Nicholas Schools To Open Sept. 7; New Principal Engaged For NCHS

The Nicholas County schools will open for the 1948-49 term Tuesday, September 7, Raymond Wesley, superintendent, today announced.

The contractor for the Moorefield building has indicated that the Moorefield school will be ready by the opening date.

During the vacation period, the Nicholas County Board of Education has made several improvements and repairs on the schools in the county.

In addition to improvement in the schools, transportation facilities have been improved by the addition of four new buses for the county which will be placed in operation for the first time in September. The board, Supt. Wesley said, has made quite an effort to keep the facilities for transportation for every child in Nicholas county.

L. Brooks Henderson has been engaged as principal of the Nicholas County High school for the forthcoming year.

Henderson, who has served as principal of the Tollesboro High school for the past three years, was graduated by Morehead State Teachers College and has completed all requirements for a Master's Degree from Columbia at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, with the exception of three weeks of residence.

In addition to his experience in high school administration, Henderson has taught in both elementary and high schools for a number of years. He was graduated from Tollesboro High school.

The new principal, Mrs. Henderson and their young daughter will move to Carlisle next week. Mrs. Henderson, who is also a teacher, will be employed in the county schools.

In addition to the new principal, Supt. Wesley also announced the employment of a new home economics teacher at Nicholas County high school to succeed Miss Olive Stewart, who has resigned to accept a position with the Lexington city schools. Miss Ella Rose Crume has been employed by the county board to fill the vacancy.

The growth of the high school program in the county system, Supt. Wesley said, now requires the service of a full time agricultural teacher, in addition to the principal. John M. Adams will devote his entire time to vocational agriculture. Supt. Wesley said, will serve as coach and teach some extra work in the new health program, while the principal will devote a greater part of his time to the supervision of the high school program.

A new Burroughs bookkeeping machine recently received will be placed in the commercial department of the high school which will provide for more efficient training in bookkeeping, Supt. Wesley said. County High school has been offering a complete course in commercial training, with the addition of the machine and its advantages will be offered students taking the course.

RESTAURANT BANNACKED

Mack's Restaurant, located just north of the Grateler building on the public square, was entered by thieves Wednesday night, August 11. This marks the second time the restaurant has been robbed since James McClure took over its operation in February.

Finding entry impossible through a front window, thieves knocked a panel out of the front door near the latch.

The loot taken consisted of $20 worth of cigarets, candy and chewing gum.

REGISTRATION BOOKS OPEN

Registration books are now open for Nicholas county voters at the office of Mrs. F. Sugg, county court clerk. These books were opened Wednesday and by press time a total of 11 voters had registered. Of these nine were Democrats and the remaining one was a Republican.

Tentative Dates Set For Youth Fair

Tentative dates for the Nicholas County Youth Fair have been set for October 6-9 at a preliminary planning meeting of the executive fair committee held Monday night at the Nicholas county extension office.

However, the date will not be definitely established until the next meeting of the fair committee which will be held Monday night. Officers will be elected and the premium list and fair program will be approved at this forthcoming meeting.

Members of the executive committee are: Mrs. Naomi Cook, Misses Ernestine Eads, Alpha Brierly, Fleet Allison and Betty Crockett; Edgar Allen Darrell, Dean Auxier, Brunker Harney, James Lowe, G. B. Leonard, Lonnie Hughes, Arthur Jesse Hughes, Nicholas County high agriculture teacher; Mrs. Mark Lowe, Carlisle High home economics teacher; Miss Ella Ross Crume, Nicholas County high home economics teacher; Mrs. Hubert C. Rowe, county home demonstration agent, and William T. Straw, county agent.

The Youth Fair has expanded rapidly in the past three years, members of the executive committee said, and they anticipate that new activities will be added this year to further expand the exhibit. The total cost of the 1947 fair was $452.88. The organization last year purchased a poultry tent to help make the poultry show more attractive and convenient. The executive committee has set a goal of $500 for the Nicholas County forthcoming youth fair this year

LIVINGOOD POSTS BOND

By direction of circuit court clerk, a judgment was entered for plaintiff and defendants, Cecil Livingood has been directed to post bond in the amount of $2,-000 as executor of the will of the late John W. Livingood. Cecil Livingood has previously qualified without surety as directed by the will.

Livestock, Pasture Tour Attracts 40

The second annual Livestock and Pasture Tour, held Wednesday August 11, was attended by approximately 40 farmers although rain threatened to mar the occasion, William T. Straw, county agent, said.

Farmers assembled at the farm home of G. C. Grover on the Moorefield road. Here farmers and producers observed an excellent herd of purebred Angus cattle and purebred Hampshire sheep.

Farmers, interested in good pastures and erosion control, observed how these practices could be brought about in a successful way on the farm of T. T. Whaley on the East Union road. Erosion control could be by doing little damage because Whaley has cross-rowed the steepest ditches and terraces to reduce soil losses and to conserve water.

Whaley has had success in controlling erosion, preserve of land by maintaining a good stand of grasses. Bill Hughes, H. B. Qdor, acting District Soil Conservation Service Director Edgar Sanders, work unit leader Ralph Hughes, Charles Harper and G. C. Myers, juniors.

Other promising conservation practices observed include Billy D Crawford, Shorty Reid, Donald Hughes, Robert Hughes, Noel and Jim Williams, Joe Flora, Harvey Hughes and Glen Flora. Backfield candidates include Bernard Hollar and Bill Morrison and Brooks Pitman.

Brooks Rose said approximately $100 worth of new equipment has been purchased for the squad.

Dairymen To Meet Here Friday Night

Working out further details for a dairy tour of the artificial breeding program in a four-county area is the purpose of a district dairy committee meeting here at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Nicholas county extension office.

Presently each of the four counties, Nicholas, Bourbon, Harrison and Robertson, is working out a distribution map, which coupled by the cow counts called for the program are located. The committee consists of two farmers from each of the counties involved in the program.

Harrison from each of the counties elected their representatives at a meeting held here August 2. Nicholas county producers elected Lovell Hollar and Dorsey Watkins as their representatives.

Temporary officers for the district are: Lovell Hollar, president; Clyde Wall, Bourbon county, secretary.

Nicholas Has Five-Couple Team Entered In Square Dance Contest

Nicholas county, which already has a five-couple square dance team, entered in the Central Kentucky Square Dance Contest at Joyland park's casino Sunday night, is hopeful that the number of contestants will be increased to at least six couples, Mrs. Ernestine Eads reports under way.

The contest, a part of the full day's "biggest party of the summer," will begin at 8 p. m. Kentucky Press Association will be the guest of the day's festival for its Crippled Children's Fund.

The Nicholas county team will be composed of Oliver Barton, Keith Bishop, Earl Hinton, Ira Kekenodefer, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Omer Lewis (Shorty) Burnell, Misses Ruth and Dorothy Cartmill, and Brenda Wilson. Barber Bromagen will be caller for the local team.

Leaf Tour Shows Way To Up Income

The recently held Nicholas county tobacco tour showed several methods of increasing the income from tobacco from this crop.

The first farm visit was to the farm of Mrs. Ann Hughes in the Bald Hill section of the county. Tobacco was a total failure on the field inspected three years ago because of black root-rot.

However, this year the tobacco is growing normally because the crop had been set in a root-rot resistant variety with the exception of two short rows which were planted to an old variety that is not root-rot resistant.

William T. Straw, county agent, pointed out that the short rows of tobacco remained small in contrast with the remainder of the field which was growing normally.

The tobacco tourists visited the farm of Shanklin Piper in the Parks community where a terraced field of tobacco was being produced. Although the rainfall has been light and did not use the full value of fertilizing, Piper said that he was well pleased with this practice and that tobacco could be grown on a terraced field with about the same effort as on a nonterraced field with the hope it would help to conserve water during a dry season.

S. R. Barlow's farm in the Parks community was the next stop. Here the group enjoyed a basket lunch under shady trees. Tobacco growers observed the effect of fertilizer as compared to where fertilizer was not used. Barlow also showed excellent results in the control of grasshoppers by the use of Chlordane.

Charles Bortner, Agronomist from the University of Kentucky, in a discussion of the use of fertilizers for tobacco, emphasized that the first basic principle in the use of fertilizers for tobacco is to be sure the soil contains enough phosphorus. If this element is lacking the yield will be small and of poor quality.

The other two important elements necessary for high yields, this Sunday will play host to the Lexington Red Sox at Jackson field.

William Bretz, who handled the mound chores for Carlisle, struck out six more batters and gave up eight hits. Gay, Little Rock pitcher, allowed the Indians 12 hits.

Cannery To Increase Charge On No. 3 Cans

Due to the increased cost of cans and other materials used in processing fruits and vegetables, it will be necessary for the Nicholas county cannery to increase its service charge for No. 3 cans from seven to eight cents a can effective Friday, John Adams, who is in charge of the cannery, has announced.

All other cans will remain at seven cents each.

The service charge includes the cost of the can and helps to meet the cost of the operation of the cannery by paying part of the bill for electricity, water, fuel and labor.

Some of the advantages of cannery listed by Adams follow:

Provides opportunity for less experienced persons to can under supervision; makes canning equipment available to those not able to own it; makes home food supplies; decreases losses due to spoilage; makes it possible to can products which would be difficult to can with home equipment; cuts out of living for farm families; saves time for people canning; causes people to take more interest in their school, community and production of more fruits and vegetables.

The Nicholas county cannery is open each Monday and Thursday from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. Persons planning to use the cannery are urged to have their products in the cannery by 2 p. m.
