THE MERCURY.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

G. B. KELLER, Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy, one year, in advance $1 00
One copy, six months, in advance 50
Single copies, five cents.

Subscriptions to responsible parties will be received for any length of time desired. Subscribers will please notify us promptly of any change in their address.

Address all communications to the MERCURY, and all business letters to G. B. KELLER, Carlisle, Ky.

Entered at the Carlisle Postoffice as mail matter of the second class.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are authorized to announce the name of Hon. Wm. Lindsay as a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce the name of Hon. Thomas Turner as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce the name of Hon. Wm. Lindsay as a candidate for the office of Circuit Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce the name of Hon. Thomas Turner as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 25, 1890.

Ex-Congressman W. L. Scott, the Pennsylvania Democratic leader, is dead. He was worth $10,000,000 and had multiple millionaire sons.

Hon. Winfield Bevins, of Mt. Sterling, is talked of as a candidate for Circuit Judge in the newly formed Judicial district.

Lieutenant-Governor M. C. Alford will shortly be married to Miss Emma Hassell, of Lexington, who is said to be one of the most beautiful women in the Bluegrass region.

Hon. J. E. Kendall, of Mayslick, Mason county, has been appointed Commissioner for Exchange of the House of Representatives and has decided not to resign his seat.

Hon. Hanson Kelley is home on his work attending to the Democratic campaign. He is engaged in making and organizing the clubs, and will have it ready for opening the latter part of the month or the first of next.

The Constitutional Convention proclaimed Friday that, except in politicians, all convicts should be pardoned. The prison walls will have to be torn down to make room for the new population in the former penitentiaries.

Ex-President Harrison, of Oxford, Ohio, commanded much notice when he was in Washington a few days ago. He was at gentlemen invited at every hotel he went to, and the people would crowd around him to get a look at him. He is more a member of the Country Club of Cincinnati.

Before the Interstate convention agreed to Kentucky will be on hand with a delegation of 1,000 men. Each delegate will pay $5 for admission, and should be all on his guard to make it appear that the Democratic party is dying.

Ex-Governor Fenry Marshall, of Bardstown, a member of the Old Guard, died in that city last Saturday. He was the last surviving member of the Old Guard of the United States Court, at Louisville, by the death of Judge Bullock. He was born in 1799 and was a member of the Kentucky Legislature from Nelson county in 1824.

Before the Democratic convention meets in Louisville it will be a big job for the committee on resolutions. They will have to frame a platform that will please the people, and at the same time not offend the politicians. Some of the latter class are hard to please.

Very Mighty Right

The Louisville Times says that "some of the counties in the State are not yet prepared to compete with the Ohio." Indeed, some counties are not prepared for anything, and the penitentiary could not be run to its full capacity if they were the only ones to furnish convicts. Between Hardin county and Kentucky River there is not a county that is prepared to do anything, and the only support of a railroad between those points is the fact that it passes through the territory of the other two or three counties that are prepared to do something.

The Louisville Commercial says: "It is not necessary to say that Kentucky has sufficiency with which to feed herself and her people, and that she has something to sell." That is true, but the other fact stated by the Commercial should not be overlooked, because it is equally important to be kept in mind. Kentucky has a surplus of many things, but she has a deficiency of others.

The Commercial should not forget that Kentucky is also in need of many other forms of labor.

Opinion Free.

Tom Ware, of Bullitt county, a member of the Democratic committee of that district, is out in a letter to the Louisville Commercial, in which he says: "At times in war, very severe, we have had to shoot a few men to keep the army in line, and I have no doubt that a good many of the Democrats of Bullitt would be glad to see a few men shot in the front of public speeches who have been in the habit of making them." Old Ed. Bullitt handed the same sentiment out to the boys in gray.

For Clerk of the Court House.

We are authorized to announce the name of Hon. E. H. Hollar, as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Court House, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Hon. E. H. Hollar's child is better. Mrs. Wm. Dotson is some better. John P. and Robert Hopper are on the sick list of favor.

Mr. Jerry Quinn and family of Kansas, are visiting relatives in this county.

The protracted meeting began Saturday night at Mt. Olivet, conducted by Rev. J. C. Wells, of Fleming County.

John Kennedy and Anne Shumpert, of Mason, Mole are attending the meeting.

W. T. Herndon, of Carlisle, and Jas. Kelly, of J. W. Herndon's visit Sunday.

Miss Mary Lee Hall, of Ky., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Hall.

Mrs. Dotson is some better.

The contract to build the school house has been given to Hoss & Hendrickson.

Misses Jane and Hattie Hall, of Ky., are the guests of Miss Mary Hall.

Hendon Saturday and Sunday.

Ant.

BRAMBLETT.

Our farmers are beginning to cry for rain.

Allen Rouse shipped a car load of fat cattle to Cincinnati last week.

Mrs. Ed Flop, with a gold headed cane, while the attention of the busy people was turned with a smile for a moment, Mr. Clay had a magnificent dinner party and a good time was had by all.

Last week we published the proposed amendment to the new Constitution in regard to the sale of intoxicants. The amendment did not get through as we expected, but the following section was adopted, and will be the law on the subject:

The General Assembly shall, as speedily as practicable, provide a law whereby the sale of intoxicating liquors may, in any county, town or precinct, be prohibited, or may not, in whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold; instituted or issued therein, or the sale thereof prohibited, and may provide by law for the submission of the question of license or no license to the voters of any county, town or precinct, at any election to be held therein, and may provide by law for punishing persons who shall sell such liquors within such county, town or precinct after the same shall have been prohibited.

Marcella's Fast Gun.

For some weeks past our Mayorette made frequent visits to Lexington, and excited over the nonexistence of a certain Chicago millionaire, was married Saturday to Julius C. Dando, Esq. Mr. Potter was charged with having sent a newsboy to the penitentiary to hook off his sheepskin attachment for the hog, and our Mayorette has been engaged to Mr. Potter married Mr. Dando, and when asked if she would not be a bride, replied: "Second from Mr. Dando and Saturday consorted Dando. Miss Potter seems to be a fast girl."

Marvelous Wine.

We desire to call your attention, that for years we have been selling Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and have always found it to give entire satisfaction, and that will as well, or that have given universal satisfaction. We have also handled Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and we sound ready to refund the purchase price in every case where it failed to relieve. Several from Mr. Bull and Saturday consorted Dando. Miss Potter seems to be a fast girl."

Mardi