FROM OVER THE LINE

(By J. W. Rogers)

A hobo song that might apply to some of us:

"How can I get work, when there's no work to do for me? I don't like work, and work don't like me? Hallelujah, give the hand out. Hallelujah, I'm starving, I'm broke, I'm hungry, I revive in again."

Two hobos on the street the other day the following conversation was overheard: "What's it to you, Bindlestiff for, Jim?" "Per skinnin other fellows," said Jim. "You mustn't skin a fellow in private. Go to de government jail where we are, and perhaps you." "You don't say, skinnin in de government jail, ain't again de law?" "No, no. All you hafter do is spit de criminals wid de law and you gets plenty of perfection."

Long time ago, a young man attended the Parks Ferry camp meeting, one Sunday in August. Late in the evening, while the train was making up its load of passengers, the young man spied a car, looking for a seat. Soon he saw room for one on a seat occupied by a beautiful young lady. Approaching, he asked, "Is this seat taken?" "No sir" replied the fair one, as she moved a bit to make room. Seated, the young man finally broke the silence by saying "It's quite worrisome to sit and wait so long for a train to start." "Sure," said the girl, and a social conversation followed as the train was up to Carlisle. The young man learned that the young lady was a Carlisle girl. He found out where the young man was from. He had been married since April, but he didn't tell it. As the girl alighted from the car at Carlisle, she said, "Goodbye, lovely goodbye, and the young man tried to do the same but the lovely girl was very well. See? Who was that young lady? I don't know. The young man's I was.

We were pleased to meet Mr. J. W. Burnam of near Carlisle, a few days ago. He tells us of the passing away of his venerable father, not long ago, whom we know from our childhood, but had not seen often for many years.

The genial Mr and Mrs. Hayden Smith, of Nicholas county, were in Cynthiana last Saturday on business. These good people seem to have friends here, and there, and everywhere.

The present status of facts in regard to ousting people from school, A. B. Dowd, member of the Harrison county school board, is hereby submitted, for the benefit of school people: "Following statements by Attorney Wade H. Hall representing J. W. Rogers and others, who brought charges before this county board a few weeks ago, and Attorney L. M. Cream, Williamstown, representing Mr. Dowd, and the State's Attorney General in the counsel room of the Superintendent of public instruction, all concurring, Supt. Richmond declared that he did not have jurisdiction in the case, and referred it to the Harrison county board, with instructions to Mr. Dowd to proceed in the Harrison county court to compel to have the proper construction of the various charges, as mentioned in last week's Mercury. The office under the law is declared vacant automatically, and Mr. Dowd cannot act as a member until the charges have been disproved. Such actions will probably be taken, next term of court.

There is a union strange and strong, that broke our chain to freedom when we have taught in school skin to the union of kin. We have to court humanity, in our Harrison county, but looking 'over the line,' we see a beautiful union, free union. Among them this week we think of Cleaves Rankin, who is at Bell County, Paris, from Saltwell vicinity; gently smiling her way through life; Misses Patty Rae Buchanan, Irene McClanahan and Winston Berry, all of Rose Hill, now a teacher in Headquarters high school. By this union we may ever, live to soothe each others' woes. Nothing ever to disunite, we shall dwell in sweet repose.

JUNE

And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays:
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten;
Every clod feels a stir of might,
An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And groping blindly above it for light,
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;
The flush of life may well be seen
Thrilling back over hills and valleys;
The cowslip startles in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there's never a leaf, nor blade too mean
To be some happy creature's palace;
The little bird sits at his door in the sun,
Atilt like a blossom among the leaves,
And lets his illumined being o'errun
With the delirious music of his throat;
Given back the eggs beneath her wings,
And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings,
He is a happy spirit goes about
To her nest—
Is the nice ear of nature, which song is the best?
