Local Officials View Health Code

Carlisle and Nicholas county school and health officials met among 200 persons from 15 Central Kentucky counties and discussed the administration of the new state code which will require medical examinations for pupils and teachers in public schools.

The meeting, which was held Tuesday in Lexington, was attended by R. E. Davis, superintendent of Carlisle Schools, Dr. B. F. Reynolds, Nicholas-Harrison Health Department, and J. Raymond Wesley, superintendent of the Nicholas County Schools.

The State Department of Education recently adopted the code, which has to go into effect "not later than the opening of the 1948-49 school year."

It requires medical examination for teachers upon their employment and periodically every third year thereafter. It provides for children's examinations immediately prior to their first entering school, and then "every fourth year thereafter, with revisions made."

The educators present at the meeting adopted resolutions recommending that teachers and children be given the option of taking the tests from health departments or from private physicians. They suggested that correction of any defects found be a joint responsibility by the school and community responsibility.

E. B. Whalen, in charge of health and physical education for the Education Department, was chairman of the meeting, one of nine regional gatherings on the new code.

Eight 4-H Boys Enter Tractor Care Contest

The 4-H Club Tractor Maintenance School, which was held at the Carlisle school Feb. 20 and 27, closed Saturday. E. J. Bowyer, extension county agent, has announced.

Eight 4-H boys from the county have entered the 4-H tractor maintenance project contest. These boys will keep an accurate record of the operating, servicing, and servicing hours of the tractor on their farm. The contest will close in October 1948 at which time each boy record will be judged and the county winner will be selected.

The boys entering the contest are as follows: Wayne Spegal, Myrtle; Billy Leach, Carlisle; Gilbert Logan, Moorefield; Billy Bowen, Parks; Charles Carter, Ellisville; Franklin Caswell, Carlisle; Jimmie Moorefield and Luther Anderson, Ellisville.

The class was taught by the Tractor Maintenance School and project contest, and by the "Farm Tractors." This does not mean that the boys who enter the contest will be able to make necessary repair of their tractor but that they will learn that better care means larger wear, more power and reduced operating costs.

STATE SPEECH FESTIVAL SHEDULED AT U. OF K.

State finals in the annual competition in the annual program of Kentucky speech festivals will get under way on the University of Kentucky campus Wednesday April 7 with the opening of the 25th annual State Speech Festival. Representatives of more than 70 high schools from throughout the state are expected to enter the various events of the festival.

U. K. DEAN PREDICTS TEACHERS TO GET LESS

Kentucky is the only state in the union "where teachers will probably teach for less money in 1948-49 than they actually received in 1947-48," Dr. William S. Taylor, dean of the University of Kentucky College of Education, declared here "authoritatively-prominent U. K. educator explained further that states surrounding Kentucky this year are paying more than the average $600 more per teacher than is Kentucky.

Father, Son Banquet Held By FFA Chapter At Nicholas High

The Nicholas County chapter, Future Farmers of America, held its annual Father and Son Banquet Friday night at the Nicholas County high agriculture room. The purpose of the banquet was to develop father and son relations and to acquaint parents with FFA and agriculture in high school.

The main address was delivered by W. C. Montgomery, executive secretary of the State FFA, who spoke on the value of a father and son partnership in agricultural pursuits.

Curtis Jones, president of the Nicholas County chapter, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker.

The invocation was delivered by Curtis Jones, followed by the opening ceremony of the Future Farmers. Music was presented by the FFA quartet.

A total of 95 persons were in attendance at the banquet among the guests were local officials, faculty members, State Farmers, FFA members and special guests.

The meal was prepared and served by members of the Home Economics department with the assistance of members of the lunch room department. The tables were decorated in FFA colors, national blue and corn yellow.

This was the first father and son banquet held in Nicholas county but plans call for it to become a regular affair in future years.

Soil Testing School Slated For Tuesday

A soil testing school will be held Tuesday at the courthouse. This event is part of the plans of the committee on better crops and soils, County Agent William Bowyer said.

A similar meeting held last year, was attended by about 20 farmers, who were interested in having soil tested for various fields to determine amounts of nitrogen and phosphates and potash to be applied for such crops as tobacco, corn and alfalfa.

S. C. Jones, field agent in soils, from the Agricultural Experiment Station, will attend to assist with soil tests. A temporary soil testing laboratory will be arranged for the day during the meeting. The event will be divided into two sessions, 9 a. m. to 12 noon and 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. The other meeting will begin at 1:30 p. m. and is intended for farmers of Nicholas county.

In securing samples of soil for testing, it is important to take the samples from the field, said. "A very easy method to take a representative sample is to use a round pointed shovel, and prepare the way by first digging a hole to about the depth of plowing. Next take a slice of soil with the shovel. This slice of soil, provided it is uniform in thickness and extends to plow depth, is a good sample. Samples should be labeled for identification. Approximately one pint of soil is best for each sample. If one general test for the field is desired, several thin slices of soil from various parts of the field should be included in the sample."

Nicholas county farmers are asked to prepare soil samples and to attend this meeting to learn how to use fertilizers more efficiently.

A CORRECTION

"Gone With the Wind", starring Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh, will be shown at the Lyric Theatre on April 20 and 21 instead of March 30 as the commission of a dash from the theatre advertisement March 18 led many to believe that the picture was to be shown. The picture has two days of March. The show dates are April 20 and 21, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mrs. Richardson was killed March 6 when her car collided with one driven by Mrs. Mattie near Lone Oak.

Proclamation

Whereas, the million or more men and women in our Army are instruments of the nation's will for security and peace, and

Whereas, free men who, throughout the decades of our history have served the United States that we might stand strong and safe among the nations of the world, and

Whereas, in the latest conflict our soldiers, on the ground and in the air, serving shoulder to shoulder with their comrades in the Navy and of the Allied Forces, carried on and extended the traditions established by their fathers and forefathers. Serving with distinction on every battlefield, they accomplished every task and passed on to the soldiers of today the mission given to them by the American people, and

Whereas, the President of the United States has designated the day of April 3, 1948 as "Army Day,"

Therefore, I, W. C. Talbert, Mayor of the City of Carlisle, Ky., do hereby proclaim Tuesday, April 3, 1948, as "Army Day" in accordance with the proclamation issued by Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, and I urge upon the people of Carlisle, Ky., to make use of this day which is set aside to pay tribute to those gallant men and women who are serving in our Armed Forces gave so much to insure the continued security and safety and successfully defended our homes and our Nation against from our enemies whose ruthless schemes and diabolical designs would, if carried out, have destroyed the potential good of mankind for at least 500 years to come.

Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Carlisle, Ky., to be affixed this 26th day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty-eight.

W. C. Talbert

ROTARIANS, LOOK SHARP!

Anything can happen and probably will at the Carlisle Rotary club meeting tonight. An April Fool program is being arranged under the direction of Dr. M. P. McClure.

Baldwin Appointed To Marketing Post

Appointment of J. Dan Baldwin, Madisonville, as director of marketing in the Agriculture Department has been announced by commissioner Harry P. Walker. The appointment will become effective May 1.

Baldwin held the same post from October 15, 1941, until March 22, 1944, when he was succeeded by Armand C. Berry, Lancaster, who recently resigned.

The 1948 General Assembly provided for expansion of the work done by the Marketing Division and gave it $25,000 a year for that purpose. Both Commissioner Walters and Director Baldwin said they expected to take full advantage of the opportunity offered.

The Legislature also increased the pay of the post from its present $3,900 maximum to $5,000 a year.

Baldwin, a native of McLean County, received a bachelor-of-science degree at Western State Teachers College and did graduate work at the University of Kentucky. He was teaching at Hawesville and organizing farm associations when he joined the department in 1941.

After leaving Frankfort in 1944 he became a specialist in agricultural economics with the University of Alabama and in 1945 went into the Army from Madisonville. He is married and has two children.

Mrs. Baldwin, who was Miss Freda Fendley, daughter of Lexington, is a daughter of Mrs. Tillie H. Fendack.

Farmers, Rotarians Hear Dairying Talk

Last Thursday was Farmers' Night at the Carlisle Rotary Club. Rotarian George D. Scott, Jr., was in charge of the program which was attended by 32 business men and farmers.

The farmers' night speaker was Bert Collins, county agent of Mason county. Collins, in his discussion on dairying, gave encouragement in further development of this enterprise in Nicholas county. He said that Mason county is similar in many respects to Nicholas county and mentioned that since 1938 the county has expanded from 2,000 to 6,000 cows. Milk products bring an annual income of over a million dollars there as compared to three million dollars income from tobacco.

Collins said, "Except for a two week period during tobacco harvest, milking cows does not conflict with growing tobacco." Collins said that on farms in Mason county where at least a small herd of cows is kept that farmers and tenant have more money. The income from dairying provides the cost of living and other expenses throughout the year with the result that the money from tobacco is clear.

At the conclusion of Collins' talk Roger Wemack, Rotary president, assured farmers present that the business people of Carlisle are interested in any help endeavor that will make farming more secure. During the meeting it was announced that on April 1 Otis Conrad of Burterville will begin a new milk route in Carlisle and in the Burterville, Hedgesville, Parks and Ellisville areas. Encouragement was also expressed for the current efforts being made in organizing a dairy artificial breeding cooperative in Nicholas county.

Carlisle FFA Chapter Enters District Show

Members of the Carlisle Chapter, Future Farmers of America, will take an active part in the District Field Day which will be held May 14 at Winston in Gallatin county.

Winners of the farm project contest will go to the district meet where their results will be entered in competition against schools of 20 other counties which comprise the Northern Kentucky district.

Members entering projects in the contest are:

Everette Vice, home improvement; W. H. Scott, dairying; Emmett Darrell, tobacco and cotton; Bobby Crockett, sheep; Billy Hardin, soil conservation; Gaylord Caswell, poultry and public speaking; James Fitch, hogs, beef cattle and livestock judging; Reid, who is reporter for the Carlisle chapter, also will enter a scrap book.

The Carlisle chapter at its March meeting planned the organization of a softball team which will enter in competition with other local FFA softball teams. Reid was elected captain and Vice was chosen manager of the team.

Go-To-Sunday-School Day Set For May 2nd

Sunday, May 2nd, has been designated as Go-To-Sunday-School-Day by the Kentucky Sunday School Association, at its former years, the Sunday schools of all denominations over the state are again asked to join in this movement which has for its objectives (1) establishing the Sunday School and its importance in the development of Christian character; and (2) providing an opportunity for the Sunday schools to unite in a special state-wide effort to increase attendance and enrollment.

The recent action of the U. S. Supreme Court with regard to weekday religious education in public schools places upon the Sunday schools of the nation a greater responsibility than ever before. Never before has the youth of the land the best religious teaching which the life of an individual, state and nation must be built if it is to endure. "The promotion and observance of Go-To-Sunday-School Day" said Field Secretary Fred T. Fowler, "is a movement toward the recognition and acceptance of the challenge of this hour."

Originated by the late Dr. George L. Joplin, Kentucky was the first state to observe a Go-To-Sunday-School Day, and Governor James B. McCreary was the first Governor to issue such a proclamation. The goal for the first year was 1,000,000 in Sunday school on May 3, 19-14". The goal was not reached although the attendance increased about 100 per cent. The goal was reached in 1915. A few years after its initiation in Kentucky, 26 other states and parts of Canada were observing a Go-To-Sunday-School Day. The movement became part of the regular program of the Kentucky Sunday School Association and thousands of people have been brought into Sunday school through its observance.

May 2nd is also the beginning of National Family Week. Suggestions for the promotion and observance of both Go-To-Sunday-School Day and National Family Week may be secured, without cost, from the Kentucky Sunday School Association, 334 S. Third Street, Louisville.

Local Woman's Club Will Hear Novelist

A. B. Guthrie Jr.

A. B. (Bud) Guthrie Jr., whose best selling novel "The Big Sky" sold 1,000 literary award last week, will be the guest speaker at the Woman's Club Friday.

Guthrie, widely known Kentucky newspaperman, who was executive editor of the Lexington Leader when he resigned to enter the field of free lance writing, will speak at the home of Mrs. Claude Thacker on Prince street. The meeting will get under way at 2:30 p. m.

"The Big Sky", which was judged best of the outstanding novels by Friends of American Writers, tells the story of the West and a Kentucky adventurer. It is written in the idiom of the pioneer days of the West as recognized by G. A. Ginter of Cincinnati, national president, he received his certificate only this week.

Dr. McKinney was initiated October 22, 1891 into the Kentucky Kappa chapter of the fraternity which, at that time, was located in Richmond.

County School Tax Upped To $1.40

The general budget of the Nicholas County School district tax provides for an increase in the tax levy of 26 cents, bringing the total levy to $1.40, Raymond Wesley, secretary of the board, today announced.

The budget adopted for 1948-49 was adopted at the March meeting of the county board.

Sixteen cents of the increased levy will be used for retiring the bonds for the contruction of the Moorefield school and for providing a sinking fund for the building. The remaining four cents of the increase will be used for improving transportation and the school board said.

The Moorefield building, which was destroyed by fire on March 27, 1947, is under construction and will be ready for occupancy during the 1948-49 term.

The board included 28 cents in the total levy for a building fund which will be set aside in a special fund for building and repair repairs and improvements.

One new bus has been purchased for the 1948-49 term and will be put into operation when necessary, Wesley said.
