PRATHER HALL

The abandonment of crucifixion is the fitting climax to the descent of Christ from the history of the lowest humiliation. The dread darkness that three hours was but an indication of the withdrawal of the divine Presence from the silent Sufferer. He had walked in the light of His Father's smile. Now! He was deserted by God, and became accursed of God. Sinless, He became sin. Then it was that He from above entered into his bones. Then it was that the Spirit troubled Him. It was the travail of sin in these dark hours that settled the question of redemption. Then the Spirit of God of Satan and abandoned by God. He was the most forlorn and forsaken creature in the universe. But in the midst of his sufferings He did not forget the fate of that unhappy being who was to come at the seed of counless ancestors when they crucified their Messiah.

LOCAL AGRICULTURE CLASS COMPLETES 79 PROJECTS PAST YEAR

Report Of G. B. Leonard Shows 31 Class Members Had $6,524.58 Income

100 PROJECTS PLANNED

G. B. Leonard, teacher of vocational agriculture in the Carlisle high school, has submitted to O. Ivan Barnes, director of Vocational Education at Frankfort, and to the Carlisle city school board, a report of his activities for the past year.

A detailed report of the projects completed by members of the vocational agriculture class shows the following:

Tobacco—29 projects, with a total of 24 acres, upon which 24,625 pounds were produced. The total income was $2,503.79; the cost was $1,024.20, leaving a labor income of $1,308.59.

Corn—12 projects, with a total of 22½ acres, which yielded 964 bushels, or an average of 42 bushels per acre. The labor income from the corn projects was $273.70.

Alfalfa—3 projects hay projects, with 7½ acres, yielded 41,500 pounds, or an average of 2.7 tons per acre.

Hogs—Nine hog projects, with 12 sows, which raised 84 pigs for a total of 12,860 pounds of pork. The labor income from these projects was $136.08.

Turkeys—Five turkey projects, started with 21 hens, raised 166 turkeys, which weighed 2,490 pounds, or an average of 15 pounds per poult. These turkeys brought a total income of $205.68. The profit was $225.73.

Beef cattle—Five baby beef projects completed seven calves which gained 2,005 pounds.

Sheep—Sixteen projects, with 130 ewes, produced 206 lambs, or 1.58 lambs per ewe. These lambs weighed 15,987 pounds, or 123 pounds of lambs produced per ewe. The total income from these lambs was $1,246.66, or almost $10 per ewe. The cost of production was $643.15, which left a labor income of $714.47.

Poultry—42 poultry projects completed for a total income of $6,534.58. The cost of production was $3,743.13, leaving a net labor income of $2,791.45. The income for the previous year was approximately $1,400, and it will be seen that the income for the past year was practically two times as great as the year before.

For the coming year the boys propose to complete 100 projects, consisting of 20 tobacco, 25 corn, 5 hay, 1 Irish potatoes, 1 sweet potatoes, 16 sows, 10 beef cattle, 8 turkeys. The boys will have projects the coming year, or an average of approximately three projects per boy.

Some of the outstanding projects completed by some of the boys are as follows:

Everett Wilson, on one acre of land, produced 1,510 pounds of tobacco, which sold for $154.55, or an average of $23.48 per hundred.

Eugene Cassell, on three fourths acre, harvested 56 pounds and raised 48, which brought $103.30, or an average of $1.84 per hundred.

Junior Berry, with ten ewes, produced 20 lambs, which sold for $113.97, or a labor income of $82.87.

Spencer Hughes, on one acre, produced 94 bushels of corn, which brought $53.90.

Jack Rankin, with one sow, produced 1,550 pounds of pork. The feed cost per pound of pork was 3.6 cents. The total cost of producing a pound was 3 cents.

Allen Clay, with one Hereford calf, obtained a gain of 600 pounds, which brought $55.20.

Clay Mann, with two acres, produced six tons of alfalfa hay, which brought $78. The total cost was $17.25, leaving a labor income of $57.26.

Thirty-one boys completed the projects for the past year. This report shows a big improvement over the preceding year, due to more interest and better projects.

During the past year, G. B. Leonard made 152 supervisory visits, and traveled 2,346 miles. He also spent 16 days in summer school and was on the field 48 days.

Johnson To Fight Against Removal From Road Body

Ben Johnson, of Bardstown, chairman of the State Highway Commission, last week started shaping a legal shield to protect his position from the legislative "knife" which Governor Ruby Laffoon has promised to use to prune him from the road body.

Johnson, veteran political leader and for some time foe of the Governor, announced that he had engaged three lawyers to test the validity of the "course" bill enacted into law by the 1934 legislature. Under provisions of the new law, which became effective yesterday, the Governor may remove, for cause deemed sufficient to him, any department head or deputy he has appointed.

Minstrel For Undernourished Children Given Two Nights

Two fairly large audiences attended the "Dixie Blackbirds Minstrels" given in the city school auditorium on Friday and Saturday nights of last week. The show was repeated on Saturday night because of the threatening weather on Friday night, which prevented many from attending.

The show was sponsored by the Carlisle Lions Club and proceeds will be used in providing a week's trip at Camp Black Hawk for undernourished children of the county.

Miss Annie Mae Thomson, of Atlanta, Ga., representative of the Wayne Sewell Producing Company, was director of the show, which was said by the audience to have been one of the best home talent minstrels seen here in years.

Julian Atkinson Is Again Honored

Bishop Confirms Large Class Here

Sacrament Of Confirmation Administered To Thirty-One In Ceremony Here Monday Night

In a beautiful and impressive ceremony the Sacrament of Confirmation was administered to thirty boys and girls and one adult by the Most Rev. Bishop Francis W. Howard, of Covington, at St. John's Catholic church here Monday night.

This was the first class to be confirmed here since the parish was in all probability the largest class ever confirmed in St. John's church.

A large audience was present for the occasion. Father O. Jacob, pastor of the church, having extended a general invitation to the public to witness the impressive rites.

Mr. Breckinridge pointed out that Kentucky in 1928 paid the revenue for burley tobacco was between 21 and 22 cents per pound, while during the years from 1929 to 1934 the average has been between 10 and 11 cents. "I am certain as I sit of the rising sun that with this revenue taken the leverage for burley tobacco will equal or exceed the average paid before 1928," he stated.

Discussing the enormous amount of taxes collected by the government from tobacco, the speaker said that in the five-year period since 1929 the government has collected over $4,000,000,000 from the tax on tobacco products. The annual revenue taken by the government on tobacco has averaged over $400,000,000, he declared.

The swishing, snapping, and whistling of the Aurora Borealis has been recorded on a phonograph record by E. T. Burton and E. M. Boardman, electrical engineers.

SALES TAX MEASURE IS PASSED BY HOUSE BY VOTE OF 51 TO 47

Speaker Rogers Casts Deciding Vote In Third Trial For Administration Bill

SENATE VOTES TODAY

Mustering 51 votes, exactly the number required, administration forces put their $11,000,000 three percent sales tax bill over the top in the House at Frankfort last Friday. Speaker W. E. Rogers cast the decisive vote that brought approval for the measure on its third test. The final vote was 51 in favor and 47 against the bill.

When the roll-call, climaxing a brief but hot debate, was completed, the Speaker asked the clerk to call his name. The vote then stood 50 to 47 against the bill. Rogers explained: "I have heard it rumored that there are organizations in this state known as the Retail Merchants Association. I am a political organization." the Speaker said calmly. "I dismiss them to get full credit for the passage of the bill, so I vote aye." The "clincher" motion was applied immediately after the bill was passed, preventing its reconsideration without a vote.

The Senate will vote on the measure today. Leaders of both parties in administration forces say it will be passed.

Smallest Wheat Crop Since 1893 Forecast

Long pent-up rains, unloosed in torrents, washed away some drouth worries along a broad area from the Upper Lakes region to the Pacific coast Friday, but in certain sections the downpours merely increased the distress of farmers.

Rejoicing over the break in the drouth was tempered by windstorm and dust damage in Iowa and South Dakota. In Northwest Iowa, dust damage was caused by soil blowing.

The smallest total wheat crop since 1893 was estimated for the United States by the Department of Agriculture, the major cause of the curtailment being the drouth. This estimate is about 123,000,000 bushels below domestic consumption.

Production of winter wheat was forecast at 400,275,000 bushels, a reduction of 41,000,000 bushels during May. The spring wheat crop was estimated at 106,000,000 bushels, making a total for the year of about 506,000,000 bushels.

Domestic consumption used up 497,000,000 bushels, to supply the normal domestic consumption of 425,000,000 bushels.

President Roosevelt Friday set aside 500,000,000 of the proposed $525,000,000 drouth relief appropriation for the aid of farmers in cities affected by the water shortage.
