Weather Record Broken In Kentucky In February

Snooting away on top of a snowstorm that visited three lives in the state and blanketed all of Kentucky as well as states farther north, winter early in ushering an erratic four weeks by kicking up a number of dust records in the weather bureau.

Records in Louisville, despite the fact that snow in some parts of the state is the heaviest in years, show that this month was the third driest February since 1867. And since the ground was frozen and the weather assumed hefty into his winter quarters, these four weeks have included days when weather than December and January combined.

Rainfall for the precipitation here is 2.5 inches for the months of January and February. This year it has been 1.42 inches.

At Ashland John Marcum, 40, apparently couldn't see a Big Sandy train coming as snow and sleet covered his automobile a windshield Sunday. He drove directly into the path of the train near Ashland.

In Louisville, W. W. Heim, 55, and Matthew Mercolin, 48, negro, were victims of fatal traffic accidents during the storm.

Heavy property loss distress of the needy, and blocking of roads were reported in some sections of the state.

At Pikeville snow was reported the heaviest in years, estimated at 18 inches this morning. The roof of the town's only laundry collapsed under the burden, with damage estimated at $10,000. A number of other roofs gave way. Storm losses also were reported at Hopkinsville and at Mayfield, where the mercury registered zero.

Roads Bryant and Logan, of Kentucky, area the Morrowbone creek near Pikeville, was dynamited to free a mass of snow and ice. Numerous homes along the banks in Harlan county, in the Cumberland river, are rising near the danger mark. Mountain streams near Middlesboro, at the Tennessee line, also were rising. Bank near Owensboro hurried to harbor a barge of coal from floods down the Ohio river.

$122,431,666 Paid Farmers By U. S.

Farm Administration payments to farmers for reducing production were distributed in the last fiscal year totaling $122,431,665 collections from processing, import and compensating taxes.

The Government had collected $102,172,849 in taxes to pay the farm aid benefits, it had dispensed $224,343,31 in rental and benefit payments to wheat, cotton, tobacco and corn growers.

The cotton program had paid $112,129,677 to 1,028,068 farmers 1 cent a pound on their cotton and $10,316,600 in profits on options on Government-held cotton. It had collected $9,194,613 from the taxes on cotton and processors of cotton goods.

In the wheat program the Government collected $24,343,242 and paid out only $45,316,723 to 531,987 farmers.

Collections in the tobacco campaign were $10,336,633 while payments of $13,967,715 were made to 30,644 Southern farmers.

A total of $9,048,426 was collected on corn and hogs and $20,481,201 paid farmers.

365,000 Pounds Of Burley Sold To Date

Markets throughout the burley belt began their ninth week of the current season Monday, with several markets closed for the last time, and many others operating only two or three days a week.

Sales throughout the burley belt for the season are approximately 365,000,000 pounds, accurate figures are hard available. Monday was sales day of the week. Totals at the close of sales a week ago Friday were 335,000,000 pounds.

On the basis of the government's estimate of 1,000,000 pounds in the season's crop, 40 per cent of the 1933 crop remains to be sold. Many tobacco observers do not believe the crop will reach 1,000,000 pounds, however, and there were and perhaps still are some who placed the 1933 crop at 875,000,000 pounds.

Markets generally throughout the burley belt have already passed the grade, but week than during any previous five-day selling period this season, although the average prices as a whole probably will not reveal the advance, due to the quality of the leaf offered.

Man Kidnaped And Robbed Of $4,300 Near Lexington

Three white men, impersonating federal officers and driving in a sedan bearing Illinois county license plates, Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock robbed Joe Kelly, of Columbia, S. C., fruit dealer, enroute to home from Cincinnati, between Berea and Mt. Vernon, drove for four hours throughout Central Kentucky and then robbed Jones of $4,300 in cash.

The bandits left Jones tied in his truck on the Armstrong Mill pike, three miles from Lexington, before leaving they severed the gasoline tank with a hatchet and burn wire so Jones' truck Jones liberated himself fifteen minutes later, went to a farmhouse and called officers.

Senate Would Restore $60,000,000 To Veterans

Sixty million dollars of economy art savings were voted back to veterans Monday by the senate at the same time that President Roosevelt was sending a new warning to the house that he would veto the Patman bonus bill, if it passed.

A Senate Republican-Democratic coalition, by a vote of 51 to 45, put through an amendment by Senators Bulkley (D., Ohio) and McCarran (D., Nev.) to restore to the rolls, with 50 per cent of their former pensions, thousands of World war veterans who were removed by the economy act provisions that they must prove service connection for their disabilities.

President Roosevelt's renewed warning was put in unmistakable terms in a letter to Speaker Rainey. The letter was written to clear up any doubt due to what the President would call Speaker Rainey recently had said that Mr. Roosevelt would not "approve" the bonus bill, and some house leaders contended that he made it appear that he would not veto it if it should be passed.

Senate leaders said the bill would be passed before Friday.

Governor Signs Bill Reduce Truck Licenses

Governor Laffoon Friday signed the bill reducing rent of truck licenses generally 25 per cent. An emergency clause in the measure was demanded and the price of tags were accordingly reduced.

The bill was a companion to a measure passed earlier reducing the price of passenger car licenses approximately 33 per cent. It also went into effect as soon as signed.

February 28 was the last day on which truck owners may obtain their 1934 license plates without arrest. The figures in the new scale range from a 25 per cent reduction in cost for all vehicles except trucks of half a ton or less capacity. The fee for these trucks was reduced by 50 per cent, or from $20 to $10.

Annual State Debating Tournament April 3

The 16th annual State High School Debating Tournament will be held at the University of Kentucky April 3. The members of the two teams which engage in the final debate of the state tournament will be awarded medals, and will have the privilege of participating in the national tournament at Topeka, Kan., May 8. Two British prizes, the Lexington Leader debate trophy, now held by Redland High School, 1933 winner, and the Courier Journal cash prize of $75 will also be awarded the winners. The state debating tournament is under the direction of the University of Kentucky Department of Extension.

The general topic of debate is "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British System of Radio Control and Operation." According to reports received by the department of University Extension, the subject is proving a popular one with debate coaches, debaters and audiences. It is claimed that the side are very highly balanced the subject interesting and within comprehension of the average high school debater.

The plan of the Debating League calls for a series of preliminary debates within each school and with neighboring schools followed by debating tournaments in each of the 11 districts into which the state is divided. Maysville has been selected as the site for the tournament in this district and the debate will be held March 13.

The Entered Apprentice degree will be conferred on Friday night, March 6, at 8 o'clock, P. M., next Monday night, March 5. All Masons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Tea Blair qualified in county court Friday as administratrix of the estate of her father, the late Henry P. Myers, and executed bond of $500 with A. A. Dale and H. T. Myers sureties.

The Blue Grass Produce Company quoted the following prices for produce Wednesday: Eggs, 14c; hens, 16c to 18c; roosters, 6c to 7c; stags, 8c to 9c; turkeys, 18c; springers, 1½ lbs., 20c; 2 lbs. 18c; ducks, 7 to 8c; geese, 7c to 8c; beef hides, 4c to 5c.

A local code authority for wholesale and retail trade in the central and eastern Kentucky counties was established at a meeting held at Woodland auditorium in Lexington Tuesday night. Nicholas is one of the 17 counties in the district and was represented at the meeting.

Yesterday was the last day of grace allowed owners of trucks to operate with 1932 license plates. County Clerk John P. Sugg had issued large number of new tags soon Wednesday, but almost half of the trucks licensed last year were still without new plates. Approximately 1,100 passenger cars have been issued.

Norman D. Brown, 40 years old, secretary and treasurer of the Wolfram Click Stoves, died on February 10 at Tyler, Tex. Mr. Brown was a native of this section of the state and was well known in Carlisle where he produced a number of home talent shows several years ago. He was formerly connected with the Lewis Wrate Ministrels.

Miss Edith Loney, specialist in girls club work at the University of Kentucky, was in Carlisle Saturday morning with leaders of 4-H girls clubs to discuss and make plans for the completion of the work of girls 4H Club sewing projects. Those present at the meeting held in the court house were Miss Thelma Linville, Miss Kitty Betts, Miss Hope Fryman, Mrs. R. J. Mann.

Nicholas county world war veterans would receive $124,793.76 by the payment of the bonus, according to complete figures for every county in each state in the Congressional Record. The total which would be paid Kentucky veterans is $3,848,481.48 However, President Roosevelt has warned Congress that he will veto the Patman bill calling for immediate payment of the bonus if it is passed.

The 100-acre farm of the heirs of the late A. M. Collins on the Millersburg Pike pike in this county was offered at public auction Saturday but was withdrawn when the highest bid made was $75 per acre. The tract was sold recently at auction for $100 per acre but because of difficulties arising from settlement of the estate that time the deal was not completed and the farm reverted to the original owners.

Bird lovers and farmers are urged to put out feed for their friends during the extreme cold weather and especially while the snow covers the ground. A little grain or suet will attract a wide variety of birds to your yard, and the addition of a little lukewarm water will make it even more attractive to the birds. Quail suffer heavy losses from starvation during this kind of weather. A little grain thrown near their cover may result in a big flock of birds next fall.

Warren Fisher, chairman of the CWA committee in this county, Monday received a telegram from General Ellerbe W. Carter in which it was stated that the State CWA committee would remove the armory project at Carlisle at this time. It is expected, however, the telegram said, that a new works program will be started within a few weeks. In the event a new works program is started the Carlisle armory project will be one of the first projects considered and will in all probability be approved.

In an article in last week's issue of The Mercury stated that Alonzo McKenzie, of the Little Rock section, surrounded by his family, had left for a trip to Paris to serve the remainder of a sentence given him last summer. The name should have been Howard McKenzie. The Mercury copied the article from Paris news in daily papers. Alonzo McKenzie is one of the best known farmers of the Little Rock section and The Mercury regrets any embarrassment publication of his name in connection with this affair has caused him.

WHITE NARCISSUS

These frosty panes that stand between
My window-garden and the keen
Breath of Old Winter—stay not let
Your fragrance, white narcissus, go
Down bulbs, quite undismayed by
Lilies calendars and rumorings
Of pity, weather-wise, March 1, you
Are showing signs of Spring today.
Your pale green fingers seem to hold
A charm against the creeping cold.
Soon each undaunted spike will
Bloom
Until my strangely altered room
Is filled with sunshine and the sky
Can darken, though the snowflakes fly.
Those white narcissi have some link
With understanding hearts, I think.
The ice-locked earth may still be slow
To welcome April, Even so,
What power has any season here
When the first, fragrant bulb appear?
I have seen gardens—Who can wish
Their paths and mark one flower stalk?
There lilies on my window-sill
Bloom valiantly despite the chill;
Yet I have felt a timelessness remain
The same behind my frosty panes.
