS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 1934 PUBLISHED THURSDAYS NUMBER 8

DRAWINGS HELD FOR BASKET BALL MEET HERE MARCH 1, 2, 3

Little Rock And Center Hill To Play First Game Here Friday Night

CARLISLE DREW M. M. I.

The drawing for the tournament of the 47th District took place at Millersburg the first of the week. It was as good a draw as any team could ask.

The tournament will open Thursday night, March 1st, with Little Rock playing Center Hill, and Friday afternoon the first game will be between North Middletown and Clintonville, followed by one of the features of the tournament, M. M. I. vs. Carlisle. Friday night the first game will be Ruddels Mill vs. Bourbon County High, and the second between Paris and the winner of the Little Rock-Center Hill encounter. Saturday afternoon the first game is between the winner of the North Middletown-Clintonville and the M. M. I.-Carlisle game, and the second game between the winner of the Ruddels Mill-Bourbon County game and the Paris and Little Rock-Clintonville encounter. The finals Saturday night will be feature games between the two winning teams of the afternoon. Make your plans now and come and see if you are right.

The games Thursday night, March 1st, will start at 8 o'clock; the Friday afternoon games will start at 2 o'clock; Friday night games at 7 o'clock; the Saturday afternoon games at 2 o'clock and the finals on Saturday night at 8 o'clock. Season tickets are on sale at the low price of $1.00, two seats reserved except the press box and the players bench. Admission to the tournament next week.

The Musketeers will close one of the most successful basketball seasons that a Carlisle team ever had this week end when they play Blanford and Somerset, both on the road, in successive nights. The Musketeers defeated both these teams on the home court, and have high hopes of repeating the performance on foreign soil. Although both Blanford and Somerset have shown marked improvement since their encounter here, the Musketeers seem to be the same thing said about them. The Stanford game, you will recall, was the nearest to close as the Somerset encounter, but one can never tell what a team will do, and we hope that the Musketeers are their best selves and that they play up to the standard that they are capable of. If that is the case the Musketeers will win both games.

Its Sellers brought to The Mercury office last week a meat platter which is believed to be between 150 and 200 years old. The platter is now serving the sixth generation, Mr. Sellers said.

CWA TO DROP 400,000 FROM PAYROLLS IN RURAL COMMUNITIES

Ten Per Cent Weekly Reduction To Be Started Friday In Kentucky

SANITARY WORKS STOP

The civil works administration will drop 400,000 workers in rural areas throughout the country on Friday, February 23.

Announcing new regulations for the CWA Monday, Harry L. Hopkins, administrator, said that for the present the maximum wage would be 24 a week in cities and 15 in rural areas.

The demobilization which started last Friday with the discharge of between 150,000 and 200,000 workers on federal projects, will be carried on at the rate of about 400,000 a week for a week through March. After that it is scheduled to be accelerated until the entire force of 4,000,000 men and women will be completely discharged by May 1.

The demobilization order affects every state equally insofar as it has gone out, Hopkins said.

The new regulations as Hopkins outlined them:

1—All persons living in households where another member is working, whether on relief or private employment, will be dropped first.

2—All persons who have other resources.

Civil works will be maintained as necessary in rural and metropolitan cities.

The wage scale under the new arrangement will be the prevailing scale for the type of labor done in the local community with a minimum of 30 cents per hour for common labor.

State administrations will be expected to examine local charges or grievances through social workers or investigators.

The rural areas were selected for the first demobilization because many towns of usual farming and open spaces who now little opportunity for work, Hopkins said. Hopkins feels that these men having made seven or eight weeks wages or more, should be able to go back to their farms and raise a crop without suffering.

The project of constructing sanitary toilets in Carlisle and Nicholas county, which had been in progress for several weeks, was stopped last week upon orders from Thornton Wilson, state administrator. Twelve men had been engaged in the work here.

Clay White and his father were slain last December and robbed of $14 and an automobile. The bodies of the two men, both together with their wives, were found in Green river a day or two later. The three youths, in Clay White's automobile, were arrested in an Ohio village near Cincinnati a few days after the crime.

The only other occupant of the house was Mrs. Alice Conrad, grandmother of her husband, an invalid confined to bed.
