Report Shows 112 Burials In 1947

A total of 112 burials were made in the Carlisle cemetery during the year ending December 31, 1947, the largest number of burials in one year that has ever been recorded in the history of the company, Miss Jimmie Henry, secretary-treasurer of the Carlisle Cemetery company has announced.

The highest previous total was in 1939 when 106 burials were recorded.

In 1946 the burials totaled 88 of which 16 were infants and 72 were adults. Two removals were made.

The largest number of deaths occurred in the age range from 70 to 80, with this age group accounting for a total of 23 burials. The other totals follow:

Age 80 and over, four; 60 to 70, 20; 60 to 70, 19; 50 to 60, 15; 40 to 50, 10; under 12, 13.

Cerebral hemorrhage was the leading cause of death with 24 persons claimed. Heart ailments accounted for 19 deaths to place second and cancer was third with 12. The other causes were:

Pneumonia, seven; tuberculosis, six; accidents, five; Myocarditis, four; Arteriosclerosis, three; stillborn, three; unknown, three; Coronary occlusion, two; malnutrition, two; Coronary thrombosis, two; Pulmonary Edema, one; ulcer stomach, one; killed in action, one; paralysis, two; struck by lightning, one; Tuberculosis, one; Eurcmia, two; enlarged thymus gland, one; burns, one; Hepatitis, one; suicide, one; Pancreatitis, one; Influenza, one; diabetes, one; Paresis, one; Arthritis, one; Septicemia, one; premature birth, one.

Of the total number of burials 99 were adults and the remaining 13 were infants, three of which were stillborn. One removal was reported.

Court Awards Bond Contract

The Nicholas county fiscal court Wednesday entered into a contract with Stein Brothers and Boyce, Louisville bonding house, which provides that the Louisville firm sell the hospital bonds.

The contract provided that the sale of the bonds shall not exceed an interest rate of three percent.

The bonds, each of $1,000 denomination, are numbered from one to 150 inclusive and are to mature serially in numerical order with 1965 being the last maturity date.

All proceedings must be approved by the State Local Finance Office and the bonds, both principal and interest, are to be paid at the Carlisle Deposit Bank.

It was required that a certification of all indebtedness of Nicholas county and a total assessment of all property in the county be in the hands of the state local equalization be furnished by County Clerk John F. Sugg.

The records show that the total outstanding bonds against Nicholas county at this time is $75,000 in funding bonds issued October 1, 1936 and payable at $1,000 a year until all bonds are paid. The total assessment at that time was found to be $9,078,893.

Representatives of Otis and Grimes, hospital architects, were here Monday and the proposed site of the Nicholas County hospital, located east of Carlisle on the land of County Judge Walter Shepherd, was staked off and preliminary sketches made.

Fiscal court, in addition to entering the contract with the bonding firm allowed the usual claims and directed the county clerk to issue a voucher of $300 to Johnson Memorial Hospital from the Mathers Fund.

The county treasurer's annual report showed a total of $1,246 to June 30, 1947 was ordered published in the Carlisle Mercury and the county clerk was directed to deliver the vouchers for this period to the newspaper for tabulation.

In a glove-making project in Jefferson county, homemakers have turned out more than 100 pairs of handmade leather gloves.

Increasing Burley Income Is Topic Of Meet Fri.

A discussion of practices that will increase Nicholas county's farm income in tobacco production will be given by Russell Hunt, tobacco field agent of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, at a county tobacco meeting beginning at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the courthouse, William T. Straus, county agent has announced.

Every tobacco grower in the county is urged by Straus to attend this meeting and take part in the discussion of fertilizer, varieties, plant bed disease control and other practices affecting the quality of Burley.

The county-wide meeting was planned through the cooperation of a county tobacco committee which is sponsoring activities and advocating practices that will improve the quality of Burley and the income from this crop.

Members of this committee who will hold a meeting prior to the county meeting, are:

Frank Bullard, J. A. Standiford, Jack Linville, Howard Sidle, Kenneth Stephenson, C. T. Whaley, S. R. Barlow, James Stamper, Leonard Alexander, Edgar Darrell, Robert Jennings, Joe Holland, Luther Clay, Frank Guthrie, Ezra Anderson, H. L. Herndon, Kash Hostetler, H. B. Hillock, Veach Delaney, E. G. Stephenson, Thomas Gaunce and Charles Irvin.

Tobacco production in Nicholas county has been influenced by many changes in the past three years, Straus said. Eighty to 90 percent of the crop is now produced from root-rot resistant varieties of tobacco while two years ago only about 10 percent of the county's crop was produced from root-rot resistant tobacco. Straus credited this important change to the work of the county tobacco committee in cooperation with the Kentucky College of Agriculture and the Nicholas County Farm Bureau.

It is estimated that this change has increased tobacco income in the county during the past year alone by at least $200,000 and perhaps more. Another practice being used by the farmers more extensively now than in past years is use of more fertilizer. It is now a common practice for growers to apply 1,000 pounds of fertilizer to the acre and in some cases more.

Bluestone lime is being used on plant beds to control wildfire and formate to control blue mold. A general use of vetch as a green manure crop has been responsible for much improvement in yield and quality. There are other factors that are being used more effectively including more thorough ripening of Burley in the fields before housing.

Hunt, in commenting on progress of the county's tobacco growers, said that Nicholas county ranks at the top with the current progress being made in increasing yield, quality and income from tobacco.

FIRST HONORARY PAGE

BAPTISTS PLAN STATE EVANGELISTIC MEETING

A State-wide Evangelistic Conference January 13-14 at Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, was announced today by the Baptist State Board of Missions, W. C. Boone, General Secretary. A number of pastors and laymen from this county are expected to attend.

The Rev. Ira McMillen of Carlisle is Chairman of a special Evangelistic Committee for the Union Association. This committee is helping a number of churches in the union association plan a revival meeting this year.

Former Resident On U. K. Staff

James W. Archdeacon, a native of Carlisle, is a member of the University of Kentucky staff. He is associate professor in the Department of Anatomy and Physiology.

Joining the University staff in September, 1939, as a graduate assistant in the Department of Anatomy and Physiology, he continued to serve in this capacity until early last year when he was appointed assistant professor. Early this year he received his present appointment.

The Carlisle native served as an aviation physiologist in the U. S. Army from 1944-46. He holds an A. B. Degree from the University of Kentucky, and M. S. Degree also from U. K., and a Ph. D. Degree from the University of Rochester. He is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Sciences and the New York Academy of Sciences.

Woman's Club To Present Bridal Pageant At Church January 22

A Bridal Pageant presenting the Wedding and In-Pair dresses worn in Nicholas county during the past 100 years will be given at 8 p. m. Thursday, January 22, at the Carlisle Christian church under the sponsorship of the Carlisle Woman's Club.

These dresses will modeled by the young women of Carlisle and Nicholas county.

Although several dresses already have been procured for the forthcoming pageant the committee in charge of the program feels that many other dresses are available which would be suitable for the occasion.

Any person who has in their possession such a garment is requested to contact any member of the pageant committee as it is their desire to have as many Nicholas county families as possible represented in the portrayal.

The activities committee of the Woman's Club in charge of the program is composed of the following:

Mrs. Sageser Kash, chairman; Mrs. S. R. Barlow, Mrs. Ralph Shearer, Mrs. Raymond Wesley and Mrs. W. B. Buntin, Jr.

Citizens Ticket Dominated Council Takes Over Local Government

Pirtle Resigns As NCHS Principal; Wall Named For Remainder of Term

John P. Pirtle, principal of Nicholas County High school at Headquarters, has resigned his position effective immediately, Raymond Wesley, secretary of the Nicholas County Board of Education, announced today.

Charles E. Wall, who has been athletic director at Nicholas County High since the beginning of the 1947-48 term, was named acting principal by the board and will serve in this capacity for the remainder of the school year.

Pirtle submitted his resignation Saturday. In addition to his duties as principal, he also served as an agricultural instructor. Wesley said that an acting agricultural teacher to fill the present vacancy will be appointed within a few days.

Although Pirtle has made no comment concerning his resignation it was said that his reasons were "personal" and in no way connected with affairs of the school.

Coming to Nicholas county in 1938 from Elizabethtown, Pirtle served as principal of Headquarters Consolidated School, later renamed Nicholas County High School. Following the death of W. B. Dampier, former county school superintendent, he served as county superintendent until the acceptance of this position by Wesley.

In commenting upon his resignation, persons closely associated with the county school board said that the school (NCHS) had made much progress since his coming and under his influence. The agricultural department, it was said, has become one of the most outstanding within the state.

During his administration a farm shop has been added to the school with a complete set of machine woodworking tools, lathe mechanics tools, welding (both acetylene and electrical) equipment plumbing and all kinds of carpenter and farm shop hand tools being a part of the inventory.

The cannery was secured through his efforts and during World War II and after the cannery has been used to full capacity for preservation of homegrown fruits, vegetables and meat.

Due largely to his influence a home economics department was added as a part of the school's curriculum.

Pirtle was among the first to inaugurate the veterans training program in Kentucky and was responsible for its introduction in Nicholas county. Records in the office of the county board secretary show that the veterans training benefits of the veterans training program in Nicholas county were greater than the combined cost of operating the veterans program and the county's schools.

Wesley in commenting upon Pirtle's resignation said he "sure that the county was losing a good man."

A Citizens Ticket dominated advocating a complete change in the affairs of Carlisle's government such taking the ancient oath of the Commonwealth that he has never fought a duel either in or out of the state.

Five of the six men elected to council were endorsed on the Citizens Ticket and the sixth was the only successful candidate making the race on the Progressive Ticket. Four of the six were incumbents.

All officers who had been elected by the "old" council also were elected by the "new" council.

The councilmen, sworn in by Mayor W. C. Talbert, are:

Joe Scott, William Harper, W. B. Buntin, A. B. Fisher, George Gaffin and Tommy Johnson. Gaffin and Johnson succeed Councilmen Van Bever and James Patton, who were not candidates for reelection.

Officers elected by the council and their salaries follow:

Attorney—Ashby Mullikin, clerk and treasurer, $80 a month plus fees on license collections; Charles M. Cox, city attorney, $30 a month; L. B. Barton, chief of police, $160 a month; Orville Coulter, assistant chief of police, $125 a month; Joe Ely, superintendent of water works and streets, $42 a week, and W. T. Roberts, night watchman, $15 a week.

Councilmen were named to the following committees by Mayor Talbert:

Finance — Fisher, chairman; Buntin and Gaffin.

Supplies — Buntin, chairman; Fisher and Scott.

Streets—Scott, chairman; Harper and Johnson.

Lights and Buildings—Johnson, chairman; Gaffin and Buntin.

Police—Gaffin, chairman; Buntin and Harper.

Water—Harper, chairman; Johnson and Fisher.

Lew Tyner, acting as spokesman of the business establishments of the city in which either pin ball machines or "juke boxes" are located, urged that council repeal its ordinance increasing the license fee upon such equipment from $10 to $50. Tyner's request was referred to the finance committee by Mayor Talbert, who promised a report would be made at the February meeting.

The report of Police Judge Ashby Mullikin to the council showed a total of $112 collected in fines during the month of December.

Musketers To Face Bulldogs Friday And Nicholas County High Tuesday

BASKETBALL DOPE

Results Tuesday
NCHS 38, Oddville 37
Versailles 50, Cynthia 46

Game Friday
Cynthiana at Carlisle

Game Tuesday
NCHS at Carlisle

The Carlisle Musketeers, who bowed before the attack of the powerful Yellow Jackets 50-46 in a game played Tuesday night at the Woodford county seat, have two tough assignments coming up this week.

The Green and White quintet will entertain the Bulldogs of Cynthiana here Friday night and next Tuesday will play host to the Nicholas County High five which is riding the crest of the wave after stopping the highly-rated Oddville quintet 38-37 Tuesday night.

The NCHS five failed to find the Linkenbaugh rating, which ranked the Oddville team 25th in the state, impressive and successfully repulsed the bid of the host team. Although Oddville racked up six points in the early minutes of the game, the Nicholas basketeers held a single-point margin, 8-7 lead at the end of the first period.

Tied 16-16 at halftime, the NCHS five held a 27-23 advantage at the end of the third period. The home boys had an 11 point lead with only three minutes of the game left. However, one of the three the game on fouls and Oddville rallied in the waning minutes. NCHS players was withdrawn after stopping the highly-rated Oddville quintet 38-37 Tuesday night.

The Versailles Yellow Jackets led 13-12 at the quarter and 23-22 at intermission but Carlisle held a 36-35 advantage at the end of the third
