FRATHER HALL

In our prayers for this week the Galatians were being and devouring each other; while they supposed themselves to be keeping the law. The law usually acts this way, it makes sore dissatisfaction and contentious. Every effort to direct a course the flesh, set out in self-will is most end in failure. The only way to deal with it is to amputate it. The list of sins in our lesson there are some that we have committed, or even justify, yet they are in the midst of a catalogue of evils.

The shameful death of Christ on the cross should bring to us the sober truth that such were our deserts not his. Christ Himself is our righteousness, we should loathe every effort of our own. Come at 9:30 Every one is welcome to worship with us in the study of God's Word.

BAPTIST CHURCH

R. R. Coury, minister.

A good training course is in progress this week and our people are learning more about their Bible and to love it more. The place of the Bible in our life needs to be seen more and we need to know and to live by its teachings.

This is Armistice Week! Let us be sure that we observe it as Christians. War is the most stupid, most cruelly wasteful, barbarous, pagan, unreasonable, unnecessary thing that modern life knows anything about. God knows the day when they shall not know war any more. The pastor's Armistice day subject will be "Neither Shall They Know War Any More."

We have appreciated the presence of the people of the Christian church with us during the absence of their pastor. Come and worship with us again.

Choir practice will be held Friday night after the study course at the church.

Our Sunday school is holding nicely. If you are a Baptist and not in Sunday school you should be. If you belong to no church we invite you to our Sunday school and worship services.

RED CROSS RELIEF IS GIVEN THOUSANDS IN 103 DISASTERS OF '34

A History of the disasters in the United States in any year is written annually by the American Red Cross, according to Chairman John Barton Payne, commenting on the report for the year ending June 30, 1934, which has just been issued in Washington.

"Because of the charter provision which places upon the Red Cross the responsibility for disaster relief, its chapter and staff workers are notified of all calamities of storm and fire and flood," he continued. "The emergency period may prove to be brief, in cases where the victims have their own resources to draw on. While it lasts, however, we dislocated thousands for the benefit of investigating Red Cross relief."

Continued government control of acreage is necessary to progress in reducing surpluses and increase prices to tobacco growers, the department of agriculture declared in its crop forecast for 1934. It predicted reduced stocks of tobacco and improvement in the supply situation next year.

ROBERT L. GILLISPIE EXPIRES FOLLOWING LINGERING ILLNESS

Prominent Retired Farmer Dies Monday Afternoon At Home In Carlisle

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Mr. Robert L. Gillispie, 70 years old, died about 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at his apartment in the residence of Miss Jennie Gillispie on Maple street, following an illness of more than a year. Mr. Gillispie had been critically ill for only a day or two before his death.

Mr. Gillispie was born in Nicholas county and spent all of his life in the county. He retired his 70th birthday on November 1. For forty-five years he resided on his farm on the Pleasant Springs pike, moving to Carlisle several weeks ago because of the condition of his health.

He was one of the most widely known men in the county. For many years had served as a member of the Democratic county committee and as election commissioner of the county. He took an active interest in Democratic politics, although he never sought any political office. He served for many years as commissioner of the Nicholas county infirmary.

Mr. Gillispie was a director in the Hurst House Insurance Company, and served two years as president of the company, resigning because of ill health.

Mr. Gillispie had served for many years as a deacon in the Carlisle Christian church and took an active interest in the affairs of the church.

He was widely known in fox hunters throughout Kentucky, having been a lover and breeder of foxhounds for many years. As soon as his health permitted, he never failed to attend gatherings of fox-hunters.

Mr. Gillispie's wife, Mrs. Mattie Chewa Gillispie, died several months ago. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Hallie Gillispie, of Carlisle, one brother, J. C. Gillispie and two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Burnes and Mrs. John Shannon, all of the county.

Mr. Gillispie was an honorable and upright citizen in every respect and a gentleman of the old school. Loyal and devoted to his friends, fair and honorable in his business transactions, kind and considerate in his dealings with his fellow men, he was truly a noble character. His friends were limited only by his acquaintanceship, and his death brings deep sorrow to his countless friends.

Funeral services were held at the Carlisle Christian church at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Whitehouse. Burial followed in the family lot in the Carlisle cemetery. Elders and deacons of the church served as honorary pallbearers, and the active pallbearers were Prestar Dalzell, Oscar Conway, Ed Mitchell, Mel Metcalfe, J. H. Marr, Joe McConnaughay, Dr. E. A. Campbell and W. B. Piper.

Fire Destroys Stone Store At Sharpsburg

Fire which threatened to sweep through a row of the business section of Sharpsburg was finally brought under control early Monday morning. After the Mt. Sterling fire department had been called to aid by combating the blaze, Eugene Carl, a volunteer fireman, sustained a broken arm while fighting the fire.

The flames destroyed the general store of Robert L. Stone on Main street and spread to other buildings nearby. The fire was discovered about 9:30 Saturday night and was not checked until early Sunday morning.

The loss at the Stone store is estimated at $3,500. The frame building and the Citizens Bank building, the Wade and Wade law office and the home of Rev. Paul Nelson.

City Of Paris Wins In Fight For Electric Plant

The city of Paris won a victory in its controversy with the Kentucky Utilities Company when the court of appeals Friday refused to grant the company an injunction to enjoin the city of Paris and Fayettesville, Mayse and Company from performing a contract made between them for the construction of a municipal electric plant and distribution system.

Prior to the filing of the suit the utilities company had by bonded proceedings compelled the city of Paris to offer for sale an electric franchise, the one held by the company having expired in 1928.

In its ruling the court held that the city was within its rights in constructing a plant and in awarding the contract to Fairbanks, Morse and Company.

HOME GROWN PECANS

Bob Tout Has Thirteen Trees At His Home

Bob Tout, of the Bourbon News section, brought to The Mercury office Tuesday a box of pecans which he had taken from a tree at his home. Mr. Tout has thirteen pecan trees and all are bearing a good crop this year, he said.

The trees have been bearing for ten years, and each year the production has become a little heavier, Mr. Tout said. Only one of the trees is of the paper-shell variety.

Mr. Tout obtained the trees in Kansas and has found no trouble in raising them, he said. The trees are hardy and grow rapidly, and Mr. Tout said he saw no reason why pecan trees could not be produced in this country.

A number of farmers in Bourbon county have pecan trees, it is said. While the trees in this section do not produce as large nuts as those in Southern states, they are of fine quality and production of pecans would afford a source of profitable income, no doubt, if farmers would plant a few trees around their homes.

Death Claims Howard Wills

Popular Member Of Lexington Police Department Was Native Of Carlisle

J. Howard Wills, 41 years old, native of Carlisle and member of the Lexington police department for the past ten years, died at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington last Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock following a week's illness with pneumonia.

Lieutenant Wills was one of the most popular and best known members of the Lexington police department. He was appointed as a patrolman in 1924. He was promoted to sergeant in 1928, and in 1929 was made a second lieutenant. In 1931 he was promoted to first lieutenant and had held that rank until his death.

Lieutenant Wills was born in Nicholas county July 20, 1893, the son of the late Greenup and Lula Ellen Parker Wills. His mother died when he was about four years old and his father died about fifteen years ago.

Wills attended the Carlisle city school, where he was a popular student and a leader in athletics. He enlisted in the Army in 1917 and served throughout the World War.

Following his return home in 1919, Mr. Wills opened a confectionery here in the stand now conducted by Q. T. Diamond. After disposing of his confectionery business, he became a professional base ball player and was pitcher and manager of the Parks team in the old Blue Grass League for five years. He also played in the Pennsylvania State League. He had had made an enviable record in the Lexington police department.

Lieutenant Wills had made an enviable record in the Lexington police department, having participated in the capture of several notorious criminals. He was a member of the Lexington police pistol team which had won several national shooting matches. Several years ago he was shot and seriously wounded by a negro whom he was attempting to arrest.

Lieutenant Wills served as chief guard with the Lexington Party and Eight in 1920 and 1930, and as captain of the Lexington Shrine patrol in 1929, 1930 and 1931. He was an active member of the Shrine, Knights Templar and other Masonic bodies and of the American Legion.

His only near relatives are two uncles, F. W. Wills, of Carlisle, and J. H. Parker, of Louisville, and two cousins, Mrs. Walter Hazelrigg, of Carlisle, and Clarence Wills, of the county.

Howard Wills was one of the most lovable characters this writer has ever known. He was possessed of a happy, cheerful disposition, affable, courteous and kind, loyal to his friends and a generous pagan in spirit. No more popular young man has lived in Carlisle and his countless friends here had endeared him with most sincere regards for his success in his chosen field of labor.

Funeral services were held at the C. A. Baker funeral home in Lexington at 10:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. Archer Morton, of the Christian church, in Lexington. Brief funeral services were conducted at the Odd Fellows at the funeral home. The body was then brought to Carlisle for burial in the family lot in the Carlisle cemetery, with Masonic services at the grave. Lexington Masonic and police officers were pall bearers. The pall bearers were accompanied by remains from Lexington to Carlisle.

Attendance at Protestant and Catholic churches and Jewish synagogs in the United States is now estimated at 30,000,000 weekly.

ALL OF NEW STREET COMPLETED AND IS OPENED TO TRAFFIC

Contractors Throw Open Gates As Last Of Paved Street Is Ready

WORK YET TO BE DONE

With the opening of the remainder of East Main street this week, all of the first concrete road in Nicholas county is now opened to the public. The contract, which included construction of the Carlisle and Millersburg road from the city limits of Carlisle to a point at the Oscar Johnson farm on the Maysville and Lexington road, and Main and Maple streets in Carlisle, was completed last week by the Wilmore Paving Company, of Middletown, Ohio, less than three months after work was started.

The completion of the road will add much to Carlisle and that section of the county through which it passes. The road is causing much traffic from Flemingsburg through Carlisle. The distance between Carlisle and Millersburg is lessened by more than a mile by the cut-off, and several dangerous curves are eliminated.

The new road and streets provide the connecting link between two state highways, the Carlisle and Flemingsburg road and the Carlisle and Sharpsburg road.

Both Main and Maple streets are unusually wide, being paved from curb to curb. New storm and sanitary sewers were installed to replace the inadequate sewers which had been in use.

While the paving has all been completed, the contractors have considerable work yet. Several pavements must be built where they were torn out and many backfillings be completed behind curbs.

A concrete wall will be built on Maple street, from Chestnut to Pleasant, to the Christian church parsonage. This is probable that this wall will be built before winter.

Democrats Take 8 Of 9 Seats

Robison Only Republican Elected To Congress In State; Court Of Appeals Democratic

Kentucky voters re-elected eight Democratic Congressmen in a New Deal victory that left only the Ninth, traditional Republican stronghold, in the hands of the Republicans. Democrats also won seat on the Appellate bench become Democratic. The First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth Congressional districts, as expected, went Democratic. The Ninth, equally certain to go Republican, did so. The Third and Seventh, which were expected to go Democratic, were carried by the Republicans.

In the sweep, Judge Richard Priest, Democratic candidate for Republican incumbent on the court of appeals bench, was placed there by the people of Louisville. Democrat. Emmett O'Neal, Democrat, will be the new member of the Democratic delegation. He defeated Frank M. Drake, Republican nominee from the Louisville district.

For the first time in many years, the court of appeals, after January 1, will have a solid Democratic representation. Judge Dietzman is the only Republican now on the bench.

O'Neal will be the first Democrat to represent Louisville in Congress since 1918. Despite the victory of all of the nominees, the Democrats showing in Ninth was not up to the trend in other states.

Fred M. Vinson carried the Eighth district by more than 11,000 majority over his Republican opponent, Stephen F. Ellison. Vinson carried 17 of the 19 counties in the district, losing only Carter and Lewis. Boyd, the home county of both candidates, gave Vinson more than 1,200 lead.

Official tabulation in various states revealed that the Republican party will have the smallest representation in Washington when Congress meets that party has had since its creation, before the War Between the States. Reports show that Democrats will have more than a 3 to 1 representation in the house and more than 3 to 1 in the Senate.

Gains were registered in the Republican Senatorial victories in Delaware, Michigan, Vermont and Maine, of governorship won from Democrats in New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio and Colorado. Governor Albert C. Ritchie was defeated for his fourth term as governor of Maryland by approximately 3,000 votes.

STATE WARRANTS CALLED

Elam Huddleston, state treasurer, Tuesday called in for payment outstanding interest-bearing warrants against the general expenditure fund amounting to $1,876,277. The warrants were issued between November, 1927 to May, 1928. Interest on them will cease November 27.

Unlicensed Drivers Will Be Arrested

With a warning that all motorists not having drivers' license will be arrested hereafter instead of merely being warned, state police officials have sent 18 of the 22 state patrolmen to various parts of Kentucky to enforce the law.

Eight of the officers were sent to Jefferson county, four to Fayette and adjoining counties, four to Kenton and Campbell counties and two to Boyd county.

Brigadier General Charles H. Carter said the officers have been instructed to arrest all persons driving without a driver's license. They will remain on duty in the various counties until the "mopping up" campaign is completed. Heretofore the officers had been warning violators of the law, but had made few arrests.

Matson Employed As County Agent

Fiscal Court Rescinds Former Action By Vote Of Four To One; Order Election Officers Paid

Rescinding its action taken at the October 8 meeting, the Nicholas fiscal court, in session last Thursday, voted four to one to re-employ R. J. Matson as County Agent for the year 1935. Action on the employment of the agent was taken after T. H. Bryant, of the College of Agriculture, has addressed the court. Magistrates Allison, Bowen, Reed and Bonds voted for the employment of Mr. Matson, while Magistrate Gillispie voted against him.

At the October meeting, Magistrates Allison, Bowen and Gillispie voted against employment of Mr. Matson.

The court made an appropriation of $800 as its share in the salary of a County Agent for next year.

County Clerk John P. Sugg was instructed to pay all election officers who served in 1934 and in the future to pay all election officers the amount due them by law. This clerk was further instructed to pay the clerks of election 4 cents per mile for obtaining election supplies.

Judge D. M. Owens and Magistrate Bowen were appointed a committee to have the steel bridge now stored in the county barn in Carlisle placed over Feather Creek near the residence of Mrs. Matilda Gillispie.

Hunting Season To Open Today

Only 205 Licenses Issued As Open Season On Rabbits Is Ready To Open

Unless there is an early morning fog, this morning's first-light hunting county hunters will take to the fields and woods in hunting rabbits and squirrels this morning. Up until Wednesday noon, according to John P. Sugg, he had issued but 205 hunting licenses, plus 264 fishing licenses. The season had been in effect.

The fact that the open season on quail does not begin until November 15 has caused many hunters to wait to obtain licenses until the season opens.

Rabbits are reported as being plentiful throughout the county this year, with quail about on the average. Hunters going into the fields and woods today should be careful in shooting, as it is said numerous farmers will shoot at the hunters, using a penalty of from $15 to $100 is provided for killing game out of season.

Before going into fields, hunters should obtain permission of the owner of the farm, as many farms are posted against hunting and trespassers are subject to a fine.

Reorganization Of C. O. P. Urged By Senator Borah

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, called for a reorganization of the Republican party last week and throughout the country Republicans were not schooled.

With a backyard classes at the Tuesday election, the Idaho Republican leader said in a between-trains interview that he was not surprised at the results.

"I have been asked," said Borah, "to stop a program without any substitute being offered."

A questioner suggested to him that the Republican campaign had been founded on a defense of the Constitution.

"People want the Constitution," the senator's reply.

"I should like to see the Republican party" s a Republican party recognized," he asserted. "And I believe it can be done and should be done, and further, that it is the time, the Republican party will do like the old cat. What party did when it showed political cowardice,

Local Guardsmen To Harrodsburg

Two Officers And 25 Members Of Headquarter Company To Attend Dedication Friday

A detail from Headquarter Company 149th Infantry, local national guard unit, has been selected by Adjutant General H. H. Denhardt as one of the military units which will participate in the dedication of the memorial at Harrodsburg next Friday.

Two officers and approximately 25 enlisted men of Headquarter Company 149th Infantry, local national guard unit, will have a solid Democratic representation. Judge Dietzman is the only Republican now on the bench.

O'Neal will be the first Democrat to represent Louisville in Congress since 1918. Despite the victory of all of the nominees, the Democratic showing in Ninth was not up to the trend in other states.

Fred M. Vinson carried the Eighth district by more than 11,000 majority over his Republican opponent, Stephen F. Ellison. Vinson carried 17 of the 19 counties in the district, losing only Carter and Lewis. Boyd, the home county of both candidates, gave Vinson more than 1,200 lead.

Official tabulation in various states revealed that the Republican party will have the smallest representation in Washington when Congress meets that party has had since its creation, before the War Between the States. Reports show that Democrats will have more than a 3 to 1 representation in the house and more than 3 to 1 in the Senate.

Gains were registered in the Republican Senatorial victories in Delaware, Michigan, Vermont and Maine, of governorship won from Democrats in New Jersey, Maryland, Ohio and Colorado. Governor Albert C. Ritchie was defeated for his fourth term as governor of Maryland by approximately 3,000 votes.

He served in Company D, 42nd Mississippi Infantry, in the division of Gen. Robert E. Lee and the brigade of Gen. Davis, lieutenant of the Confederate President.

Scarlet Fever Warning Given

Several Cases Reported In The East Union Section, Health Officer Reports

By Dr. R. W. Atherton
County Health Officer

Scarlet fever is occurring in epidemic form in certain sections of the county, especially East Union. It is characterized by a sore throat, a rash on skin and roof of mouth followed by desquamation or peeling. Some cases do not have a rash, the sore throat and glandular swelling is the rash being the most prominent features. It is very important that these cases with mild symptoms be recognized early in order that they may be removed from school and quarantined. Parents would like to think the fact that the mild cases of scarlet fever are largely responsible for the spread of the disease, because they are not all recognized. Some remain in school and some do not have a physician. Also may be seen that scarlet fever is a serious disease. It is not the sore throat, the moderate temperature, or the rash that make it such, but it is the complications that follow many cases. These complications chiefly are acute nephritis, middle ear disease, pneumonia, and heart complications. It is because these complications that a physician should be consulted in every scarlet fever case.

Only about nine out of every 100 cases to scarlet fever develop it. Your children are no more likely to develop it at school than at home. Therefore keep your children in school as long as they are free of sore throat and not continued. Refuse to send them to school when they have a sore throat. Keep them under the care of your family physician. Then when the case is quarantined, observe that quarantine. Refuse to let other children what you would not want your children to. We ask your full cooperation in trying up to these quarantines.

The children in East Union school have been skin tested for determined their susceptibility to scarlet fever. Those susceptible will have an opportunity to be protected against it.
