QUALITY ENDURES
Long after memory has lost grasp of minor details in connection with a purchase, or a cherished possession, the object itself, if it be one of quality, remains an active reminder of two sound vital features—the lasting satisfaction from continued service and the fact that the name is backed behind it just that—lasting satisfaction.
Perfection Stove Company is such a name. We keep faith with its public, and by manufacturing only such stoves as would give satisfaction in every user. Perfection has built up a powerful asset of good will which now brings to you . .
LOOK FOR THE TRIANGLE TRADE MARK OF QUALITY
The Range You've Always Wanted
Now, you can have that High-Power Performance you have longed for in a range. Just as you have learned to know and depend on your Perfection Stove for long years, but, the low price now that Perfection "Five" stands for any less quality. On the contrary, Perfection High Power are GREATER VALUES than ever before—they include additional conveniences.
A demonstration will convince you that the High Power is the best range buy today in the world. See it today, or better still, try one in your own kitchen, without obligation.

LYRIC THEATRE

R. W. Neal has taken a position as local representative for Montgomery Ward & Company, Maysville.

Several local people were in Frankfort Monday to participate in the demonstration favoring passage of the sales tax.

A heavy rain fell throughout most of the county Monday night and in some sections damage to growing land was reported. More rain is needed, farmers say.

The Booker T. Washington High school commencement will be held in O.d Fellows Hall in Henryville Thursday night, May 24 at 8 o'clock. The members of the graduating class are Laura Betts Clay and Mary Ann Jones.

Many friends of Nathan Young are pleased to learn that he has recovered his health and last week resumed his post as carrier on Carlisle route R. He had been off the route for the past two months because of illness.

Milton Galbraith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Galbraith, of Carlisle, was thrown from his horse near Millersburg, Barbourville, where he is a junior, in military training. Young Galbraith has been an outstanding student in the college.

At the regular weekly meeting and luncheon of Lions Club, at the Peaback Hotel Tuesday night, a report of the Kentucky and Tennessee district convention in Nashville was made by Robert Fisher and Lawrence Allison, who were delegates from the local club.

Miss Winston Bratton Berry and Miss John B. McClure, of Robertson county are among the forty-eight graduates of the Kentucky Female Orphan School at Midway who received diplomas at the eighty-fourth annual commencement exercises Wednesday morning.

Joe Lovell Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Campbell, of Carlisle, was one of the cadets at the University of Kentucky who received reserve commissions at the annual field day exercises held at the University Wednesday. Young Campbell is a member of the graduating class at the University this year.

Otis Curtis, Myron Berry and Sam George, all of the Myers section, were arrested by Constable Ernest Barton, Tuesday on warrants charging them with disturbing religious worship. The youths are charged with creating a disturbance at the Myers church during prayer meeting services last Thursday night.

Harvey Clary, of Waynesville, Ohio, formerly of Carlisle county, has written to The Mercury stated that a hog on his farm was intentionally fastened up in a stretch. Rightly days later while the straw in the rick was being baled the hog was found to be still alive and was able to run out. The animal had spent standing room during its long imprisonment.

Eight Carlisle students who graduated from the Carlisle high school in the class of 1930 will graduate from college this year. The members who will graduate are: Woodson Knight, J. B. Hamm, Joe Lovell Campbell and Miss Ethel Sneed, University of Kentucky; Calvin Darnell and Miss Jane Rose, Centre College; Miss Lucille Whaley, Kentucky Wesleyan College, and Edwin Hassling, Georgetown College.

A representative of the Standard Oil Company was in Carlisle Monday and paid to the Johnson Memorial hospital all expenses for the treatment of Robert Smallwood, who was injured four months ago when a collision between two trucks at the company's plant here. Mr. Smallwood, who suffered a fractured pelvis, is able to be out but has not recovered sufficiently to resume his position as driver of a tank wagon for the company.

The Mercury has received a price determination schedule of the Graphic Arts Code, fixing the minimum price that can be charged for all job printing. In most cases the prices fixed are slightly higher than those now charged and in some instances much higher. The Mercury had nothing to do with the fixing of the prices, but is required to make the minimum charge. Violations are punishable by heavy fine and all printing concerns are bound by the code. The Mercury, therefore, can furnish you printing as cheaply as anyone in Carlisle and the civil and competition from traveling solicitors.

The suit of Miss Louise Bannister, of Paris, against Rosser Mitchell, of Fleming county, was started in the Nicholas circuit court Monday morning and testimony in the trial was not completed until almost noon Wednesday. Miss Bannister sought damages totaling $9,700 for injuries alleged to have been sustained when the car in which she was riding was struck by the automobile of Miller on the Maysville and Lexington road, near the intersection of the Carlisle road, last year. The jury was still considering the case when The Mercury's forms closed.

FOR A LITTLE WHILE

(Leona Ames Hill)

An apple tree shall grow beside the wall,
And one goldfinch there on a blossomy bough
Will bring me more joy than is my share now
In twenty days. The house shall not be tall,
But low and white, with deep green window shutters,
And a great fireplace, and dark polished floors
Petals will drift in through the open doors
In May, and any dull moth that flutters
From bending darkness will be free to go
His way. Swallows will slant down to the eaves
When dawn's show the silver of their leaves
And robins cry for rain. There I shall know
The names of stars set deep in tranquil skies,
And learn to look in life with quiet eyes.
