Nicholas Farmers To Share In Refund

Farmer-members of Southern States Cooperative in the Nicholas county area will share in a one percent patronage refund to be returned by the Co-Operative on patron purchases of production supplies during 1947-48.

This was announced as more than 183 farm people gathered at the Carlisle City school auditorium in Carlisle for the local Southern States annual membership meeting held last Thursday night. The session was sponsored jointly by Southern States members served by the Carlisle Cooperative, local cooperative service agency.

C. C. Greene and Glenn Booth were elected to the local Southern States district board. New members chosen on the Farm Home Advisory committee were Mrs. Harvey Wagoner and Mrs. Warner Allen. All will serve three-year terms.

Civil Day, president of the board of directors, presided at the meeting, which included reports of Cooperative business for the last year, a feed bag style show and entertainment.

W. M. Caldwell, Southern States district manager, presented the annual report of Southern States operations.

The report of services rendered locally on Cooperative supplies was presented by Charles A. Grover, manager.

Glenn Booth was elected president of the board of directors at an organization session following the meeting. Mrs. G. C. Grover and Mrs. Harvey Wagoner were chosen chairman and secretary, respectively of the Farm Home committee.

Carlisle Indians Smash Little Rock

The Carlisle Indians, who invaded Bourbon county Sunday for a baseball game with Little Rock, smashed through the defense of the host team to bring home a 9-4 victory.

However, the local lads were forced to battle through an extra inning to turn the tide. At the end of the regular nine innings the teams were tied 6-all.

The Indians made 17 hits off T. Hinkle, who occupied the mound for Little Rock. William Bretz, hurling for the Indians allowed the Bourbon countians only 13 hits.

Arthur Bretz led the Indian batters, accounting for four hits in five trips to the plate, two of which were converted into runs. Frederick got three for four although he was unable to score after getting on base safely.

Management of the Indians has been taken over by Arthur Bretz after W. C. Vice relinquished this position to go to Staunton, Va.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	H	E
C	1	0	0	1	2	0	2	0	2	1	17	9
LR	3	0	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	13	8

Grasshoppers Still Harass Local Crops

Grasshopper damage to local crops is still being reported to W. T. Straw, county agent, by farmers from all areas of Nicholas county. The attack seems to be most severe in the Barrettsville and Ellisville sections although damage is also great at Parks and some reports have been made from Moorefield, Myles, East Union and Carlisle.

Straw, who conferred this week with Dr. W. A. Price, state entomologist, University of Kentucky, said Dr. Price told him that grasshoppers were doing damage throughout a wide area of the state and that control would have to remain with individual farmers, because it is too risky to livestock to employ airplane spraying, which has been used effectively in the West, where fields are large. Chlordane has been used effectively either as a spray or as a five percent dust to give control. However, the frequent showers diluted applications to limit their effectiveness. The rate at which the grasshoppers have been increased to six level tablespoons for three gallons of water or 50 percent wettable powder, or seven level tablespoons of the 40 percent powder. The five percent dust is suitable only for applying as a dust. Depending upon rains, these rates should give good results for several days, Straw said.

A poison bran bait prepared by mixing 25 pounds of bran and one pound of paris green with enough water added to make the mixture crimbly may be used to give a fair kill. This bait should be applied either late in the evening or at break of day, because grasshoppers feed chiefly in the early mornings. Twelve pounds of mix is enough for one acre, but the bait will not be effective for longer than a day or two.

The most natural beauty in the world is honesty and moral truth. For all beauty is truth.—Shaftesbury

BETTER DAIRYING IS GOAL—A cow which has been bred by artificial insemination is the goal of the local dairy farmers of tomorrow. Shown looking the cow over are, from left to right: Kenneth Neyhausen, chairman of Nicholas county dairy committee; Lovell Hollar, president of the Nicholas County Farm Bureau and Dairymen Association; Dr. Dewey Watkins, state dairy organization; Dewey Watkins, Clarence Day, Harry Wagoner, J. W. Alexander, Jr., and Ed Stone. The dairying program was held in conjunction with the Farm Bureau's annual picnic. Dewey Watkins, left, and Ovel Day, right, fill out the required form for S. R. Dairymen Elect Lovell Hollar Temporary Association Chairman

Lovell Hollar, Route 1, Carlisle has been elected temporary chairman of a proposed district for organizing an artificial breeding association to serve a four-county area.

Hollar, who is president of the Nicholas County Farm Bureau, was elected to the position Monday night at a meeting of dairy committees from Nicholas, Robertson, Harrison and Bourbon counties held in the Nicholas county courthouse.

Clark Walls, Little Rock, was elected temporary secretary. Other members of the temporary committee at the meeting were: D. E. Clark, Bourbon county; Henry Bowman and R. W. Switzer, Harrison county; Howard Shepherd and Clarton Jett, Robertson county; and Dorsey Watkins, Nicholas county. Each county is represented on the committee by two members.

There are now a total of 1,515 cows on the list from the proposed four-county area. This list by counties follows: Harrison, 603; Nicholas, 450; Bourbon, 304, and Robertson, 158.

However, the proposed breeding association comprises an area too large for practical service, the committee said, and the operations of the co-operative will have to be restricted to a 20-mile radius of the central point of operation.

Milk producers present at the meeting selected the point for locating the organization at Headquarters, a community center located near the Harrison and Nicholas county line on Highway 36." Hollar said. He added that this site seemed to be the most central location for operating the largest territory of the combined four counties.

Another meeting of the temporary organization committee will be held at Carlisle on Friday night, August 20, when further development of the program will be made.

Meanwhile, members of the committee will continue to perfect plan to hold another meeting that will set up the purpose of existing still more cows for the artificial breeding program. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Saturday at the courthouse.

Duward Olds and Mr. Foster from the dairy department, University of Kentucky, attended the meeting Monday night and discussed the program of artificial breeding program in Kentucky. These men said that more than 39,000 cows are now being entered for artificial breeding in Kentucky.

Delegates from the four counties, who attended the meeting were: Lovell Hollar, Kenneth Neyhausen, Dewey Watkins, Ovel Day, Harvey Wagoner, J. W. Alexander, E. R. Stone, W. T. Straw, county agent, Nicholas county; D. E. Clark, Clarton Chamberlain, Clark Walls, Forest Davis, T. R. Davis, Roy Wyatt, William Haggard, Tom Duffy, assistant farm agent; and R. R. Wattlington, county agent, Bourbon county; H. G. Duff, John Fitch, R. W. Switzer, Henry Brinker, and Robert Wagginton, county agent, Harrison county; Lucian Robinson, Clinton Jett, Howard Shepherd, J. P. Craigg and J. T. Cochran, county agent, Robertson county.

Playground Committee Stops Fixture, Equipment Purchases After Hearing Vandalism Report

Until some measures can be taken to protect permanent fixtures or equipment from acts of vandalism which have either destroyed or damaged all equipment placed on the Carlisle Athletic field, no additional funds will be spent.

This was the decision reached by the Carlisle Playground Committee, meeting last July 28 at the home of R. E. Davis, to hear a report on donations received and expenditures made during the months of June and July.

During the past two months, the committee was told, the gates have been torn from their hinges, chains and locks broken which held the gates to prevent trespassing. Basketball goals, recently put up have been torn down, metal backstops broken, the storage room burglarized twice and the tools, which was placed in the boxes for the little girls had been taken. Whiskey and beer bottles are nightly left on playground equipment and many other acts of vandalism "too numerous to mention" have been committed, Ray Stone, the playground director.

The committee expressed hope that the vandals who perpetrate these would take measures in the future to make a playground available for the children which will be free from such vandalism and wanton destruction.

The following organizations have donated and made the playground possible this summer: Carlisle City Council, $200; Carlisle City School, $100; American Legion Auxiliary, $100; Carlisle Parent-Teacher Association, $50; Carlisle Christian church, $25; Carlisle Baptist church, $25.

The following items have been purchased and expenditures made at the playground: badminton set, $23; basketball goals, $10.20; rubber basketball, $8.85; Sander 3-73; safety for director for two months, $300.

One croquet set has been donated. The items carried over from last season are one set of horseshoes and softball and volleyball equipment, all of which have been made available and used daily by the children and playgroups, the committee was told.

Realty Agent Sues For Sale Commission

Dan Westfall, Carlisle real estate agent, has filed suit on the ordinary docket of Nicholas county circuit court against the Kentucky Council of Assemblies of God and its trustees, A. C. Trimble, C. E. Schmidtt, and L. A. Jolly for his commission in connection with the sale of the Children's Home property on West Main, which was recently purchased by Paul Garrett.

The plaintiff charges in his petition that A. C. Trimble, trustee, entered a contract with him pertaining to the sale of the property for $18,000 and a commission on the sale, the plaintiff said was to be three percent of $540.

The plaintiff further declares he showed the property to Garrett and that upon the following day Garrett bought the property from the defendant for $16,500.

The petition sets forth that that the plaintiff is entitled to a three percent commission on the sale and asks for $495, for costs of the suit and all proper relief.

A. H. Barker and William Conley are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Beg Pardon, Please

Since preparing our editorial which appears on page 2, we have discovered that we erred in our second paragraph. In this we said: "no Nicholas county candidate for the Congressional nomination had announced since Elva R. Kendall was re-elected in 1938."

It was not until after this section of The Mercury had been printed that we were reminded that Senator Blake was a candidate for the nomination in 1938.

This error must be charged solely to the author. The Mercury files confirmed the facts which were given us.

A shortage of both time and space prevented a repeat of the error stand upon the editorial page. However, we hope that you will accept our admission of our error.

Boys Enter 20 Acres In Tobacco Contest

A total of 20.1 acres of burley tobacco, 3.1 of which was planted in root-rot resistant varieties, have been entered in this division of the Farm Project Contest by 11 members of the Carlisle Chapter, Future Farmers of America.

Tobacco is the most important project undertaken by the Future Farmers since one-half of their income is derived from this crop which is the county's main source of income, G. B. Leonard, Carlisle High school agricultural teacher and faculty advisor of the group, said.

Entries range from one to five acres. The contestants and the number of acres entered in this division follows:

Harvey Wilson, Jimmy Shrout, Donald Hughes, and J. A. Stanifford Jr., one acre each; Bill Hardin, 1.1 acres; James Reid, 1.5 acres; Jack Crockett and Earl Finch, two acres each; Gene Price, 2.5 acres; W. H. Scott, 3 acres.

The winner in the competition will be the one who produces the highest yield per acre, he said. The Carlide Drug which is sponsoring this division of the contest, will present the winner with a $25 Savings Bond.

Emmett Darrell, Miranda, won this division last year, receiving a return of $1,114 an acre for his crop, which produced 1,949 pounds to the acre.

Unless Carlisle residents voluntarily reduce their consumption of water by drinking and bathing purposes, they are apt to find themselves facing an acute situation within two days or weeks.

The waterworks committee, of which William Harper is chairman, told council Monday night that it was estimated that only a two weeks supply remained in the city reservoir. Unless it rains enough to start the small tributaries flowing into the lakes, the situation will become critical after two week, council was told.

The waterworks committee recommended that the residents be urged to voluntarily cut their consumption of the city's rapidly receding supply.

The survey concerning the installation of parking meters was tabulated at a special council meeting here showed that a majority of Carlisle merchants favor their installation. The street committee, headed by Mayor W. C. Talbert that it planned to visit other towns and cities, which have installed the meters, to determine the advisability of a meter best suited to Carlisle.

The salary of the city assessor was fixed by council at $300 a month, Mrs. W. H. Frey was elected to the post.

Council also elected the city's board of equalization which will be composed of R. L. Curtis, Harvey Norton and Mrs. C. L. Mathews.

A new rental contract was submitted on the property which the city has been using as a dump. The rental has been increased from $125 to $200 annually. Mayor Talbert appointed a special committee consisting of Councilmen Jack Scott, W. R. Buntin and George Gaffin to take the matter under advisement and report back to council.

The police court report filed by Police Judge Hercy Myers showed a total of 9 violations of ordinances during the month of July.

A building permit was issued by council to B. C. Clack to Talbert, Post No. 17, American Legion, and Lloyd George Post 8666, Veterans of Foreign Wars, to conduct their forthcoming Tag Day here. Roy S. Harney, commander of the Cynthiana chapter, D. A. Y. has announced.

Upon the recommendation of the waterworks committee, council deferred the award of a contract for painting and cleaning the reservoir water tank.

County Has Its First Opportunity In 10 Years To Nominate Candidate For Coveted Congressional Post

Nicholas county has its first opportunity in 10 years to nominate a candidate for Congress in the August primaries Saturday.

Senator H. Stanley Blake, Carlisle, oldest man from point of service in the Kentucky legislature, again is opposing incumbent Congressman Joe B. Bates, Greenup, for the nomination.

Ten years ago Senator Blake opposed Congressman Bates for the nomination. Congressman Bates carried Nicholas county by a majority of 1,293 votes, polling a total of 1,377 to 584 received by his opponent, he carried in the district contest.

The battle lines in the 1948 primaries are the same as in the 1938 primary. Senator Blake, seeking the Democratic nomination which may ultimately result in his election to Congress, comes from the southwestern fringe of the district. Bates' home is in the northeastern tip of the district.

With the exception of party affiliations the 1948 primaries reflect a similarity to the 1938 general election. Fred M. Vinson, at the time he was defeated by Elva R. Kendall, another Nicholas county resident, in the Congressional race, resided at Louisa, with only Boyd county separating his home county from that wherein Mr. Bates resides.

When Vinson was appointed to the Circuit Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, Bates succeeded him to Congress from the Eighth District and has successfully been re-elected since that time.

However, Nicholas county political observers pointed to Senator Blake's ability to secure votes are looking for their support in the November election.

Although Kendall received the Republican nomination in 1938, he was defeated in the November general election by Fred M. Vinson, now Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Kendall previously had defeated Vinson in the Democratic primary of 1928 by a majority of 3,365 votes.

In the August primaries of 1928, Kendall carried the district by 87 votes. He carried Nicholas county by 362 votes over W. Hoffman Wood of Montgomery county. Wood carried Montgomery county over Kendall by 282 votes but lost heavily in Bath county, Senator by 95 votes. A total of five Republican candidates were in the field seeking the nomination. Contestants remaining two were Walters and Roberts.

At the time Kendall won his seat in Congress 19 counties composed the district. These counties were: Montgomery, Lewis, Wolfe, Lawrence, Rowan, Bracken, Carter, Morgan, Boyd, Nicholas, Menifee, Mason, Harrison, Brazoria, Carter, Morgan, Boyd, Greenup, Breathitt, and Elliott. Since that time Greenup county has been added to the district.

As a member of the Kentucky legislature, Senator Blake has represented four of the 20 counties in the Congressional district. These counties are Robertson, Nicholas, Bracken and Bracken. Grant and Pendleton, two other counties which he served as State Senator, are in the Fifth Congressional district.
