Concrete Block Barn For Hereford Cattle

A 75,000 barn of concrete blocks is being built by Frank Barsham of Harlan county to house his herd of 60 Hereford. Plans for the barn, as well as for feeders, hay racks and other time and labor saving devices were furnished him by County Agent Allan F. Davis. A loft over the entire barn will hold about 80 tons of loose hay. Mr. Barsham's herd is headed by one of Kentucky's finest bred bulls, Larry Domino 120, said the farm agent.

Grasses Can Be Sowed In Spring

While fall seeding of grasses is preferred, good stands are usually obtained from late winter or early spring sowing, according to the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station.

Good stands of all grasses except Bluegrass may often be had by sowing in oats, provided the oats are sown in late March or early April and not seeded too heavily.

Some legumes and grasses should not be sown until danger of heavy frost is past. Alfalfa is one of these crops.

Women Make Over Hats For Spring

Homemakers in Hart county believe in being ready for spring when it makes its first appearance. Consequently they have been reconditioning and trimming last year's hats under the guidance of Miss Dorothy Brefeldt, specialist in clothing at the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky.

Mrs. J. W. Murray estimates that she saved $12 by purchased and refinishing a navy straw hat, then trimming it with crisp, taffeta ribbon. Mrs. James Kabler, 18 tinted flowers and leaves with tulle petals, then shelfaced them, thus saving the price of new trimming on the hat she cleaned. Other thrifty ideas learned by the homemakers included the cleaning of straw hats, fredericke silk, reining straw and shellacing it to restore the finish.

Tests Sponsored By PTA Indicate 18 Pupils Have Defective Hearing

At least 18 out of 130 pupils tested showed definite hearing loss, results compiled from hearing tests completed last week in the Carlisle City and Nicholas County school systems showed.

The parents of these pupils will be consulted case histories drawn up. Medical examinations must be made to determine the cause of hearing deficiency. Most of these examinations, it was said, will probably disclose a temporary ear infection or obstruction resulting from enlarged tonsils or adenoids. However, a few will require the attention of a specialist and financial assistance may be needed in a few cases.

These hearing tests only recently completed, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association were conducted through the facilities of the State and Nicholas County Health department.

Preliminary tests were given 350 pupils using a group audiometer. This same instrument was used to retest 107 pupils failing the first test. Failures in this instance, regardless of the sponsoring organization said, could be attributed to lack of understanding of the test, head colds or hearing loss.

Individual tests, using a pure tone audiometer were given to 45 pupils screened from the re-test. To this group were added 85 selected pupils from the first, second and third grades to make up the prescribed number of pupils of 130.

The pure-tone audiometer detects the degree of hearing through control of pitch and volume of tone.

Case histories prepared upon three of the pupils tested follow. Mary A. A teen-age student has normal hearing in the left ear but a pronounced loss of hearing in the right except in one pitch. A sound in that pitch alone could be heard but since speech is spoken in only one pitch this student is deprived of hearing through the right ear.

Jim B. A child, also has normal hearing in one ear but a definite loss of hearing in the other. Jim is a boy who, if hearing aids were used could be transmitted through the good ear.

Most drastic finding is that of Bob. This teen-age pupil has a definite loss of hearing in both ears. He lacking of a clock, general noises in the classroom, classroom discussion never reaches his ears. Unnecessarily he speaks in a great extent has supplemented sugar sounds to enable this boy to hear. Obviously Bob's case will need a specialist's attention and possibly medical assistance for mechanical aids.

The co-operation of the parent and general public is essential for these boys and girls to have the right to hear and learn on a basis equal to that enjoyed by their fellow students, members of the PTA said.

HOSPITAL PLANS COMPLETE

Plans and specifications for Nicholas county's new hospital are expected to arrive this week and bids upon the building will be advertised for about ten days, County Judge Walter Shepherd reported.

The plans and specifications have been completed, this judge, hospital architects, Louisville have advised Judge Shepherd and the work of placing cement for bids soon would be forthcoming.
