Trustees Elected Now Serve Until November

The following information has been received here from the Department of Education at Frankfort, relative to the election of school trustees in the independent graded school districts:

"The new school code will become effective about the middle of June. Election of board members of independent graded school districts will take place before that date will be held in accordance with the present school law.

"The new school code provides for the election in November of five board members in all independent graded school districts. The board members that may be elected in May can serve only until the time when the board members elected in November take office.

"The present school law provides that boards of education of independent graded school districts shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. If the election in November is held in any independent graded school district in May, the board members now in office may continue to serve until their successors are elected and qualified or until the vacancy has been filled by the remaining members of the board as is now provided by law for independent graded school districts."

"The decision to request the congressional committee to make an investigation in Kentucky was made Gen. Delmhardt said, at a meeting held Friday in Louisville. Representatives of the national capital of American Legion and the officers of service groups attended the meeting.

Gen. Denhardt described the movement in Kentucky as akin to the Nazi movement in Germany. He said he believed it was part of the "Silver Shirt" propaganda which has been spread in various parts of the United States.

No Special Session Until After The Derby

According to latest reports from Frankfort, if there is to be an extraordinary session of the Kentucky General Assembly it will not be until after the Kentucky Derby, May 5.

This decision is alleged to have been reached at a conference of Administration leaders. The delay, it seems, is for the purpose of enlisting additional support for the proposed new taxation program, it appearing that the state is almost evenly divided at present.

"There's a glow in the crimson clover, a laugh in the bubbling spring; The flower-decked sod is the gift of God, there's joy in every thing."

The Harrison County Board of Education, at its regular meeting April 2, before appointing teachers for the coming term of schools passed a resolution, by a vote of 3 to 2, not to appoint any teachers now or henceforth, who do not possess 64 or more semester hours credit from a recent college course. The resolution would cost 17 regular standard, experienced teachers now on the job, and duly and regularly elected, for the coming term, by the local district trustee boards, before the resolution was passed. The writer is one of the number affected by the resolution. All manner of reasonable and legal arguments are bracing on the board asking that the resolution be rescinded, so as not to oust teachers now teaching and qualified to teach the schools they and their trustees have been allowed to contract, before adoption of the resolution. Litigation proceedings are pending, which should the board still refuse to rescind the resolution or its modification so as to permit such teachers to finish their contracts and young teachers who lack a few credits yet to complete their full certification, are affected. General indignation and dissatisfaction prevails over the county.

A bill to provide for the creation of the Pioneer National Monument in Kentucky, embracing Fort Boonesboro, Boone's Station, Bryan's Station and Blue Licks Battlefield has been introduced in the House by Congressman Virgil Chapman. The same measure has been offered in the Senate by Senator Alben W. Barkley.

Driver Is Injured As Bus Overturns

Earl Champion, Lexington, Suffers Cuts And Bruises, Passenger Unhurt Near Ellisville

Earl Champion, of Lexington, driver of a Blue Lick bus on the route between Lexington and Maysville, suffered cuts and bruises about the arms and his right hand was badly bruised when at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning when the bus he was driving overturned on the Maysville and Lexington road near the Wells road and drove a short distance from Ellisville. Champion was brought to Carlisle by a passing motorist and was taken to the Hilbora Memorial hospital for treatment. Bruce Applegate, of Maysville, the only passenger on the bus escaped with a shaking up.

The accident occurred when the front springs on the bus broke and the bus went sideways and rolled over under the bus. Champion was dragged along for the road for a considerable distance before the bus overturned.

Mother Accused Of Kidnaping Girl, 11

Bourbon county officials are searching for Mrs. Leona Osborne Indianapolis, mother of 4-year-old Martha Osborne, who was dragged, screaming, from the school yard of the schoolhouse at Clay's Cross Roads near Paris, and forced into a waiting automobile.

The kidnaping occurred at the school, said the children were being taken into the schoolyard to practice for a forthcoming commencement and athletic tournament. Miss Clay said she heard a bloodcurdling child scream and when the teacher ran to the door she saw the school girl and the child being pulled, toward the automobile.

The teacher ran toward the car, but the child had been forced into the automobile and the car was reached it. She recognized the mother and kidnapper of the child, but said she did not know the third occupant of the machine, a man.

When Miss Clay attempted to pursue the kidnapping party she was screaming child, the grandmother shouted "the judge sent us for her." Before any further conversation took place the machine pulled away. Miss Clay said the father of the child, who went to Paris and swore out a warrant for the kidnaping charge against his wife, from whom he is separated. The girl had been in the custody of her father, Tom Osborne, since the couple separated recently.

Guards Patrol Capital After Governor Threatened

Fifteen members of the Kentucky National Guard, armed with submachine guns, tear gas bombs and pistols, are on active duty in the capital city of Frankfort, Gov. Laffoon and the state reformatory as a result of a threatening letter to the chief executive's life if he does not pardon Bob Ferguson, Ohio desperado held in the reformatory.

Adjutant General Denhardt said the men on duty would wear fatigue shirts and would continue on guard duty as long as the emergency necessitated. The Capital crutching squad, he said, would patrol the state house and mansion, but no troops would be posted on the mansion grounds at Governor Laffoon's request.

Before any further conversation took place the machine pulled away. Miss Clay said the father of the child, who went to Paris and swore out a warrant for the kidnaping charge against his wife, from whom he is separated. The girl had been in the custody of her father, Tom Osborne, since the couple separated recently.

ANNOUNCE NEW PLAN AT REGIONAL MEET OF RELIEF BOARDS

Jim Will Martin Is Chosen As Vice Chairman At Cynthiana Monday

MUST RUSH PROJECTS

A regional meeting attended by two representatives from the twenty-one relief committees of Nicholas, Bourbon and Harrison met at Cynthiana Monday for organization of regional committees and instruction in carrying the new relief set-up.

M Peale Collier, of Paris, was chosen chairman and Jim Will Martin, of Carlisle, vice-chairman. Operation of relief work under the new set-up was announced as follows:

Nicholas, Bourbon and Harrison counties will constitute a regional district, with headquarters at Cynthiana. There will be one general Project Officer for the three counties and following the new relief Project Officer will have general charge of the projects in the three counties and all disbursements will be made by a Disbursing Agent. Under the scrip will also be issued from the Cynthiana office at Cynthiana.

Each county will retain its social worker and other relief investigators and will be permitted one commodity clerk who will have charge of the various commodities that are distributed to those on direct relief.

Projects will be applied for in much the same manner as under CWA. Any interested group, that will be responsible for the furnishing of materials, equipment and supervision, may apply for a project. The federal government will pay towards no labor or skilled workers not on relief rolls. If a skilled worker not on relief rolls is required, the county, city, or interested group making application for the project will pay the salary of such worker or supervisor.

It is important that projects be filed in as soon as possible. The cities and counties will rush their projects in immediately and any delay will result in failure to secure approval of projects in time to accomplish the work undertaken.

Seed For Relief Gardens Received

400 Family Packages Of Seed Sent To Garden Supervisor And Distributed Last Week

Four hundred and eighty packages of garden seed for relief gardens in Nicholas county were received last week by Stanley Smart, garden supervisor for this county, and some of the seed has been distributed to persons whose applications were approved.

The packages contain a liberal supply of seed for a family garden, beet, carrots, lettuce, radishes, squash turnip and mustard seed.

The variety of seed sent here this year was much better than that received last year. Gardens will be planted and tended under the supervision of the garden supervisor. All persons on the relief roll are required to raise a garden if possible in obtaining land upon which to cultivate it.

Despite the fact that approximately 1,000,000 cubic yards of concrete have been poured the great Boulder Dam is only about one-third completed.

Plans Made For Observance Of Memorial Day By Legion

Plans for the observance of Memorial Day were made at a meeting of Nicholas Post No. 17, American Legion, last Friday night. Members of the post will meet at the Legion rooms and march to the Carlisle cemetery at 2 o'clock in the afternoon when the graves of the 25 veterans of the World War will be decorated with wreaths. The decoration has been extended to all ex-service men in the county, whether members of the Legion or not, to unite with the Legion in this observance.

Hugh Lewis, field representative of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-service Men's Board, paid the post a second visit Friday and assisted several members in filing applications for restoration of compensation. In an address at the paid meeting Mr. Lewis urged every veteran of the World War to join the American Legion. "No law has ever been enacted for the welfare of disabled men unless it was sponsored by the American Legion," Mr. Lewis said.
