THURSDAY, NOV. 12, ..... 1891

The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, the Flaming Gazette, and other Republican papers hoisted their sights after the late elections. It takes a mighty mean man to rejoice at the bodeale of his badly defeated friend.

It is believed that the new administration of the Farmers' Alliance of Kentucky will be a political one. The annual State meeting began at Elks' Bathhouse Monday. J. G. Blair and George Bell of this county, are in attendance.

THE Maysville Commercial says: The candidate for Appellate Judge in this district is completely knocked out, so far as electioneering goes, by the prospect of having the Sheriff elected 3 days the election takes place. He could make no more headway than he will be in.

MATHEWS, the Boston hooker, who is under arrest for wrecking his bank in the same way gave the name of "Mauwicker" to valves in Texas. While a resident of Texas he bought every untrodden cuff and pin he found upon it, I have the name. He has lately been branding the banks in Boston.

SMALL pox is raging in Louisville. Health Officer Pirtle says: "I have positive information to their devastation in Louisville. The people are dying with two diseases—as malaria, catarrh, scarlet fever, consumption, small pox, etc. The sympathy for the sister cities is universal and destitution is at a rapid limit from the body to the soul." Louisville is in a bad fix, and needs all the sympathy, and more can also be given for less left behind. Be sure to help Louisville. Do not let any one get off on you a substitute or imitation. Send for cash or look on Bond Street.

THE Cable Telephone thinks well of the Kentucky negro, and has found that the Kentucky negro will behave. We have noticed in this State particularly that the colored people are capable of such a disposition to throw themselves into the arms of the Democratic party that the whites, and upon all issues providing upon the line of conservatism, and upon that line alone the colored people are safe. Parties are ruled at last, the colored people will be found to be professors for such an arrangement."

THAT would raise a fence is almost the theme of conversation. The Republican Tinner-Democrat says: "Democrats are not in favor of a fence around their autumn woods. Friday afternoon, Oct. 30, a number of fine pigeons have been killed in the woods near this city, and in the Justice notice he would have to pay a fine of $5 for each bird killed, and then he turned loose, and then turned sale, and the turned sale, and then he turned loose, and then he turned sale, and then he turned loose, and then he turned sale, and then he turned loose, and then he
