Doubling Up Crops Increases Harvest

E. W. Yates of Fulton county harvests annually more than 300 acres of crops from 200 acres of land, reports Farm Agent John B. Watts. In the spring, Yates grows tomato plants and spinach, then later on grows lima beans and soybeans on the same land. He also produces 100 acres of cotton and about 20 acres of corn. His income is considerably increased by this double crop system.

Studies of animals show that the more intelligent they are, the more sleep they require.

Sunnyside Homemakers

Fourteen members, six visiting women and seven children enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Raymond Hall, our hostess, on Thursday at our last homemakers meeting of the year. The visitors were her mother, Mrs. Tom Dumpert and sister, Mrs. Bowles, Mrs. B. T. Conway, and Mrs. Earl Ishmael, who will become our new member in September, and also two Youth Homemakers, Miss Thelma George and Miss Betty Gene Tincher.

Mrs. David Booth gave such an inspirational devotion on the "Order of the Home", reading Prov. 31:27, also the story of Mary and Martha where Jesus told Martha she was vexed and troubled about many things but Mary had chosen the better part. She made a basic lesson of it, which we trust homemakers would do well to learn from one long experienced in the art. The Lord's Prayer followed.

Mrs. Nolie Gologie, vice president, called the women to order and had charge of the business which proved to be very heavy. Two books were added to the Library. An offering was taken for the Carlisle playground, also for sending a 4-H boy or girl to camp, which was equal in amount. The program calendar was read for the new year, plans were talked pertaining to a picnic, tour to "My Old Kentucky Home", and to modernize kitchens July 8th, also our annual meeting in September at the Christian church.

Mrs. Simons and Mrs. Hardin gave our plant and lawn lesson, which is always instructive. Kill mound ants in the lawn by using carbon bisulfide. Then we "sang grace" with each woman bled to the lovely dining room and helped herself. After dinner the lesson on "table setting" was given by Mrs. Myrtle Hardin and Mrs. Myrtle Hollar. The visitors women acted out table manners, which proved we still have much to observe and learn.

The reports of the year's work were given by the various committees and each woman felt as if it had been a profitable and enjoyable year. The nominating committee gave their report on the election of officers for the ensuing year and the following unanimously elected:

Mrs. Nolie Gologie, president; Mrs. Jack Alexander, vice president, and Mrs. Raymond Hall, working so efficiently last year, is elected secretary and treasurer. The working committees will be appointed and announced later.

Mrs. Sam George invited the Club to meet with her in the month of September, it being the first of the Club year. The names chosen for the farms in the Sunnyside area are as follows:

Mrs. David Booth, Green Hill Farm; Mrs. James Simons, Walnut Hill Farm; Mrs. Christine Sosin, Brown Hill Farm; Mrs. Sam Hall, Pleasant View Farm; Mrs. Harvey Hardwick, Broad View Farm; Mrs. Sam George, Sunnyside Farm; Mrs. Nolie Gologie, Rolling Acres Farm; Mrs. Walker Hollar, South Bend Farm; Mrs. Roy Hardin, Hilltop Farm; Mrs. Carl Ishmael, Valley View Farm, and Mrs. Elbridge Miller, Hi Vue Farm.

Several of the ladies have not named their names as yet—Mrs. Elbridge Miller, Publicity Chairman.

"EVER A VIRGIN? WHAT SAY THE GOSPELS?

Mary, the Mother of Jesus Christ, was a virgin throughout all his life.

This is an article of faith which every Catholic must believe because it is one of God's truths revealed through the Scriptures and through tradition. Now Tradition comes to us by word of mouth and by written word, that is, the writings of the early Fathers. As both are the revelation of God, they cannot conflict.

But aren't there conflicts? For instance was Mary always a virgin? "Yes", says tradition. But don't both Matthew and Mark contradict this when they tell us of the "brethren of the Lord"?

"Brethren of the Lord", surely, but if this means blood-brothers then how about other texts? For instance, the Scriptures plainly imply that these brethren were older than Jesus. If blood brothers they Mary must have had children before Christ was born. Then Jesus Christ was not born of a virgin. Then St. Luke's famous first chapter is entirely askew.

Again, if Jesus had blood brothers, why is He so frequently called the "son of Mary"—only He? If He had blood brothers why did he not, when dying on the Cross, confide His Blessed Mother to one of them rather than to St. John, who was the son of Zebedee and Salome?

And so we become entirely confused, until the scholars tell us that the Hebrew word for "brethren" did not necessarily mean blood brothers. Here in brief is their explanation.

In the Hebrew and Aramaic (in which our Lord spoke) there was no exclusive word for "cousin". The word "AH" could and often did, mean brother, cousin, uncle, nephew, or even mean in a literal sense the same tribe, as so often used in the Old Testament. It is translating the word "AH" as "Brethren" and understanding it to mean blood brothers, that causes the seeming conflict. Take it to mean "Cousins" or merely "relatives" and the Catholic dogma of the perpetual virginity of the Blessed Mother, remains unscathed.

Remember that the Apostles preached and taught by word of mouth for at least six years before St. Matthew started to write the first Gospel. Remember, that the civilized world of the day was converted to Christianity before the Church had gathered together and declared inspired these writings, now known as the New Testament. Remember that it was the great St. Augustine of Hippo who wrote in the fifth century "For myself I would not believe the Gospel unless the authority of the Catholic Church moved me thereto."

If it's anything Catholic, ask a Catholic.

NEWS OF THE WORLD OF RELIGION By W. W. REID

"Peace Is Possible" is the theme selected by the United Council of Church Women for its sixth annual observance of World Community Day, to be observed on Friday, November 4, with services in several hundred communities across the United States. Most of these will be interdenominational gatherings in central auditoriums, since the Council represents some 10,000,000 Protestant church women of 83 denominations. As a feature of the observance the women are planning at each church center to collect materials which will be sent overseas, principally to Europe, for the making of dresses and other items of clothing. The project is known as "Pieces for Peace". Especially desired are yarns, floss, crochet cotton, trimmings and certain materials. These will be bundled and shipped overseas through Church World Service, and will be given to needy families in several countries for the making of clothing. Miss Mae Head, the Council's official observer at the United Nations, is in charge.

The Church of the Dormition of Mary, situated on Mount Zion, Jerusalem, the historic scene of the death of the Virgin Mary, has been in Arab or Israeli military hands since the early months of the recent Palestine war. Now the Israeli government has ordered the return of the church and its grounds to the Franciscans of the Roman Catholic Church, in whose care it has been for several centuries. The edifice was damaged by the battling between Jews and Arabs, but it is believed it can be restored.

Pope Pius has proclaimed the year 1950 a "holy year" to "recall all Christians not only to the plenitude of their faults and the spending of their lives, but also to press toward virtue and toward holiness." He urges all who can to make the journey to Rome during the year; and all bishops and priests to lead their flocks, staying at home, to exhort them to be faithful, to raise prayers to God, "to multiply works of penance and of charity", and to put into practice the tenets of the Christian faith.

The Methodist Church of Germany, under the leadership of Bishop J. W. Ernst Sommer, of Frankfort, has launched a program of social welfare under the title of "Brother Penny"; that is, each German Methodist gives at least one penny per day for the needs of their brethren. Under this program they have already begun to build a village for some 83 Methodist refugee families from the neighborhood of Luebeck, and for which the government has donated the land; and they are planning to build a sanitorium for tubercular children in Bergzabern, Southwest Germany.

Dr. Sherwood Hall, head of the Union Mission Tuberculosis Sanatorium, in Madar, North India, has received the coveted distinction of election by the Board of Regents as a Fellow of the American College of Chest Physicians, and the award of the Fellowship Key for distinguished service in the field of tuberculosis prevention. Dr. Hall is a Methodist missionary physician, born in Korea of missionary parents, and was the founder of the first tuberculosis sanitorium (at Haijui) in Korea before his transfer to a similar post in India. The award is made for his service to both nations. At Madar, Dr. Hall is now completing the erection of a new ward for tubercular patients and a Sanitorium Chapel, the gifts of American friends.

If a comprehensive approach is to be made to overcoming juvenile delinquency in a large city, there must be cooperation and understanding by various governmental and private agencies interested in the problem—including the home, the church, the school, housing authorities, recreational agencies, the police, the courts, and the mental and health centers and officers—a semi-official body of New York City citizens recently reported to Mayor William F. O'Dwyer. The committee had based its report on a detailed study in conditions in a congested area of the Bronx from which came 13% of the county's delinquents. The remedial plans of the committee would cost about $500,000 a year, it was thought. They include smaller classes in the school, more audio-visual education, playgrounds, counselling and health facilities, special provision for handicapped or "problem" children. A long-range objective would be better housing for the area, premarital counselling, and increased case-work social service. Churches, the committee said, have a basic contribution to make to the strength and harmony of family life, and there should be a "two-way system of referral between churches and social agencies." They added: "Courses for parents on sex education of children, as well as marriage counselling for youth and courses on family living, should be offered by the various churches to their members. Clergymen within the area should participate in training courses in counselling techniques."

Just how high is "HIGH COMPRESSION"?
BUICK FIREBALL
Your key to Greater Value
WHEN the talk turns to cars and car engines these days, that's a topic you hear much about.
So it's fairly interesting to note that, even back before the war, Buick engines like this one were touring the testing grounds with compressions as high as 10 to 1.
Even later than that this same big Buick power plant has been filling our engineer's notebooks with data on 8 to 1 compression ratios.
What has come out of this? Two or three interesting points.
First of all, that this big Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight already has a compression ratio that gets as much out of present fuels as any engine on the market.
Next, that these ratios can readily be stepped up to fit higher octane gasolines as they become available.
And probably most important of all, that high compression is only one measurement of a good engine.
There's the fundamental matter of engine efficiency—power output per cubic inch of displacement, engineers call it. On that score, Buick stands where it always has—just about top in its field!
Which means, in very simple words—better go see for yourself.
The fun you get from your car—the pleasure and satisfaction it gives you—are best measured in just one place—behind the wheel.
So we invite you to see your Buick dealer for a firsthand test of Buick. Take it in your own two hands and find out how good it feels, how full of get-up-and-go.
It won't take long to make it pretty clear that the place to get your order in is the place where you get Buick power.
