RATTLESNAKES ARE IN IT ALLOUT

(Courier-Journal)

Hitler is about to collapse, according to Herbert Hoover, and so also, according to John Gunthy, but the rattlesnakes of the Atlantic have heard none of this. They are still executing Hitler's orders, which contemplate a coming submarine war on the seas, and they have not hesitated to send a United States destroyer to the bottom. They are not hampered by Neutrality Acts or confused and divided in their councils by people who call themselves Christian ministers. An undeclared war is just like any other war to them. They are in it allout.

Hitler doesn't want us in it allout. Why, then, does he not pause at such a thing as surgeon during our warships? The answer is that he knows that even such a grievous offense against us as the sinking of the Reuben James will result only in talk in Congress of hastening Senate action on legislation revising the Neutrality Act," or maybe even in actually hastening that action. But as long as he sees we are going to move only step by step, the higher is his hope for his own scheme of moving one by one.

"Make the farm feed the family" exhibits featured the county fair in Boyd county. Garden displays were considered exceptionally good. Fifty-seven cattle, 25 hogs, 15 pens of poultry and two pens of sheep were exhibited.

To help in national defense, and also to make money, Pendleton county club members will add 25 dairy calves next year. Dairying represents the largest source of income in the county.

WHEREAS no section of the United States is free from the threat of natural catastrophe or disaster, such as flood, hurricane, tornado, drought, earthquake, fire, explosion, epidemic; and THEREFORE, We, D. M. Curry, Judge of Nicholas county, and W. C. Talbert, Mayor of the City of Carlisle, proclaim the period of the 1941 American Red Cross Annual Roll Call, from November 11 to November 30, a time during which the public-spirited people of this community, both men and women, boys and girls, should make every effort to support and strengthen the Red Cross by enrolling through our local chapter as members of the Red Cross or by renewing their membership in it, and we further proclaim that it is the sense of all of us who are residents of Nicholas County that our membership enrollment in the Red Cross should be larger than ever this year, in order to enable this great national organization of ours to meet whatever demands may be made upon it.

Churchill Warns Japanese Against Fighting U. S.

RAF Now On Equality With Axis; Italians Loose 12 Ships

This week, this column is being written on Monday morning rather than on Sunday night. The reason is that Monday, Winston Churchill, prime minister of England, addressed a luncheon meeting in London and discussed the war situation at length. Upon the question of peace terms, he said that Hitler was about to raise again, Churchill stated that Britain and her allies would never make peace with any government which was headed by Hitler. With reference to the far east situation, he said that if Japan should declare war upon the United States, that within one hour Britain would in turn declare war on Japan. Hitler's speech as reported at that time was, distinctly, a fighting speech.

In speaking of air power at the present time, Churchill stated that the RAF and Britain had now reached equality with the Axis in numbers, effectiveness, and striking force. He said that Britain now is using planes than she has trained personnel to put into the air. Apparently then, Britain needs pilots and crews to man the further the activity of the RAF's raids upon the continent. Irrespective of the weather the RAF has bombed the invasion coasts of Hitler, Italy, Libya, Tel, and even Berlin itself in the past week, sometimes sending to the attack squadrons of bombers and fighter planes numbering in the hundreds. Again Sicily and southern Italy have felt the force of almost nightly bombings by the Mediterranean air squadrons of Britain.

Last week it was stated that there were signs of greater activity developing in the Mediterranean theatre. Last night, (Sunday) in a special announcement Churchill reported naval action ill the Mediterranean, south of the Italian port of Taranto. Sometime Saturday night four British vessels, two cruisers and two destroyers, found and attacked two Italian convoys, guarded by two large Italian cruisers and several destroyers. In the engagement which followed early Sunday morning, the British claimed that they had sunk ten of the merchantmen and one of the destroyers. This morning Italy admitted that another cruiser had been severely damaged. The reports of this success, plus other claims in recent weeks, indicate that the control of the Mediterranean in the hands of Churchill claimed this morning, in the battle for the Italian fleet. If that is so it is very likely that will be reported which Stalin and the British people themselves have been urging, may be created by the Armies of General Auchinleck.

The situation in which the Russian armies found themselves at the end of last week has not materially changed. On the Leningrad and Moscow fronts severe winter weather has hampered all action, but it would seem now that for some weeks, at least, there must exist a stalemate. The invasion of the Donets Basin by the German armies in the south has been slowed up. No great progress has been claimed even by Berlin. In the Crimea, however, the Nazi forces succeeded early in the week in breaking through the Russian lines across the neck of the peninsula. Although not admitted by the Russians, it is probable that the Germans have reached the outskirts of Sebastopol, the great naval base, and the important city of Kerch. It is likely that other operations which lasted for two months before Odessa fell will have to be resorted to by the German armies in order to bring about the surrender of those cities. The Russian armies are not now in such imminent danger.

Carlisle Dramatic Club Announces First Play

"The Late Mr. Early" Is First Production

"The Late Mr. Early," a death-defying but laugh provoking farce, has been announced by the Dramatic Club of the Carlisle high school as the club's first production of the year. It will be staged in the high school auditorium on Friday, November 28.

The play is the work of Richard Young, well-known playwright. The plot concerns himself with two young people who are made to believe themselves among the dear departed by a bunch of practical jokers. A Hollywood movie ensues, and takes the entire three acts to straighten out the tangle.

Musketeers Tied By Falmouth In Last Few Minutes Of Game

Carlisle's Musketeers ended the 1941 football season at Falmouth Monday afternoon and were tied, 7-7, in the last few minutes of the game. This season the Musketeers have won, 6, tied one, and lost one.

After three scoreless quarters, in which Falmouth drove to the Carlisle nine year line but failed to score, and Chambers, Musketeer back, cut inside tackle to the twelve yard line where he was brought down from behind, both teams scored in the fourth quarter.

Carlisle collected the first touchdown by marching from their own twelve yard line on 88 yard march. A line play netted the extra point.

Falmouth came back with a long passing attack and scored on a twenty-five yard pass and a thirty-five yard run. A buck added the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

Morehead Plans Dance For Clark Memorial

Funds For Memorial Is State-Wide Campaign

As a part of the state-wide plea for funds to construct a memorial to George Rogers Clark, Morehead State Teachers College is to give a dance on Saturday night, November 15th, it was announced this week.

A special invitation to Carlisle alumni and friends of Morehead, was issued by George T. Young manager of the affair. Music is to be held in the college gymnasium.

"In order to make the root low enough so that all desiring to attend can be there," Mr. Young said, "the admission has been set at fifty cents per couple or per stag."

This is the first dance to be given in the Morehead area for the George Rogers Clark Memorial Fund. The plan of schools presenting benefit affairs to raise funds was made by the state headquarters at Louisville and all net profits realized from the dance will go directly to the committee that is planning the projected memorial.

Kentucky Will Follow Presidential Proclamation

Asking that the American people pray for "a speedy end to strife and the establishment on earth of freedom, brotherhood, and justice for enduring time," President Roosevelt Saturday proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 20 as Thanksgiving Day.

It was his third and final setting of Thanksgiving a week earlier than customary. Next year the holiday will revert to its normal last Thursday in the month for the whole nation.

As in the last two years, not all states will observe the presidential proclamation. Governors will bring the traditional turkey day, Thursday, November. Kentucky will follow the presidential proclamation.

W. P. King Points Out Weaknesses In Kentucky School System; Thanks Voters For Passing Amendment

W. P. King, Secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, in a news release this week, thanked voters of Kentucky for amending the constitution so that educational opportunities might be provided immediately for school children in Kentucky.

In the release Mr. King pointed out some of the weaknesses in the Kentucky school system. He stated that more than half the elementary school children of Kentucky get only seven months of schooling. At that rate they would have to go to school three and four-tenths years to receive the equivalent of what the children get who spend their eight elementary years in ten months schools.

More than a third of the elementary children of Kentucky go to school nine or ten months each year, Mr. King said.

The salaries of teachers have decreased in the last ten years, while everything else has increased, including the qualifications of teachers.

In ninety-one counties of Kentucky the average salary of elementary teachers is less than $12 per week. This means that 5329 elementary teachers are receiving less than $12 per week on an annual basis.

More than 7000 county teachers have employment for only seven months.

The average salary of high school teachers in Kentucky, Mr. King concluded, on an annual basis is approximately $20 per week. They must be college graduates.

Ky., Tenn. Workers Paid Back Wages

A total of $80,570.29 was paid to 2,800 employees of 136 firms in Tennessee and Kentucky during the month of October, according to an announcement by William M. Eaves, Regional Director of the Wage and Hour Division, U. S. Department of Labor.

Wholesale feed, grain, lumber, and sawmill establishments, whose products moved in interstate commerce, led in the payment of restitution during the month of October.

The amount in back wages represented the difference between what the employees actually received and what they were due under the Wage and Hour Law since October 24, 1938, the date the law became effective.
