EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 4th 1892.

Dear Mercury:

The General Assembly of Kentucky will be fully organized for business today when Mr. Speaker Moore announces his committees, and as soon as the Commissioners appointed to revise the Statutes meet in a portion of their report due within a few days, and then proceed further on into the portion of the Statutes assigned to the Commissioners may be of interest to those who have not read the daily papers. After the hardest fight probably witnessed in this city I closed on the election of Col. W. M. Moore, of Harrison, to the Speakership, and the defeat of Harvey Myers of Covington. While the former was elected and lost, not a word about the Capital seemed to be in a bad humor, and when the election of Mr. Myers went down in defeat he came up smiling, and moved to make the nomination of Col. Moore unanimous.

The Nicholas County Candidate for Clerk of the Southern Court—Owen and Keller—were nominated and elected by unanimous vote, and it is scarcely necessary to say we appreciate.

Hon. E. Kenney, in the house of representing a district that furnishes the Speaker of the House and the Chief Clerks of the Senate and House. And while upon this subject I desire to publicly thank Mr. Kenney for his loyalty to his friends and the party, and I predict in the particular race mentioned he will be found in the front rank expressing regards. Mr. Kenney, has been honored bountifully in the assignment of Committees in the Senate, having been made Chairman of the Committee on Library and Public Buildings, which will have charge of the bill that will provide for a new State House, and also assigned to positions on the Committee on Corporations (one of the most important) on Retrenchment and Reform, and on Religion and Morals. The two last named are not much sought after, but none are more important, and the last named is never well worked.

Every one recognizes that this will be the most important session of the Legislature that will be held for many years, and it is to be hoped that the body will get started right. If the Speaker makes several Committees that are needed and will be reached, and Mr. Myers will lend his efforts to see that will go a long way towards making the session a success. I am glad with Mr. Myers to day after his defeat, and he seemed as he would do his full duty in all things, and it matters not where the Speaker placed him on the Committees, he would accept them. Mr. Myers' defeat he is sure to be a leader in the House. He is one of old Kentucky's ablest legislators I ever knew, and as a parliamentarian he has few superiors. He can make more reputation upon the floor of the House than he could have made in the chair, and I will be sadly disappointed if he does not get valuable aid to the State this session.

Governor Brown's first Message was well received, and was considered a well timed document. It can be found on the 1st page of to day's MERCURY, and I would advise all to read it.

Major T. J. Gleaves, Mayo Hampton, Hon. Hanson Kennedy, Chas. W. Wood, were down from Nicholas last week and enjoyed the session.

One of the main features of the caucus that I come near forgetting was the electioning of the People's Party Messenger and Doorkeeper, and the election was a unanimous one. While many of the gentlemen all were present and each rose to take part, but choice ended any objection to their exclusion, and their rejection of any and their votes for the folks gotten to think great harm will come to the Democratic party over this action, but I look for the contrary. The Democratic party is too strong and too big to be afraid of a few letters, and her determination to manage her own affairs without the aid of those who kick out of the traces, and that is what some friends think it will have but, I have not the least doubt of her ability to do it. The People's party and Independent Democrats ought to have elected their opponents, but I have known where just such things were needed in our own County, but I do not think each Independent will ever have been admitted to a Democratic Caucus. I regard party organization one thing, and a recognition of the justice of that organization another thing, and I am for Democratic nominees first, last and near color that makes me a party slave, and when I get out of the party to re-enter it will I shall not seek to run that party until I get full control of the same and come back to the organization. And I do not think others should do so.

THE Governor's message drips a boom shell into the railroad camps.

The reduction of the wages of the workmen employed by Carnegie, Phipps & Co., in their steel works near Pittsburg, adds another evidence of how the McKinley bill keeps up wages. Mr. Carnegie is quoted as saying that to give the workmen more than the steel sells for in the market, but it is not probable that he made any such claim. At all events, the steel men of Pittsburg had their representative, Mr. Oliver, at Washington during the framing of the new tariff bill, and when he went home he reported that the rates were those suggested by the manufacturers. If high tariffs mean high wages, and the only object of them is to foster the law with the view of increasing wages, because they had always declared such to be their object it is certainly to be hoped that the reduction may not extend to reductions. If wages have been general ever since the McKinley bill became a law.—[Courier-Journal.

THE Commercial Club, of Louisville, has issued a call for a State convention to be held at Louisville January 20 and 21, to take steps to secure an adequate representation of Kentucky at the World's Fair. The club urges that delegates be named by the County Judge of every County not less than four or more than six from each county being the number suggested. It is noticed that there is no time to be lost, and it is certainly to be hoped that the convention may succeed in securing a proper appropriation from the Legislature to make an exhibit of the products and men of the State.

AUGUSTUS NORMAN'S bicentral report to the Legislature, which has just been completed, estimates that under the present revenue system and past expenditures there will be a deficit of $872,753.75, June 30th, 1892, and following the same lasts of colors there will be a deficit June 30th, 1893, will be $481,430.71, an increase in the deficit of $127,966 over that of 1891.

ATTESTED POPULARITY.—One of the most honorably attested popularity and reliable remedies we have ever dealt with is the well-known Specific Company, of Atlanta, Ga., the well-known bonders and manufacturers of the very popular blood remedy, S. S. S., which to our personal knowledge has cured many people throughout this section of terrible blood diseases. Our druggists inform us that in the past six months they have sold more of S. S. S. than any other proprietation for the blood on their shelves. This is unsolicited by us and is due entirely due to their exhaustive advertising and to the purity of their medicine, which does everything claimed for it. We have yet to hear of a single instance where a purchaser has not been deceived or disappointed. A treatise on Blood and Skin diseases will be mailed free to all who address SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.
