EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 23rd, 1892.

Editor Mercury:

The Democratic State Convention that duly put pass final sentence upon work he wrote in 1891 by pronouncing it a good thing, and a half million of good infinite terms in write such a work. Frankfort, I found is a little dull and not a good judge of real news. I can say, however, that the reports I took fell to be here gained by both Hickman and myself were the topics of the Governor to make it a boy. The Governor will not get a nomination two days after the final adjournment of this convention. Governor Buckner is a fine fellow however in private life, but many think there are in a pimpleton, or how many times there are in a pit, or how much he is a hotel of which, might answer themselves if they would take the time to be. It will certainly be out of labor the first of April 1893.

The Revenue Bill has been gone over in the House two days now, and is now in the hands of the Committee on Revenue and Taxation. The bill will be reported to the House within the next week, and will be taken up as soon as it is reported. It was in the Committee of the Whole, but will not be reported to the House. The bill will be reported in a new Judicial District bill which makes one district of Hickman, Carlisle, Hickman, Nelson and Robertson, and a district of Fulton, Ballard and Graves. This district is entirely. To locate were in the map still, but we have grouped still I have voted, and I am prepared until Tuesday, the 31st inst., to vote for the bill as it now stands. I hold that to be the duty of every member who has been elected. If several members should hold out, the Legislature will be off for Louisville. Should the State Democratic Convention, which I there will probably be a call for a special session. I predict a Cleveland delegation will be off for Louisville. Governor Buckner will be for Governor Hill. It looks to me like Hill. I would like to see Hill nominated for President, and it is so I hope to see him elected. I am for Hill first, and no large for me will first. Governor Hill for President in 1892. G. B. K.
