FROM OVER THE LINE

(By J. W. Rogers)

Man's inhumanity to his fellow man, is still an evil all over the land.

A little boy whose mother, in making him his first pair of pantaloons, put the front pants in the rear. On starting to school next morning he discovered the situation and cry-ing said, "I don't know whether I am going to school or going back home." We think some people today are in a similar situation on political pants and measures, the way they talk on street corners.

A few days ago some negro pup dealers were going about crying "Willkie pups for sale" Last week they were crying "Roosevelt pups for sale" "How's that?" "Oh, their eyes are open now," said the pup peddler.

In years gone by, spring, summer, fall and winter, we have to stand out in full, but now it seems that only two seasons are so outstanding—spring and fall. A school boy says there are only two outstanding seasons, one, base ball and foot ball.

If I were standing when Willkie stands, I'd view the landscape o'er; I'd cease to roam, and go back home, and never come out any more.

Pitzer, I'm in jail tickled—Bein' tickled ain't no sin.

Pitzer, I'm in jail tickled—I've been over in Barbour county.

And I want to go again.

In the Harrison circuit court late last Wednesday afternoon, Andy Shelton, 21, Breathitt county, was acquitted on the charge of slaying Isaac Shelton, 31, Clark county farmer, related to the defendant, in Breathitt county. He previously been sentenced to the electric chair by a jury in the Clark circuit court but was granted a new trial by the court of appeals.

Dramatic Club To Present Play Nov. 29

The students of the high school will present a play Friday night, November 29, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The play is entitled the "Tin Hero." This play was chosen because the audience demands and gets high-grade amusement, action and laughs. It is a well written story and will be interesting wet at the edge of curtain. Plays of this type are supposed to be funny. Imagine the comedy that can be wrung from the situation of a fond and adoring mother who exaggerates everything pertaining to her son. She makes mountains out of mole-hills and when the boy writes from Cannes, France that he has saved a young lady from drowning and, "—, but I must tell you too much, come and see for yourself what the poor girl will do. We promise you'll roar, you'll scream, you'll be weak from laughing. An excellent performance is promised. The cast is Bill Hopkins, Dorothy Lowry, Alice Earlywine, Martha Gaunce, Wood, Eleanor Reynolds, Mary M. Hutchings, Van Crabb, Nannie Piper, Mildred Myers, Joan Wilson, Helen Hedges and Leonard Chambers. Tickets may be purchased at Tureman's Drug store.

Growers To Learn Marketing Quotas

Series Of Educational Meetings To Be Held Next Week

It was a great privilege, opportunity, and duty of the American electorate to go to the polls last Tuesday and decide whom their civil officers were to be for the next two or four years. Most powers not exercised are sooner or later lost.

The situation is similar with the tobacco quotas. Kentucky farmers have had a great financial privilege under the A. C. A. and A. C. programs. Now again it is our opportunity and duty to decide whether we shall keep the present quotas or have or let it pass.

Because of the great preponderance of burley growers in the state compared to the sixteen other states growing burley, the 100 growers of Kentucky could themselves decide the tobacco marketing quotas on Saturday, November 23. Because one our part will give growers in other states an opportunity to vote for quotas for them because they desire part of our acreage.

The county committee and county agent urge every grower to attend one of the below scheduled meetings where the quotas will be explained and be thoroughly discussed by members of the county committee and the County Agent and others who care to participate.

All farmers are particularly urged to attend the county-wide mass meeting Tuesday, November 19, at 7:30 p. m. when an address will be given by J. D. Craddock. Mr. Craddock is a member of the state committee, a successful farmer and business man of our own burley section. He has a most pleasing personality and is a forceful speaker.

Each of the meetings scheduled below will be held at the school house of that community with the exception of the mass meeting to be held at the court house in Carlisle.

Monday, November 11, 7 p. m., Headquarters.

Tuesday, November 12, 7 p. m., Bartnerville.

Friday, November 15, 7 p. m., East Union.

Monday, November 18, 7 p. m., Ellisville.

Tuesday, November 19, 7:30 p. m., Carlisle.

Wednesday, November 20, 7 p. m., Myers.

Friday, November 22, 7 p. m., Moorefield.

Elwood Gordon, county clerk of Marshall county, was indicted last week on six charges of failure to collect state taxes on automobiles, misappropriation of license funds and illegal charges for services rendered.

Gavel Made From 150-Year-Old Tree

R. B. Briely Presents Gavel To Mayor Talbert

R. B. Briely, chairman of the Nicholas county board of education, presented this week to farmer of the East Union section, presented this week to Mayor W. C. Talbert a gavel made from the limb of a pear tree on his farm which is 150 years old.

Mr. Briely said the pear tree was planted on the farm 150 years ago by Mary Bryan Haden, who was the first white child born at Bryan Station. She was the wife of Daniel and Squire Boone. When she married Boone and her husband moved from Bryan Station to the farm now owned by Mr. Briely, and she brought the small pear tree from Bryan Station and planted it. The tree is still healthy and vigorous and bears a crop of fruit on it this year. Mr. Briely has taken excellent care of the tree, removing dead limbs and spraying it for insects. From these dead limbs he has made a number of articles. The gavel presented to Mayor Talbert was carved with an ordinary pocket knife by Mr. Briely and is of attractive design.

Mrs. Haden, who set out the tree, was the grandmother of Mr. W. P. Thomas, of the Little Rock section.
